THE ELUSIVE DOLLAR,

The artist punctuates a common experience in his cartoon in to-day's Whig. He pictures the chase of some men, representing various walks of life, after the dollar that is trying to escape them. Some men become quite irritable when told that they are to blame for the loss of the thousands of dollars that are being mailed out of the city and district monthly for the goods they could buy at home.

The Patriotic League brought Dr. Abbott from Toronto to Kingston on Friday, and in the evening he addressed the Eastern Ontario Speakers' League. Dr. Abbott represents the Red Cross Society primarily, and in telling about his work incidentally described how it merged into the work of the Patriotic Fund and the Speakers' League. From the Central Organization in Toronto men have been sent out with a training that qualified them to lure the money from the people. These men have not been orators, or poets, or prize prose reciters. They are young men, who, primed at headquarters with information about a place or a community, operate with all the skill imaginable.

It is coming to pass that such men represent a new profession, and pine and play in the yard if she would not . Rippling Rhymes

A LITTLE TRAGEDY

I jaunted in my motor car, and ran o'er Jimpson's shote, and from that creature knocked the :ar; I surely got its goat. I offered payment for the pig-'twas neither large nor fat-but Jimpson made the price too big; I wouldn't stand for that. "The rankest graft I ever saw," I cried with rising ire; "before I'll pay I'll go to law-a lawyer I shall hire." We went to law; the case was tried by judges near and far; and now I see the lawyer ride in my nice motor car. I trudge along on weary feet, all burdened with disgust; the lawyer scoots along the street, and covers me with dust. Old Jimpson had a hundred pigs, that fed on cockleburs; they've gone to purchase gowns and wigs for stately barristers. We stood last night by my abode, to cuss the legal rich; my lawyer motored down the road, and shoved us in the ditch. For such a dark and dismal shame there's nothing can St. John's, Nfid., Nov. 13.-The atone; the car that climbed my palsied frame was formerly my own. Oh,
