STEAL FROM THE DEAD.

Canadian Relatives Should Make Complaint.
London, Nov. 13.—A notification from the War Office has been received by the Canadian agents-general to the effect that the relatives of fallen Canadian officers should not hesitate to complain through official channels if valuable articles are missing from their kits when returned. There have been several prosecutions here for thefts by railway employees and others of fallen officers' kits while in transit, and it is feared that where it is known that a kit is going overseas, the thieves may fear detection less than where the loss will be discovered on delivery in England.

COW SETS NEW RECORD

Produced Over 34 Pounds of Butter in Seven Days.
Minneapolis, Nov. 13.—The world's championship for the production of butter fat by a single cow in a year has been won by Duchess Skylark rmsby, a Holstein-Friesian, according to an announcement made here today.
The cow gave 27,161.7 pounds of milk in the year; gave 555.2 pounds of milk and 34.36 pounds of butter in seven days; maintained an average butter fat record of 4.32 per cent. at less than 20 pounds of grain a day; consumed only grains within practical reach of every dairyman, and remained in perfect health.

RUSSIAN PLANS UNHALTED

Carried On Despite Premature Advent of Winter.
London, Nov. 13.—The correspondent of the Times at the headquarters of General Ruzsky's northern Russian army says the premature advent of winter has not affected the Russian plans, as the rivers and ground have not yet frozen. In the Dvina Valley there has been no interference with railway work and supplies are coming satisfactorily. The correspondent adds that the refugees who recently encumbered the entire region have disappeared, thus relieving the pressure on the railway system.

PRESS GAGGING IN AUSTRIA.

55 Papers Suspended in Month For Food Talk.
London, Nov. 13.—A despatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Amsterdam says:
"A Vienna despatch received here asserts that the Neue Wiener Journal has been suppressed for one week for criticizing the censorship. Fifty-five Austrian provincial papers have been suppressed within a month for discussing food conditions."

DEMAND A PLEBISCITE.

Vancouver Prohibition Deputation Calls On McBride.
Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 13.—A deputation from the prohibition forces from Vancouver called on the premier at Victoria and demanded a clear-cut issue in a plebiscite along the lines of the Alberta legislation. On this and some other obscure points as the Government's policy, the premier promised to send an answer to the head of the movement in Vancouver within a few days.

The Man on Watch

"Bill" Hughes' 21st Battalion, which has already sent a lot of Germans to the hospital and elsewhere, needs socks and mitts. Well, Kingston is the place that can supply them, so let the response to the Whig's call be quick.
If Councilman Nickle wants to know who is the boss of Kingston's Utilities he should just start a row and he would soon find out.
"Christy" Graham should not only ask the Town Council for new beds for the women prisoners in the police cells but also demand that a few cells be put on hand for late Council performances, so that the elderly town fathers—like "Dan" Couper and "Bob" Kent—could have a snooze during the dull portions of the acts.

If Church Union comes, the Lampman supposes that some of the unnecessary church buildings in Kingston will be closed. A townsman remarked to him that the church bodies should try and agree in their own family circle before forming alliances or ententes.
A preacher in a Kingston church last Sabbath said that the restoration of the family pew was the hope of the Church in Canada. But when the family pew has been restored, the Lampman thinks it will be a harder job to get out and bring in the scattered family.

In the good old days, the family used to march to church, with the young fry in the lead—placed there so that their elders could watch from behind and see that they did not kick up.

The Lampman can scarcely believe that those 900 Irishmen, who were refused passage to America, were running away from the war, when fighting, outside of eating potatoes, is the chief pastime of the Irish.

Canada's war lord, who is to lead the Canadians into Berlin, can solve the liquor problem, insofar as it applies to the troops, by declaring all bars and shops out of bounds and by decreeing that the drinks to be imbibed by his officers as well as men shall not include any kind of intoxicating liquor.

Judging by the talk in Toronto papers, one would think that the soldiers up there were going to drink all the liquor in that big town, leaving none for the civilian population. Here in Kingston the commanding officer does not think it necessary to further restrict drinking by the men of his fighting profession, knowing that the supply is ample for all. When restriction is placed on the civilian gazetteers, then the war authorities will no doubt direct their eyes when they see or smell a liquor bottle.

Now that it has been agreed that the man who finds himself richer at the end of the war than he was at the beginning is a traitor, the Lampman is wondering how many traitors will reside in Kingston when the Kaiser is hanged. And he would like to learn how a man is to know whether Providence has not intended that he shall be enriched, even in these days, when he listens to the pulpit preaching from the text: "With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again."

THE TOWN WATCHMAN

THE DYING SOLDIER.
By Alexander Louis Fraser.
O Liberty! thy spell fell full on me, And I left comfort and have followed thee.
Through mother's tears Hope's rain-bow brightly shone, Though home, she wrote, was lone when I was gone.
O God! in all the world is ought so white As her prayers for her only boy at night?
What though I die, if when this strife is o'er Men may agree to study war no more?

If we the re-constructed fame of Peace Hereafter hymns of concord ne'er shall cease;
If crowns by tyrants in the dust shall roll, And peoples learn to magnify the soul;
And the world's manhood now upon the cross, Shall see endure, through all this wreck and loss,
Thy spacious home, where great and small may live This comfort to my closing eyes shall give!

BRUSSELS UNDER MARTIAL LAW.

London, Nov. 13.—"A message received here from Roosensdal reports that travelers arriving there from Belgium say that the German authorities have decided to place Brussels under martial law, thereby depriving the Belgian civil authorities of their control," says the Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent.
The correspondent adds that the reason for the measure is not known.

Gin Pills
FOR THE KIDNEYS

Relieve Constipation while Healing the Kidneys

Gin Pills have an almost world-wide reputation as a kidney medicine—their healing, cleansing, soothing effect has earned unstinted praise from thousands.
But their virtues do not end with the relief of kidney and bladder troubles. Gin Pills are excellent for the relief of constipation. We have hundreds of testimonials from people telling us they have found that in taking Gin Pills for kidney and bladder trouble, the Gin Pills also acted as a gentle cathartic and bowel stimulant.
—This is only logical, as in building up a medicine to restore the kidneys to perfect health, the bowels must receive attention as the other organs of excretion.
If you are constipated, you will find the real relief you desire in the use of Gin Pills, which will also regulate your kidneys even though you have so far failed to notice alarming symptoms of trouble in these organs.
Your dealers sell Gin Pills at 50 cents a box, or 6 boxes for $2.50.
