

GREEK KING MUST YIELD TO ENTENTE POWERS

GREEK GOVERNMENT MODIFIES POSITION

To Permit Serbians, British And French Access to Sea in Case of Retreat--Allies to Establish New Front in Balkans.

(Special to the Whig.) London, Nov. 16.—The Greek Government is reported to have modified its position somewhat in favor of the Entente Allies.

Premier Skouloudis originally proposed to permit the French and British to reach the sea without interference from the Greeks.

The Entente Powers are seeking guarantees from the Greek Government, because they have decided to establish an entirely new front in the Balkans.

Constantine's Throne in Danger.

(Special to the Whig.) Paris, Nov. 16.—Naval fighting, with German and Austrian submarines against French and British cruisers, in Greek waters, is a distinct possibility of the very near future.

The Greek Government has refused the demands which the Allies insist on, as essential to their safety; that the Allies are prepared to use force to compel the compliance with their wishes.

The Allies are determined, even if Greece will not help them in their Balkan campaign, that she shall at least give them an entirely free hand.

May Replace King Constantine.

If it becomes necessary for the French and British to send a war fleet to Greece to ensure non-interference with their Balkan plans, there is just one way that this insurance can be made effective.

The belief here is that nothing Germany can do can avail to prevent the final accomplishment of the Allies' Greek programme.

The submarine, so far as French experts can see, is his only available weapon. The struggle, if it comes, is deemed certain to be a desperate one.

Hopes are entertained, however, that the Greek King will not dare to defy the Allies.

Rensy Cochon, of the French Cabinet, is in Athens to-day. It is said that the British War Minister, Lord Kitchener, now on the island of Lemnos, will visit the Greek capital shortly.
