Hydro Commission Agrees To Handle It For Kingston-Commissioncr Toye Wants To Abolish the Waterworks Bath Rate.

It was announced at the Utilities Commission meeting on Monday afternoon that the Seymour Power Company, with which the city had dealings some years ago, and which were ended when the Hydro-Electric Commission drew a herring across the trial, to the city's sorrow, would consider an application to supply Kingston with water power.

Commissioner Birkett made the announcement. He said the Seymour company would not make an offer. It was up to the city to make one in order to have negotiations opened Something had to be done to get more power, as the Canadian Locomotive Company wanted 500 horse power for its works here.

Chairman Rigney said he had been making enquiries through a representative of the Seymour company and learned that the company would enter into negotiations with Kings-He had no further information in the matter. The Commission decided to leave the matter in the Chairman's hands for further en-
