BOYS AT THE FRONT

SEND LETTERS OF THANKS FOR TOBACCO SENT OVERSEAS.

A Large Grist Of Letters Have Been Received By Postmaster Stewart Thanking Him For Contributions Made Through The Overseas Club. That the "soldier boys" on the firing line certainly appreciate having a good smoke, and that they are more than pleased over the contributions of tobacco sent to them, is shown in the scores of letters received by Postmaster James Stewart. A representative of the letters and cards sent by the soldiers, in which they returned thanks for the tobacco, and they are most interesting.

"A smoke helps to pass many a long and dreary hour," writes Pte. W. Ward, of "A" Company, 8th Battalion, Suffolk Regiment, now in France. "We shall all be glad to get this cruel war over, but you can gamble on us to keep our end up." Pte. G. Wingfield, also of the Suffolk Regiment, writes: "I think it is grand of you people in a far-off land to remember us in this way." "I am extremely grateful," says Pte. C. A. Stirling, of "D" Company, 9th Norfolk Regiment. "There are many occasions when a cigarette helps us. It is extremely encouraging to us to know that the people at home are thinking of us in spite of the many difficulties which present themselves."

"The tobacco is always received with the wish of good luck to the sender," says Driver Denton of the 59th Battery.

The smoke from many a pipe and cigarette, The smile of sweet content on many a dial, Are emblems that to you we are in debt, For smokes sent over many an ocean mile.

This is the message sent by Sgt. R. Campbell, of the 59th Battery. "Your generous gifts of tobacco arrived safely," writes Driver O'Hara, of the 59th Battery, 2nd Labrador Division, Indian Expeditionary Force. Many thanks. All the boys are delighted and wish to thank you."

"I can assure you that the 'smokes' were much enjoyed by myself and comrades," states Corporal Forbes of the Piffshire Battalion, R. F. A., Highland Brigade.

The foregoing are but a sample of the letters which are received every day, but the tone of the letters show just how much Tommy likes his to-
