PRISON AND PUNISHMENT.
The inspectors of our penitentiaries should be sent and asked to read the article in Collier's Weekly by Richard Washburn Child on Prison Life and Prison Reform. It is made up largely of letters, (fiction, of course), that passed between a convict, the prison board, the governor, and the warden, respecting one who began life with false ideas, who committed a serious offence, refused to obey present rules, and in the dungeon learned that he was fighting all his fellow convicts rather than the warden. These men had learned to appreciate the treatment they received. They realized that under humane and discreet surveillance they could find themselves, that a prison, properly conducted, was not a place where the State revenged itself for the wrongs of the individual, or a place that made rather than corrected criminals. There was a great deal about our penitentiary to which exception was taken during a recent enquiry. There were some necessary and reasonable reforms which the Commission recommended. The Government has not expressed itself with regard to them. The Minister of Justice has been very guarded in his reference to them. Is Parliament prepared to say that a prison is not to be improved as the commission enjoined? Sir Herbert Ames, with regard to the care of disabled soldiers, are not working out well. Where does the blame lie and with whom?

The Manager of the Canadian Salt Company has been appointed a member of the Military Hospitals' Commission. What specially qualifies him for service? Salt is good for the blood, and it is blood that tells in this great emergency. The clubs of the Province, social and political, have been showing their good sense by favoring an early closing of the sale of liquors during the war. The officers must show the men an example under the circumstances. Open air classes for the children with weak lungs, and food for the poor children at cost price, is the latest announcement from Toronto. A good meal for 5c, or soup, or milk, or chocolate and biscuits, for a cent has been provided with the aid of the cooking class and the students in domestic science. The Whig recalls the suspicion with which certain Kingston school trustees regarded the request of a Professor of Queen's to examine the teeth of the children of Victoria School and report upon them. Yet that was the beginning of a new departure which has meant a great deal to the success and comfort of the public school children.

MUNITIONS AND MONEY.
The war brings great wealth to some people. They fatten upon the sacrifices of the country. The profits of the Canadian Car Company, which has been handling contracts for shells to the value of $146,000,000 is estimated at $20,000,000. Most of the orders are sublet to firms in the United States, while the works of the company at Fort William, which were bonused by the city to the extent of $260,000, lie idle. The Dominion Steel Co., Ltd., (as to capital), on orders for shells and the by-products of its works has made a profit of $8,000,000, or thirteen per cent on common stock after the payment of accumulated dividends and charges. Then it has a contract for all the shells it can manufacture for the next two years. The products are worth $500,000 per month, and the profits are running at 24 per cent on all of its capitalization. The Nova Scotia Coal and Steel plant has increased its capital to $2,000,000 in order to take on a larger share of the war orders. A smaller concern, the Steel and Radiator Company, made $3.80 each on 100,000 shells, or a clear profit of $209,000. It also made a similar profit on a renewal of the contract, or 111 per cent upon the amount invested. The Ottawa Citizen, from which we quote all this and published on Saturday, has given considerable attention to this shell business, following the exposures of Mr. Thomas, who represented the Minister of Munitions in Canada, and who became involved with a Canadian Minister because he lifted the veil to some extent. Our contemporary invites the Finance Minister to tax these extraordinary war profits as the British Government is taxing its manufacturers of munitions for the purpose of the Government. Those who have made personal sacrifices for the good of the country, and to the extent of offering their sons and husbands as a living sacrifice for the cause they espouse, must be shocked over the revelations of the Wall Street Journal and the Ottawa Citizen. They are simply indefensible.

THREATENING THE PRESIDENT.
John Brisbane Walker, a magazine writer, addressed a meeting of German sympathizers in New York on Friday and led in a vicious attack upon the President. This was supposed to be a meeting of the "Friends of Peace and Justice," but it was confessedly a meeting of German or German-Americans, who desired to explode some of their verbal ammunition. The Herald quotes men who were present with saying that the meeting was "the most wholly traitorous atmosphere they had ever experienced." Mr. Walker made many charges, to wit: That Mr. Wilson deliberately permitted a sacrifice of a million lives; that he was unneutral in letting American industries make munitions of war for the Allies; that he did wrong in permitting one of the treasury officials to consult with the French-British bankers in floating a recent loan of $500,000,000; that he allowed American ship-builders to send submarines for the English in knocked-down condition via Canada; and that 20,000,000 Americans, of German descent, had been offended or insulted by him. At times, when Mr. Walker spoke with unusual heat, the audience applauded loudly and there were cries of "Shoot the President." The Secret Service officers of the United States have taken this matter in hand and are seeking to learn who the incendiaries are who gave expression to these threats. The President very recently visited New York by invitation and addressed five hundred business men upon the "policy of preparedness," which he now advocates. This anti-defense meeting of the Germans is the answer and is one which will not be duplicated in New York. The German element has been seething with disloyalty, but has not hitherto been able or willing to advertise its attitude.

EDITORIAL NOTES.
The Government wants all the revenue it can raise legitimately, but the heavy taxes on Christmas presents to the men at the front, in the way of postage, are very severely felt. The plans so elaborately made by the Government, and described by Sir Herbert Ames, with regard to the care of disabled soldiers, are not working out well. Where does the blame lie and with whom? The Manager of the Canadian Salt Company has been appointed a member of the Military Hospitals' Commission. What specially qualifies him for service? Salt is good for the blood, and it is blood that tells in this great emergency. The clubs of the Province, social and political, have been showing their good sense by favoring an early closing of the sale of liquors during the war. KINGSTON EVENTS 25 YEARS AGO
James M. Donoghue, cheesemaker, won the gold medal at the Midland Fair. He made 117,306 pounds of cheese in 1890, and received a salary of $475. Messrs. Horn and Dunlop are retiring from the School Board. At the forty-ninth annual meeting of St. Andrew's Society the following officers were elected: President, Neil McNeil; Vice-President, Dr. James Massey; Second Vice-President, William Middleton; Secretary-Treasurer, Alexander Horn; Chaplains, Rev. John Mackie and Rev. M. Macgillivray; Auditor, D. Spence; Bard, Evan McColl; Piper, J. Weir.

GRUMBLING.
I heard the farmer say, "The bean crop's far from fine, and I am short of hay—what rotten luck is mine!" He wore a dismal frown, and raised a bitter wail, and when he went to town, he told a hard luck tale. His wheat crop was immense, the corn was bumper, too; and by the old rail fence uncounted pumpkins grew. His cows were filling kegs with butter he could sell, his hens were laying eggs too numerous to tell. At evening the flocks the hogs were doing fine, and yet, "Doggone my cats," he said, "what luck is mine!" His Early Riser peas were gleaming in their pods; for whey and milk and cheese he took in many wads. No farmer, near or far, more blessings ever enjoyed; he had his motor car, his teeth of which he could sell, his hens were laying eggs too numerous to tell. And yet he said, said he, "Doggone my cats," he said, "what luck is mine!" Fortune always tries to take a fall from me, and poke me in the eye!" Ten million men like him upon this globe insure; they ought to sing a hymn, but always walk a dirge.

PUBLIC OPINION

The Good Shots.
(Toronto Globe.)
It is asserted that Ontario hunters killed over 29,000 deer this season. All the good rifle shots are not yet in Flanders.

Use of the Navy.
(Montreal Star.)
The German Government has prohibited all exports. And the British Navy is there or thereabouts to see that the decree is enforced.

Place For Dynamites.
(Peterboro Review.)
Winston Churchill is so often referred to as a dynamic personage that one cannot help feeling that his right place is at the front.

Comforting Thought.
(London Advertiser.)
A Chicago scientist now states eggs contain less nutritive value than was supposed. Some comfort with 'em at 3 1-2c and still soaring.

Spending the Money.
(Toronto Mail.)
Another reason for the prosperity of the United States may be found in the fact that Germany has circulated $40,000,000 among her spies there.

Chequered Career.
(Windsor Record.)
The Hamilton Herald, in an obituary reference to Hon. W. B. Montague, says his career was "chequered." Yes, Contractor Tom Kelly will vouch for that.

His Narrow Escape.
(Montreal Mail.)
Contractor Kelly offers the Manitoba Government a million dollars to call his case off. The marvel is that Mr. Kelly, who recently had nine lawyers defending him, has that much money left.

Truly a Spectacle.
(Hampton Spectator.)
The spectacle of Col. Arthur

Lynch, Nationalist M.P. for West Clare—a venerated renegade, who fought against his countrymen in the Boer War—criticizing Kitchener is nauseating. It resembles nothing more than a jackal snarling at a lion.

Question Of The Hour.
(Windsor Record.)
Windsor and vicinity raised enough money for four or five machine guns for Canadian boys at the front. We also raised enough to buy two more for the 21st regiment and home defend. Are the guns to be delivered or is the money to be returned?

MUST GO BACK TO BRITAIN.
Lincoln Fears That He Is to Be Tried As a Spy.

New York, Nov. 22.—Federal Judge Chatsfield on Saturday denied an application for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Ignatius T. Lincoln, former member of the British House of Commons, who is wanted in London on charges of forgery and obtaining securities through false pretences.

Lincoln, who claims that the real object of the British Government is to put him on trial as a German spy, based his application on alleged insufficient evidence and identification. Charles Fox, counsel for the British authorities, ridiculed Lincoln's claim that he was being extradited in order to be tried as a spy. He declared it would be impossible for the English courts, under treaty obligations, to try Lincoln on any other charges than those under which his extradition was demanded.

Counsel for Lincoln stated they would fight the case up to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The business men of Humboldt, Sask., have inaugurated a campaign to collect $2,000 for the patriotic fund from the farmers of the district, who are nearly all Germans or of German descent.

Lieut.-Col. P. T. Rowland, Sault Ste. Marie, is raising a new battalion in Northern Ontario.

Sleepytime Tales

THE "GRUMPY" DOLLS.
Once upon a time a number of "Grumpy" dolls sat in a toy shop window. There were little boys dressed in rompers and little girls in gingham dresses with sunbonnets and aprons. Now one little girl doll sat close by the window and she could see, and sometimes hear what the children said as they passed or stopped to look in the window. Sometimes the children would laugh at the funny, pouty faces and choose which one they liked best. One day two little girls, stood and one of them said: "Let's choose which one we like best." Another girl looked a minute and then said: "I choose the one down in this corner, for, although she has a pucker on her forehead, she looks as though she would like to smile." After that this "Grumpy" doll wanted more than anything else to know how to smile and she tried very, very hard, but all the time there was that naughty frown on her forehead. All of one day she tried to smile so hard that at night she was awfully tired and fell right over on her face where she lay the whole night long. In the morning the saleswoman came to the window and when she saw the doll she cried out: "Who has moved this doll?" Of course she didn't know that the doll had fallen down because she got so tired trying to smile. The saleswoman picked her up and saw that her face was cracked and she was actually smiling.

LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR
Bring Back Its Color And Lustre With Grandmother's Sage Tea Recipe.
Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of messes, sages, and sulphurs.
While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.
DRINK MORE WATER IF KIDNEYS BOTHER
Eat Less Meat And Take Salts For Backache Of Bladder Trouble.
Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.
Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.
MANY BULGARIANS DESERT.
They Object To Fighting Russia and Cross Into Roumania.
London, Nov. 22.—Bulgarian deserters arrived in such numbers in Roumania after Bulgaria's entry in the war, that the Russian Government was considerably embarrassed as to what to do with them, says the Bucharest correspondent of the Near East. At Galatz no less than 500 Bulgarians in full equipment, crossed the river, and large and small
