NEWS ABOUT THE TROOPS QUARTERED IN THE CITY

Lieut. Kenneth Taylor has transferred from "C" Company to "A" Company, 59th Battalion, and proceeded to Gananoque on Thursday.

Twenty-one men of the 59th Battalion are in hospital, and will be unable to proceed to winter quarters with the battalion.

Lieut.-Col. W. Brown, General Staff Officer, expects that there will be about sixty-five officers in attendance at the Provisional School of Artillery. On Monday next about fifty N. C. O.'s of overseas battalions (fourth of the division will come to the city and take the P. S. L. course to qualify for overseas service.

There will be about twenty N. C. O.'s in attendance at the School of Cookery, which opens at Tete de Pont Barracks on Monday.

Sergt. Inst. Quinlan, Ottawa, has been ordered to report as an instructor at the Provisional School of Infantry.

Authority has been received by Capt. A. W. Winnett, A.D.D.S., to detail officers and N. C. O.'s from the Canadian Army Dental Corps to look after the work in this division. Capt. S. H. Simpson is look after the dental work in the city for the batteries and the 149th Battalion. Lieuts. W. R. Eames and J. S. Given are looking after the work for the 77th Battalion and Engineers at Ottawa. Capt. J. M. Wilson for the 59th Battalion at Belleville, and Lieut. M. A. Morrison for the 9th at Peterboro. Other centres for which dental officers have to be appointed are: Gananoque, Brockville and Cornwall (59th Battalion); Perth (109th); Lindsay (130th); Port Hope (136th); Cobourg (139th); Pembroke (Tunnelling Company); Picton (156th).

At ten o'clock on Thursday morning two companies of the 59th Battalion left the city for their winter quarters. "A" Company went to Gananoque, and "D" Company went to Cornwall. The battalion as a unit paraded to the Tete de Pont Barracks gate at 9.45 a.m. The two departing companies had all their equipment complete, even to large Union Jacks in their rifles.

Lieut.-Col. H. J. Dawson, just before the train pulled out, spoke a few words to the men, stating what was expected of them going into places where they were unknown except by reputation, and he expressed the hope that they would conduct themselves at Gananoque and Cornwall as they had done at Barriefield Camp and Kingston. He said they had been a credit to Kingston and Barriefield.

The officers of "A" Company, which went to Gananoque are: Capt. W. L. Grant, Lieut. K. Taylor, Lieut. G. H. Reiffenstein, Lieut. W. G. W. Robinson, Lieut. B. V. Dunkley, Lieut. J. C. Smythe, Lieut. H. W. G. Robinson.

The officers of "D" Company which went to Cornwall are: Capt. J. McLaren, Capt. J. L. McLean, Lieut. J. A. Murphy, Lieut. W. G. Wurtele, Lieut. A. MacLachlan, Lieut. G. R. S. Gates, Lieut. M. Isbester and Lieut. V. R. Ullam.

The other officers of the battalion are: Lieut.-Col. H. J. Dawson, officer commanding; Major H. A. Cameron, senior major; Major H. R. Craig, junior major; Adjutant, Capt. H. B. MacConnell; Machine Gun Officer, Lieut. B. M. Morris; signaller, Lieut. R. K. Rackham; paymaster, Capt. F. C. McGill; quartermaster, Capt. G. Bawden; medical officer, Capt. J. A. Stewart; officer commanding base company, Lieut. R. H. Waddell.

"B" Company—Capt. H. Sauva, Capt. M. Park, Lieut. P. L. Barber, Lieut. V. C. Dowling, Lieut. G. F. Crowe, Lieut. A. P. Christmas and Lieut. E. L. MacConnell. "C" Company—Major A. J. Williams, Capt. J. A. Hope, Lieut. Hamby, Lieut. P. Brocklebank, Lieut. A. Shortt, Lieut. E. Hyman, Lieut. L. E. Stevens.

Lieut.-Col. Ferguson, of the 47th Regiment, Infantry was in the city yesterday, and reported great enthusiasm over the new battalion. The younger men throughout the county are coming forward, and he anticipates no difficulty in getting five hundred men in Frontenac.

Unique and original schemes are being put in force to get recruits. Realizing the great importance of getting the most prominent quarters the officer commanding has secured the premises directly opposite the Randolph Hotel, between McPaul's and Rodgers' new store. A tent will be put up in the gateway, with an officer in charge, and where recruits can be signed up. Red bands with the battalion number will be pinned on the coats of all recruits, making them at once members of the battalion. "Get one man" is the watchword for every man recruited, and thus the 250 required for the Kingston company will be enlisted in comparatively short time.

"Popularize the battalion." "Make the boys want to come." "Keep up the standard of the men." "The very best men I can get will officer the battalion," are some of Col. Low's maxims. Judging by the interest of all classes of citizens in the home battalion, every one of Kingston's sons who should be in khaki will now come forward.

The plan of campaign is as follows: It is the intention that "A" Company will be a representative Kingston company, composed of four platoons. No. 1 platoon will be composed of the men from the different athletic organizations in the city; No. 2 platoon from the business men; No. 3 platoon from the mechanical men; No. 4 platoon from the students. The purpose is to officer this company with Kingston officers, and the N. C. O.'s also will be Kingston men. This arrangement will have a stimulating effect in bringing the boys forward, and the fact that they will be kept together will be a strong incentive to recruiting.

The report that Lieut. F. Pilley, 80th Battalion, had been promoted to the rank of captain and appointed paymaster, was greeted with pleasure by the many friends of the battalion in the city. Regimental Sergt.-Major Blecker has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant and appointed assistant adjutant of the battalion. Capt. Watson, adjutant, has been promoted to the rank of major and is now senior major, second in command, Lieut. Nichols has assumed the duties as adjutant.

Lieut.-Col. Malley, O.C. 9th Artillery Brigade, Deseronto, was in the city on Thursday on business with Major E. C. Barrett, recruiting officer, Brock street.

Albert Miller, 162 Pine street and J. W. Crawford, 311 Johnson street, have enlisted, through Major Barrett's office, in the 146th Battalion.

Lieuts. Elmer, Keaton, F. C. Hambrook, F. Purdy and W. Campbell, all of the city, are attending the Provisional School of Infantry.

Lieut. W. A. Mouck, Canonto, cousin of the late Capt. Mouck, who was killed at the front, is attending the Provisional School of Infantry.

INITIAL VISIT HERE

Members Arrived.

Chairman J. D. Flavell and two members of the Provincial Board of License Commissioners arrived in the city on Thursday morning, and registered at the Frontenac Hotel. The other members will be on hand in time for the session on Friday.

Owing to the illness, the local inspector, C. W. Wright, was unable to meet the members of the Commission. However, his son, Ed. George C. Wright, met the members, and the day was spent in making an inspection of the different hotels around the city, and securing information which the members desire. Although no official information could be secured by the Whig, on the matter, it is understood that a resolution recently passed in Kingston, calling for the closing of all the bars during war time, will be presented to the Commission.

It is also stated that the liquor situation in Kingston will be presented before the Commission by those who are urging that the sale be prohibited. A committee was appointed to look after this.

Had a Busy Morning.

The members of the Commission spent a very busy morning going around the city, and did not return to the hotel for lunch till 1.30 p.m. After lunch they again set out, with the idea of completing their inspection before night, so as to be in readiness for the session on Friday.

A representative of the Whig met the chairman of the License Commissioners, but he stated that he had no information to give out previous to the meeting.

"We are simply making an inspection of the hotels," he said, "and will hold our meeting on Friday. I have nothing to say for publication about our work."

The members of the Commission had a very busy time touring Ontario since their appointment in the spring. The fact that the war is on, and there are so many soldiers in various places, has given the Board some problems.

Through some error the time for the holding of the meeting was given as 11 o'clock. The chairman stated to the Whig on Thursday afternoon that the meeting would open sharp at 10 o'clock. It is the intention of the members of the Commission to complete their work and leave for Toronto on the International Limited.

Whig Secures Many Parcels For Prisoners

American Consul F. S. S. Johnston reports that owing to the article that appeared in Wednesday's issue of the Whig, his office has been flooded out with parcels for prisoners-of-war in Germany. Over twenty parcels of all sizes and weights were sent to the Consul's office on Thursday morning and many more are arriving. It proves the generosity of Kingstonians.

The Whig is indebted to Mr. Johnston for the suggestion of sending the parcels to Germany and the public are indebted to him for taking care of the parcels.

Wedding at Bath Road.

A quiet wedding took place on Wednesday, December 1st, at 1 o'clock in the afternoon at the home of John Hyland, Bath Road, when his second youngest daughter, Marsie Estella, was united in marriage to James Matthew Wright, both belong to Kingston. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Alfred Brown, Sydenham Street Methodist Church. Mrs. Arthur Keys, Collins Bay, rendered the wedding march as the bride entered the parlor leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given away. Miss Lottie Hyland, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid, while Russell Smith, nephew of the groom, was best man. The bride looked charming in a dress of white satin with an over drape of nixon and pearl trimmings. The bridesmaid wore white embroidered voile with satin trimmings. After the ceremony the guests repaired to the dining room where they partook of a buffet luncheon. The bride received many beautiful presents, showing the high esteem in which the young couple are held. Mr. and Mrs. James Wright took taxi to Kingston, where they took the 3.30 train for Toronto and other western points.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

A well-selected programme of high class vaudeville and feature photo-plays will be shown at the Grand Opera House on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Lionel Barrymore, the gifted actor, will be seen in the feature film adaptation of the Famous Players Feature Film Company's play "The Curious Conduct of Judge Legarde," a comedy picture, a two-reel Universal photo-play, and the Pathe News, showing some interesting scenes of the war will also be shown. The vaudeville includes "Virginia Lee Wilson," in a novelty play act and "The Lamplins," in a comedy illusion act.

An Ideal Husband.

The major theatrical attraction this week will be the presentation of "An Ideal Husband" by the Queen's Dramatic Club at the Grand, on Friday, Dec. 3rd. The play will have added interest as Friday night is the students' theatrical night, and the eve of the Alma Mater elections. On this occasion the students will be out in force, and each faculty will be loud in the support of its candidates as their pictures are thrown on the screen. The plays of the Dramatic Club have always proven very popular with Kingston's theatre-going public, and it is safe to say that they will not be disappointed with this year's offering. The story is one of a member of the British House of Commons, who has committed a misdeed in his earlier life, but now is living a perfect example of virtue and honor. Suddenly, like a bolt from the blue, there comes into his life a woman who knows his secret and threatens to reveal it. All looks black for the "Ideal Husband" when his fast friend unexpectedly finds a way out of the difficulty. The play is full of sentiment and gripping situations from start to finish, and the various parts are aptly taken by an extremely well-balanced cast.

Metro Pictures At Strand.

Metro Pictures will soon be seen in Kingston at the Strand theatre which has closed a contract to run them every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of each week for a year, starting Dec. 6th, 7th and 8th, with Edmund Breesse in "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" in one of the greatest starfilms ever made. Metro is rather new to the Dominion, but they have already won their laurels in the United States and England. It is interesting to note that several of the Metro subjects have been made in Canada, and that several more are of distinctly Canadian or British character, and sure to satisfy the longings of our public, who felt for films of truly British sentiment and story character.

When the Metro Pictures came in to Canada, it was Canadian capital that brought them, and the Canadian organization is Metro Pictures, Limited, of Montreal. When they were planning their first release, they made a statement to the public of their aims and intentions, as follows: "Metro Pictures have come to Canada to stay! They are pictures you will not forget; every one of them has a real theme, and so developed that they hold and grip the audience, stir the blood and hold sway over the emotions of the heart."

The greatest stars in gorgeous productions of the biggest plays direct appeal to universal intelligence—that is the keynote of Metro success! Can anything more be said? This certainly seems to be a good policy, and it will mean a great deal of real enjoyment to those who care for the really worth while in motion pictures.

Strand Theatre.

The feature photo-play to be presented at this popular theatre tonight and for the balance of the week is that great story of College life, "The College Orphan," in which Broadway's comedy stars, "Carter De Haven and Flora Parker De Haven," are featured. The story is one of youth in college days and is in six big acts and should prove a big hit here, more particularly with the students of Queen's. Other good photo plays will also be shown.
