

Photo shows new type of captive balloon before inflation. This is a regular observation camp behind the second line of trenches, which is entirely hidden from enemies' detection by the surrounding hills in the background.

London's new battle-trophies: An imposing array of captured German-guns on view at the Horse Guards' Parade.

Machine gun in a Belgian trench, protected by breastwork of sand bags.

War materials plant in Trenton, N.J., destroyed by fire, with loss of $1,000,000. This fire is supposed to have been of incendiary origin.

"Is America Ready for War?" This is a question which the Military Tournament at Madison Square Garden, New York, under the auspices of the Military Athletic League proposes to answer. This torpedo is one of the many interesting exhibits

Generalissimo and Commander-in-Chief of the Servian Army: Vaidode Putnik at his main headquarters.

LORD MAYOR INSPECTS TRINIDAD RECRUITS. The recruits just arrived in London from Trinidad were inspected by the Lord Mayor of London.