KINGSTON, ONTARIO, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1916

SECOND SECTION

HUN CONTEMPT FOR THE U.S.

Lessons From the SS. Persia Tragedy.

THE PAPERS AGREE

THAT CENTRAL POWERS PLEDGES ARE WORTHLESS.

In Regard to Respecting Humanity—The Teutons Hold the American Government in Contempt.

London, Jan. 4.—The morning papers, in editorials on the sinking of the steamer Persia, denounce the act in scathing terms.

The Post says: "We long ago relinquished all expectation that neutral nations would effectually intervene in these repeated outrages of international law. It is naturally a matter for their own conscience, but their position is singularly inconsistent with their pleadings to the allied belligerents that they may be allowed to trade with the enemy."

The Times says: "Whatever flag is stained by this fresh outrage, there is no room for hollow cynical explanations by which Vienna sought to amuse Washington. It cannot be pretended that the Persia was torpedoed in such a gentle fashion that the passengers ought to have been saved but for the culpable negligence of the crew, which is the cowardly defence of the Austrians in the Athens case."

"The fact that stares all nations in the face," says the Telegraph, "is that four hundred utterly helpless non-combatants were deliberately murdered in broad daylight by an enemy warship acting under orders of its Government. Each new case makes it more difficult to avoid the conclusion that the whole of the enemy's correspondence with Washington over these affairs is so much dishonest pleading."

Open Contempt. The Chronicle says: "The central powers could scarcely be more open in their contempt for the American Government, and one wonders how much longer the American Government and people will continue to tolerate their attitude."

"Presumably America's action will be determined by the fate of the few American passengers aboard the Persia," says the News. "We should like to believe for the sake of her good name, as much as the interest of any victims of the future, that it would not, but whatever the President's decision, his right to choose his course without complaint or criticism from this side is unqualified and unquestioned."

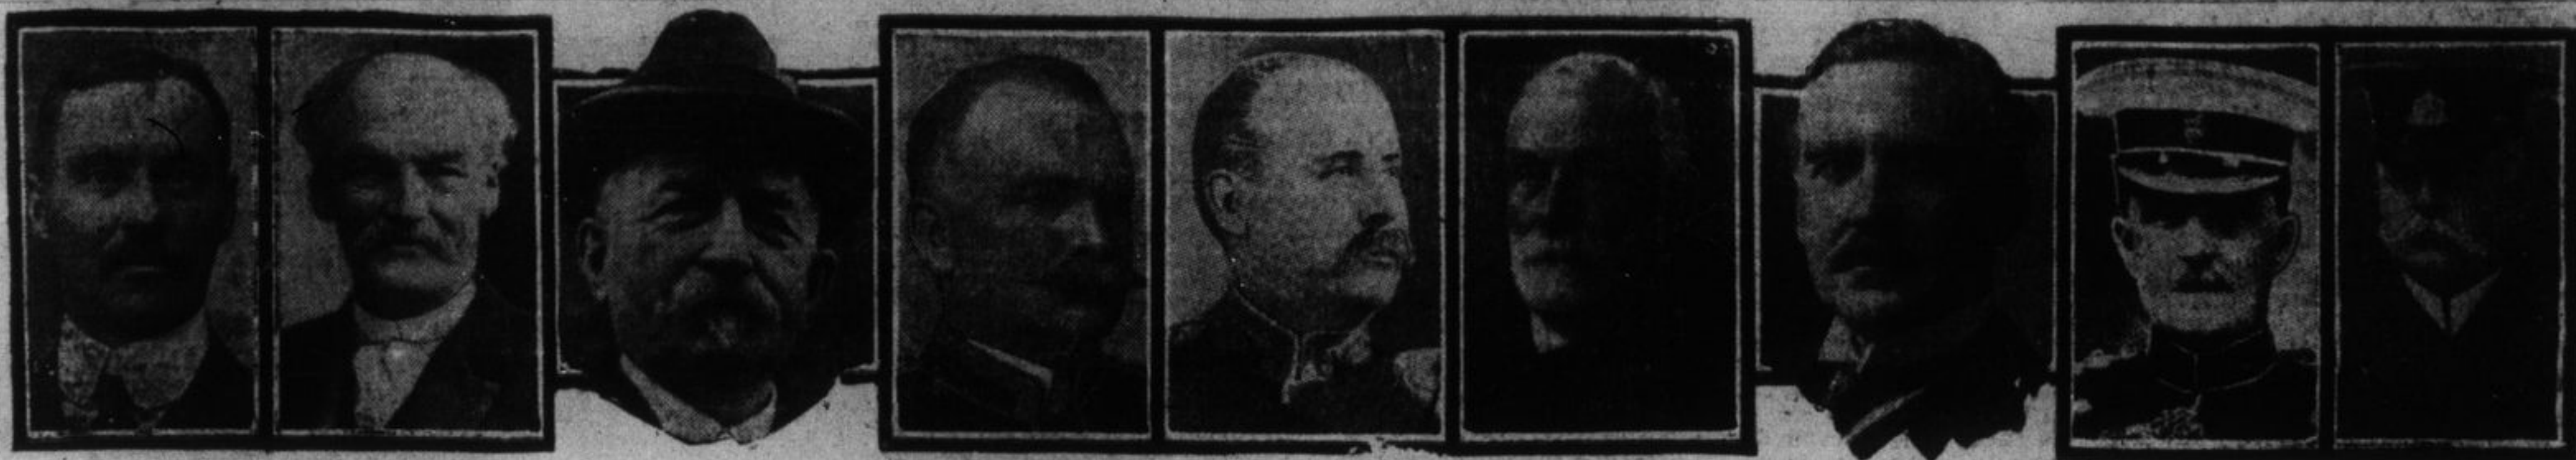

The Mail says: "The cowardly sinking of the Persia will steel the hearts of all Britons, and prompt them, not to a mere denunciation, but to action, and will convince the wavering by thousands that the hour has come to enlist."

The Express says: "These submarine murders will not be disregarded in America. American citizens have been murdered before; now a United States official has been killed. Germany has clearly shown that she is indifferent to the world's opinion."

A good many people are prodigal with their opinions.

"House Based Upon Woman." A house is not based upon the ground, but upon woman. It is an old Montenegro proverb. To her falls the hard work of the household. They use the sickle, tend the flocks, as well as the spinning wheel, and have the vitality and health to enjoy it.

American women should take more care to preserve health and vitality by avoiding nervous, run-down conditions, and for this purpose our local Druggist, Geo. W. Mahood, has a most valuable combination of the three oldest tonics known in Vinol. If you are weak, run-down, over-worked just try it.

CANADIANS WHO RECEIVED NEW YEAR'S HONORS.

HONOR NOW FORCING

ROMANIA TO JOIN THE ENTENTE ALLIES.

No Government Could Force Army to Fight On Side Of Teutons.—Germany's Defeat Sure.

Bucharest, Jan. 5.—Take Jonescu, former Minister of the Interior, of Roumania, and now leader of the Liberal party, writes:

"Belonging to the Opposition, I cannot tell definitely what Roumania's official action will be. But I can express this nation's will and the probability of the future.

Roumania can never fight with the Germans. A few maniacs and wretches bought by the Teutons make a lot of noise, but no Government could force the Roumanians to fight side by side with the Magyars. The impossibility of this will be the surer because Russia has pulled round marvellously and is preparing formidable armies.

Roumanians of commonsense know that our national unity and honor will compel us to fight with the Quadruple Entente Allies, whose victory is certain despite Germany's ephemeral successes in the Balkans, due to Bulgaria's perfidy and the coup d'etat of the Greek King, who took up an attitude contrary to the wishes and interests of his people.

Many of us believe Roumania should have entered the war at least at the same time as Bulgaria, but it is idle to lament the past.

Now that the Serbs have been thrown back on the Adriatic, the situation depends on Franco-British action on the Balkan Peninsula and Russia's preparations for an attack on the Bulgarians. It would be absurd for Roumania to allow another opportunity to slip.

I believe she dare not. My country must embark on a war against her secular enemies and stop a wave of enthusiasm. The half-million men forming our field army would exercise serious pressure on the German line of communication. I cannot name the date of this event, but I can foresee it.

It would shorten the resistance of Germany, who already, is condemned to defeat. The enemy of the human race, she merits punishment. I hope and believe my country will share in the infliction of this chastisement.

SISTERS DECORATED. Gallantly Re-entrained Seven French Soldiers When Surrounded.

Vertus, France, Jan. 5.—Four young sisters have been decorated with the cross of war in the presence of a regiment of artillery. They were cited in an order of the day of the division in the following terms:

"Marie, Helene, Camille and Madeleine Vatel, at the peril of life in a region occupied by the Germans, patriotically re-entrained in the thick of the woods from the 8th to the 12th of September, 1914, seven French soldiers who were then surrounded by the enemy at Fere Champenoise, and who, thanks to their care, were able to find their regiment after the German retreat."

The order was read to the sisters and the medals pinned on them, after which the regiment filed past them, the crowd applauding the sisters.

WITH ARMY CHAPLAINS.

Some Recent Changes Among Those With Canadians.

London, Jan. 5.—Some changes occurred recently among the chaplains to the Canadian divisions in England and at the front in France: Captain Bruce was transferred from the First Division (in France) to the Shorncliffe base. Captain Amrose (Nova Scotia), came from the Canadian Stationary Hospital at Boulogne to Bramshott Camp, Camps Bickland (Gaspe), formerly posted with the army corps, is now at Bear Wood "Convalescent Home."

Major Scott and Major Beattie are now senior chaplains in the First and Second Divisions respectively. Father Workman is acting senior Catholic chaplain at the front.

Major Greegan is attached to the Third Brigade of the First Division, Major Bailey has left England for the front. Captain Elliott, Presbyterian, is posted to Bramshott Camp. Captain Shires, Montreal, has gone to the First Division. Father O'Leary is acting as general Roman Catholic visitor in the London district.

Spinach Souffle. Boil some spinach thoroughly, pass it through a sieve and add two or three well-beaten eggs and a small amount of milk with pepper and salt. Mix it thoroughly, put into a well-buttered souffle dish and bake for ten minutes.

If you and I would do some of those things that we tell others how to do, it would prove words by acts. Many times the talking power gets the best of the thinking power.

CHILD'S TONGUE BECOMES COATED IF CONSTIPATED

When cross, feverish and sick give "California Syrup of Figs."

Children love this "fruit laxative," and nothing else cleanses the tender stomach, liver and bowels so nicely. A child simply will not stop playing to empty the bowels, and the result is, they become lightly clogged with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, then your little one becomes cross, half-sick, feverish, don't eat, sleep or act naturally. Breath is bad, system full of cold, has sore throat, stomach-ache or diarrhoea. Listen, Mother! See if tongue is coated, then give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers give "California Syrup of Figs" because it is perfectly harmless; children love it, and it never fails to act on the stomach, liver and bowels.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Refuse any other kind with contempt.

LATE MRS. ANN REID

WHO DIED AT HER HOME AT REIDVILLE

At the Age of Eighty-three Years—Deceased Was Born in Kingston—Her Husband Died in 1908.

At her home at Reidville, Ann Jane Lowe, relict of the late Robert James Reid, entered with sweet anticipation into rest Christmas night shortly after midnight, aged eighty-three. Only a few days earlier had she taken to her bed. She had no organic trouble, and the end came rapidly as she slept.

Mrs. Reid was born in September 1832 at Kingston, being the daughter of Michael and Eliza Love who came out to this province from Cork, Ireland, and settled in the Limestone. Afterwards the family removed to Canada and Mrs. Reid graduated from the Newborough Academy and taught school at Tamworth and Reidville, wherewith married Robert James Reid in 1859 in Camden

East Anglican Church. The family consisted of five sons and two daughters, five of whom survive, namely Harper, Albert, Frederick, May and Alma. For over half a century she had lived on her farm beloved by all who knew her. In 1908 her husband perished in a shipwreck. In August, 1913 her son, E. J. Reid, was suddenly drowned in Gambier Bay, Alaska, and probably so great was the shock of the sad news that her former health and strength never returned.

Ann Jane Love was the salt of the earth; an honored parent, an affectionate mother, with dutiful and worthy children, a loyal church woman, a faithful Christian. A large cortege attended her funeral at Camden East Church on Tuesday afternoon, December 28th, the Rev. Rural Dean James of Tamworth officiating being assisted by Rev. W. Spencer, rector of Camden East. The text was "A Good Name"; Prov. xxii. 1. Her Christian works will be missed and she is gone, but the memory of the just is blessed and right dear in the sight of the Lord is the death of His saints.

John Ganzel, who is slated to manage the Brookfords' next year, is reported to have signed up eight players in the Pacific Coast League for next year.

At Edinburgh, Scotland, the Powderhall Marathon, of fifteen miles, was won by G. McCrea, of Scotland, who finished 12 yards ahead of Hans Holmer, of New York, second. The winner's time was 1.21.55.

Montreal Star: It is no wonder that in view of the many changes from the club to club and league to league, the Ontario hockey people sometimes question the simon-pure quality of some of the Montreal hockey amateurs, and the squabbles between the various managers do not make the matter any better.

Most fans think Vezina of Canadiens the best goalkeeper in the N.H.A. If he is, Paddy Moran of Quebec is a mighty healthy rival. Moran wears more pads than any man in the league.

Soccer followers in Ontario will be interested in knowing that the Rev. C. H. Buckland, of Guelph, the president of the Ontario Association, has joined the army as chaplain, and is now acting in that capacity to the troops quartered around Guelph. He will go overseas with them.

The booster for the Duquesne Garden rink in Pittsburg—not the Winter Garden—is of the usual type. All the visiting teams are the world's best—before the game. Of the approaching visit of the Ottawa Aberdeens he says in the Pittsburg Sunday papers:

"Undeclared, and with the reputation of being the amateur champions of the world, the Aberdeens have a septette that have challenged the admiration of the hockey world and will be worthy opponents of the Garden puckmen."

You and I may become aids to extravagance by accepting money favors. You will always find some hard-to-reach rounds in the ladder of success. Persecution may be the aftermath of what we call just conclusions.

WEST WILL RESPOND. District No. 10 Enlists a Thousand Men a Week.

Winnipeg, Jan. 5.—Col. Rutan, officer commanding military district No. 10, stated that men in this territory are enlisting at the rate of 1,000 a week, which is equal to one new battalion every seven days.

"The West," he said, "will do its full share in proportion to population to uphold its end of the campaign to raise the Canadian overseas army to half a million men, as announced on New Year's by Premier Borden."

Even if you are quite sure you are right, if you don't do a bit of harm to take another look at the matter.

BELGIAN CONSUL ASSURED. That Not an Ounce of Relief Food Goes to Germans.

Ottawa, Jan. 4.—M. Goor, Belgian Consul General to Canada, has received further assurance from the neutral members of the Belgian Relief Commission, through whom the relief to the thousands of famine-stricken Belgians is dispensed, that not an ounce of the supplies and food that has gone into the country has fallen into the hands of the Germans.

The Germans have violated all the laws that have previously governed warfare, all the laws of God and man, and have resorted to barbarity in its crudest forms, but one trust they have kept and that is their pledge to leave untouched the food that is supplied Belgium. The invaders have robbed Belgium of the food she had stored and of the means to the people had of purchasing food, but they have not prevented the food from entering the country through neutral channels.

Mr. Goor's information comes direct from officials in Belgium and has been communicated to the Treasurer of the Belgian Relief Committee's offices at 59 St. Peter street, Montreal. With this renewed assurance that wheat sent from Canada does not go to feed the enemies of the Empire it is anticipated that many more will join in the already large number of Canadians who have contributed the bags of flour, each of which keeps one Belgian family alive a month.

THE SPORT REVIEW

Ottawa's three straight defeats in the N.H.A. will likely result in another raid on the Ottawa amateur clubs.

The Boston arena management are inquiring into the hockey history of some of their players, one of whom is Paddy Seguin, from the defunct Maritime pro league.

Toronto News: Under the N.H.A. penalty rules all a team needs is a couple of husky players to wallop their opponents and take rests on the penalty bench, and then come back and repeat the performance if the other fellows get going.

George Boucher, the crack centre-half of the Ottawa Football Club, will likely figure on the Ottawa hockey team in next Saturday's game against "Joe" Hall and his Quebec bulldogs.

OLD VIOLINIST DEAD.

While He Was Playing "In the Gloaming."

Dramatic Mirror. A twelve-year-old boy in Washington, D.C., was a pupil of an old violinist in that city. One night recently the boy and his father called at the home of the instructor, presumably to talk about the boy's progress.

At the end of the visit the old teacher took his violin and played his favorite, "In the Gloaming." It was his habit to do this when he had a guest. A few days later the boy went to take his lesson. There was no response to his knock. There was no answer to his knock. There was no answer to his knock.

This is the story of the end of Julius Schultz, seventy years old. He had been in this country forty years. His wife and daughter are in Berlin. They never came over. At one time he was a member of the Marine Band when Sousa was leader. They knew him, all of the orchestra; for some time he was first violin in the orchestra at Belasco's, in Washington. He had a number of pupils. He wrote to his wife regularly once a week. He was known to all leading musicians, and whoever knew him referred to him as the fine old violinist who played "In the Gloaming" with wonderful effect.

FRONTENAC FELDSPAR. Is The Most Valuable On the American Continent.

F. H. Wagar, Toronto, writes in the Toronto Mail and Empire about Frontenac feldspar. He says: "It might interest some of your readers to learn that Ontario has in the County of Frontenac the most valuable deposits of feldspar on the American continent, and the analysis of it shows it to contain the right ingredients, without any addition of potash, for the manufacture of the highest grade of enameling. Its analysis is: Silica, 62.54 per cent; alumina, 22.54 per cent; iron, a trace; lime a trace; magnesia, a trace; soda 2 per cent; potash, 12.54 per cent. Of its uses I will name a few; enameling, pottery, glass, granite-ware, glazed brick, enamel-ware, bath tubs and sanitary ware, dtenswenswelle and sanitary ware, etc. By-products are poultry grit, cement products, cleansers, etc., and for many other purposes, and if properly developed the feldspar resources could be made one of the most valuable sustainers of industry in Canada."

Could the dollar reason, it would be ashamed sometimes of the company it keeps. A lot of us are willing that others should work to make both ends meet for us. You can't always place a safe estimate of a man by the shake of his hand.
