WALDRON'S

THE LATE C. W. WRIGHT

THE BURIAL SERVICE IN ST. PAUL'S CHURCH.

Masonic Body Also Held Services at the Home and at the Cemetery On Friday Afternoon.

The funeral of the late Clark W. Wright took place Friday afternoon from his late residence, 25 Colborne street. It was in charge of the Masonic Order, who held a short service at the house at two o'clock, after which the remains were taken to St. Paul's Anglican Church where the burial service was conducted by Canon W. F. Fitzgerald and Dean Starr.

Among the many flowers were an anchor from the Minden Lodge, A.F. & A.M.; wreath from A. & S. Rite, C.O.F., I.O.O.F., and the Provincial License Board of Commissioners, Toronto.

Among the out of town relatives and friends present were: Mr. Keeley Ottawa; Benjamin O'Loughlin and J. M. Wright, Yarker; Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Devlin, Perth; and Mrs. Dr. McArthur, sister of deceased, London, Ont.

The pall-bearers were Dr. A. W. Richardson, Dr. F. Waugh, John McKay, R. F. McFarlane, George Smith and William J. Saunders.

The remains were placed in Cata-raqui vault, where Minden Lodge representatives held a service.

SEARCHLIGHTS ON VESSELS USED TO FLASH MESSAGES.

Latest Battleships Of Our Navy Have Been Equipped With Projectors For This Purpose.

The Popular Mechanics Magazine.

Although searchlight signaling between battleships was a means of communication at sea long before the introduction of wireless telegraphy, it is still utilized.

The latest battleships of our navy have been equipped with projectors designed especially for this purpose, while the older vessels use their regular searchlights for which special searchlights are supplied. Lenses operate these latter members, flashing the lights on and off quickly so that messages may be spelled out in dots and dashes, either at day or night. For day signaling, the light shaft is directed squarely at the observer, and for evening this a telescope is mounted with the projector. When atmospheric conditions are good the radius of communication is about twelve miles in any direction. At night this is obviously much increased, for light may be played on some prominent object and seen for a distance of forty or fifty miles.

When there are no clouds, the searchlights may be directed skyward and their shafts of light seen at closer range. The feasibility of launching captive balloons as substitutes, for cloud banks has been suggested.

LARGE INCREASE SHOWN IN PRODUCTION OF ARSENIC.

Total Value of Output for 1914 Is Estimated to have Been $207,780.

The U. S. Geological Survey.

The year 1915 saw another increase in the output of white arsenic, and the estimated production for the twelve months is reported by the United States Geological Survey to have been 5,195 tons (of 2,000 pounds) with a value at the smelters of 2 cents a pound or a total of $207,780. The estimate by Frank L. Hess is based on the known production for the first ten months of the year and the probable output during November and December. This output is an increase of more than 11 per cent. over the 1914 production and sixty-five per cent. over the 1913 output.

All white arsenic made in this country is a by-product in the smelting or refining of the non-ferrous metals, and naturally, the larger part is saved at the Western plants. The demand is far below the possible production, which could probably be made treble or quadruple the present output if prices were sufficiently encouraging.

The largest uses for arsenic are in the manufacture of insecticides, such as Paris green, lead arsenate, etc.; in glass making, and as a weed killer. Small quantities are used in shot, medicine and dyes.

WILL NOT INTERN LIVER.

At New York For Carrying Guns Mounted Aboard.

(Special to the Whig.) Washington, Jan. 7.—The Italian liner Verdi, which docked at New York yesterday carrying two thousand many guns mounted aboard, will not be interned as a warship nor will this Government assist that the guns be removed before she sails again.

Legal Advice.

From the Public. "Well," said the lawyer, having listened carefully to his client's statement, "you've got about the best case I ever heard. My dear sir, you can't help winning it, whatever court you take it to. I shall be only too glad to assist you in the matter."

"Thanks," said the prospective client. "Thanks very much." Then grabbing his hat he made a speedy exit from the office.

"What!" exclaimed the astonished lawyer. "Are you going?"

"Yes," replied the other. "I'm just going to try to settle this case out of court."

"But, my dear sir, why waste money? As I have already told you, that's one of the best cases I ever heard."

"Maybe it is," said the fickle client as he hastened down the stairs, "but not for me. I told you the other fellow's story!"

ILLUSTRATED SECTION OF SATURDAY'S WHIG.

Interesting Views of Hospital and Ambulance Work in France.

The Illustrated Section of to-morrow's Whig contains some most interesting views of Hospital and Ambulance work in France, as practiced by No. 2 Canadian Stationary Hospital. These pictures were sent by Sergt.-Major Law, of Kingston, and were kindly loaned to the Whig by Mrs. Law. Among the King-tonians appearing in the pictures is Dr. Fred. McKelvey Bell, who is seen operating on a wounded soldier.

Among the other local pictures are those of Pte. Harry Sutherland, Gore street, and John and Alvin Metcalfe, sons of ex-Warden James Metcalfe. There are also other very interesting pictures direct from the war zone. These include:

A French Commander's post at the front.

Empty shells that were fired by the famous French 75's.

Gen. Sarrail, commanding the Anglo-French forces at Salonika.

Boy Scouts in Japan.

German Camp in the Louvre.

Mounted Guard along the Welland Canal.

Infantry Guard on Welland Canal.

A splendid picture of Gen. Sir Douglas Haig, England's new Commander-in-chief in France.

Another excellent picture of General de Castelnau, recently appointed chief of the general staff of the French troops.

Canadian Veterinary Officers at Shorncliffe.

Three ex-London Policemen, now serving on the Island of Lemnos.

C. N. R. bridge at Kamloop, B.C.

Thomas A. Edison descending into a submarine.

Also other interesting features.

Instructions have been to all district officers commanding units into the Militia Department the names of all properly qualified and transient instructors, in or that their services may be utilized to the best advantage in connection with the creation of new militia units for overseas service.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

Another excellent bill of plays and vaudeville is on the boards at the Grand for the last half of the week, and capacity houses were the order yesterday.

"The Case of Becky," a film production of Belasco's stirring drama, is the feature photoplay. Blanche Sweet, one of the screen's brightest stars, is cast in the titular role. "A Study in Scarlet," a two-reel Universal, is a splendid dramatic effort. "The Butcher's Bride" bubbles with side-splitting scenes. "Whims Wins the Winsome" is another laugh provoker, while the Pathe News is as interesting as ever.

Miss Frances Shopera, a vivacious comedienne, heads the vaudeville. She sings well, has a hoary of neat gowns, and a dashing personality. Desocia and Madeline in a xylophone act were well received.

THE "SHIRKER"

Written by Sergeant Eismare of the 80th Battalion, now attending the Provisional School of Instruction.

Some of our lads have 'listed. They are eager to face the foe. Some more of our lads have 'listed. And some under age we know. And the dear old country takes them. While the "men" stand idly by. And the sergeants and the doctors pass them. And the total's mounting high.

Some more of our lads have 'listed. And it fairly sickens me. And I wonder what will happen in the future days to be: Our dear old country called us To fight for God and Right. Our rulers take our youngsters. While they let the "men" go light.

The youngsters have the spirit. The slackers have the frame; The youngsters have the glory. The slackers have the shame.

The Last Word.

Kansas City Star. A little girl travelling in a sleeping car with her parents greatly objected to being put in an upper berth. She was assured that papa, mamma and God would watch over her. She was settled in the berth at last, and the passengers were quiet for the night, when a small voice piped:

"Mamma!"

"Yes, dear."

"You there?"

"Yes, I'm here. Now go to sleep."

"Papa, you there?"

"Yes, I'm here. Go to sleep like a good girl."

This continued at intervals for some time, until a fellow passenger lost patience and called:

"We're all here. Your father and mother and brothers and sisters and uncles and aunts and first cousins. All here. Now go to sleep!"

There was a brief pause after this explosion. Then the tiny voice piped up again, but very softly:

"Mamma!"

"Well?"

"Was that God?"

CZERNOWITZ BOMBARDED

By Russian Aviators — Slavs Take Austrian Trenches.

(Special to the Whig.) London, Jan. 8.—Russian aviators have bombed the railway station at Czernowitz several times in the last few days.

The Slavs have captured two sections of Austrian trenches west of Rarance, a few miles from Czernowitz and are hammering the Austrian front with artillery of all calibre.

The number of persons on board the steamer Persia who have not been accounted for aggregates 326. Of these 119 were passengers and 217 members of the crew.
