

CANADIAN CAVALRY PATROLLING THE WELAND CANAL.

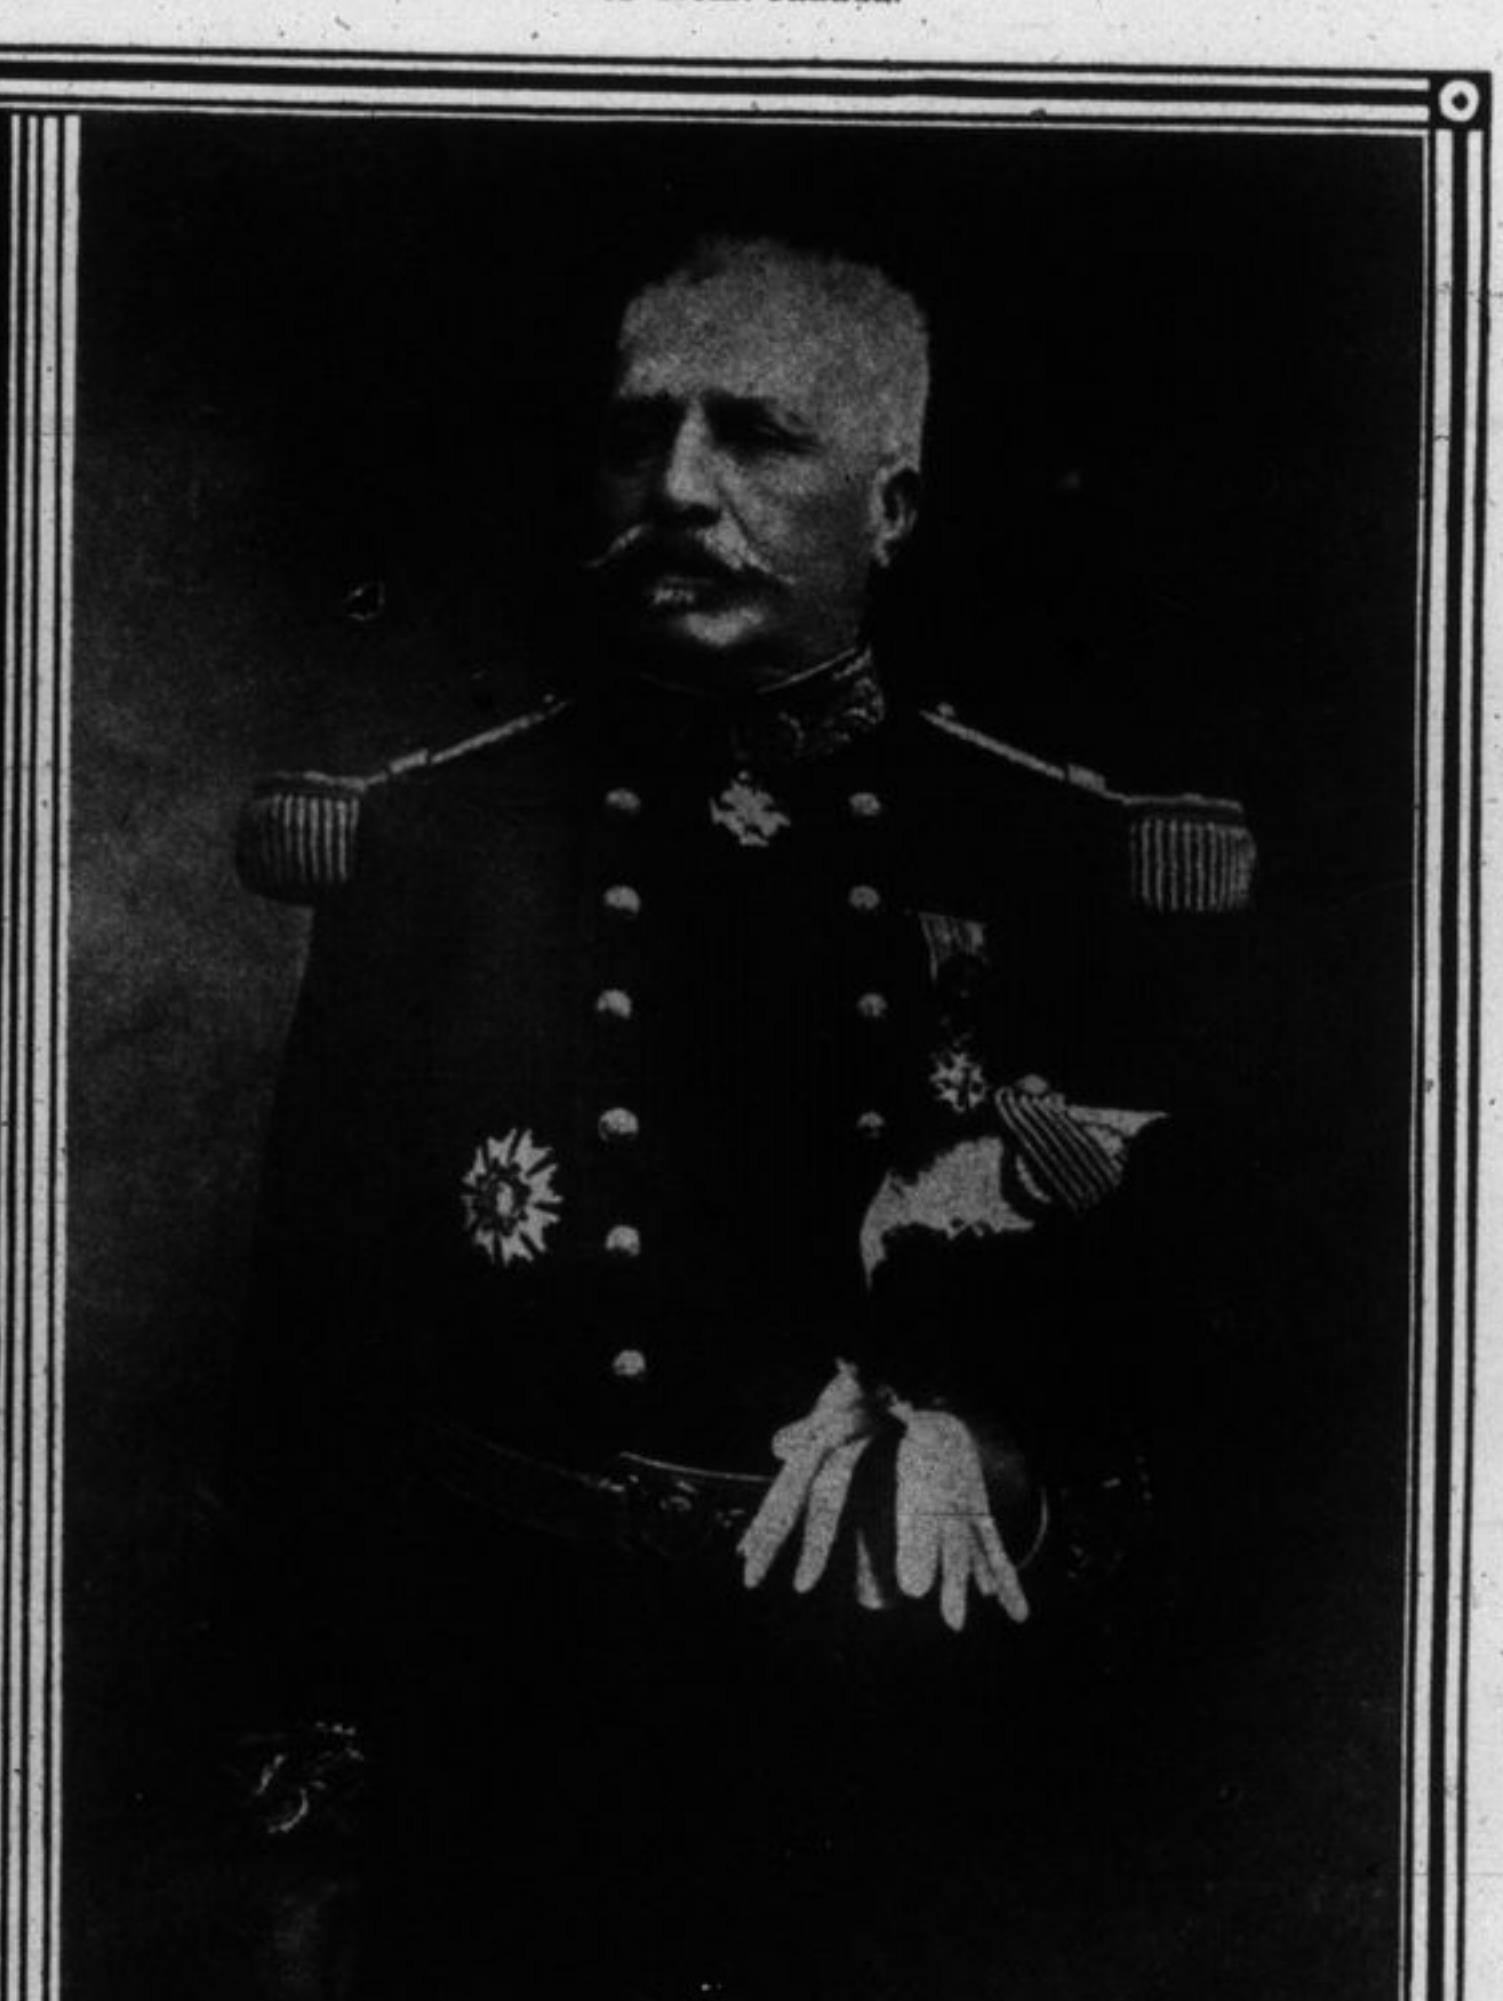

Squad of Canadian soldiers guarding the locks of the Welland Canal, which connects Lake Erie with Lake Ontario, at Port Dalhousie. Several arrests have been made in New York in connection with a plot to blow up this canal and strike a blow at the shipping of munitions to the Allies from Canada.

General Sir Douglas Haig, who has succeeded Gen. Sir John French in command of the English troops in Flanders and France.

French lookout wearing gas mask watching for the enemy's approach. Official photograph by the photographic section of the French Army.

General de Castelnau, "The Savior of Nancy," has been made Chief of the General Staff of the French troops operating in France, and is now second in command to Gen. Joffre.

Official photograph by the photographic section of the French Army. Awaiting the lull of the German bombardment, French soldiers are looking for their officer to command the charge.

French Red Cross dog bringing helmet of a wounded soldier back to his comrades. They follow immediately to search for him.