

LONDON VETERINARY OFFICER AT SHORNCLIFFE.
Major J. H. Wilson, Canadian Army Veterinary Corps, for some years veterinary officer of the 1st Hussars, London. Major Wilson is now employed in the Canadian Administrative Veterinary Service, and is stationed at Shorncliffe.

NO SWEET CANTEEN, BUT LOTS OF DRINKS.
Some of the boys at Queen's Park Mobilization Camp enjoying a little liquid refreshment straight from the bottle.
Lance Corporal Donald Gray, son of James Gray, of London, of the 70th Battalion, who is in the 70th Battalion.

THREE OF LONDON'S POLICEMEN SOLDIERS.
Patrolman Sidney Seagall, George Pilgrim and Percy East, of the London Police Force, who enlisted with No. 3 Stationary Hospital and are now stationed at the Island of Lemnos in the Dardanelles zone. All are doing police duty in connection with the hospital.

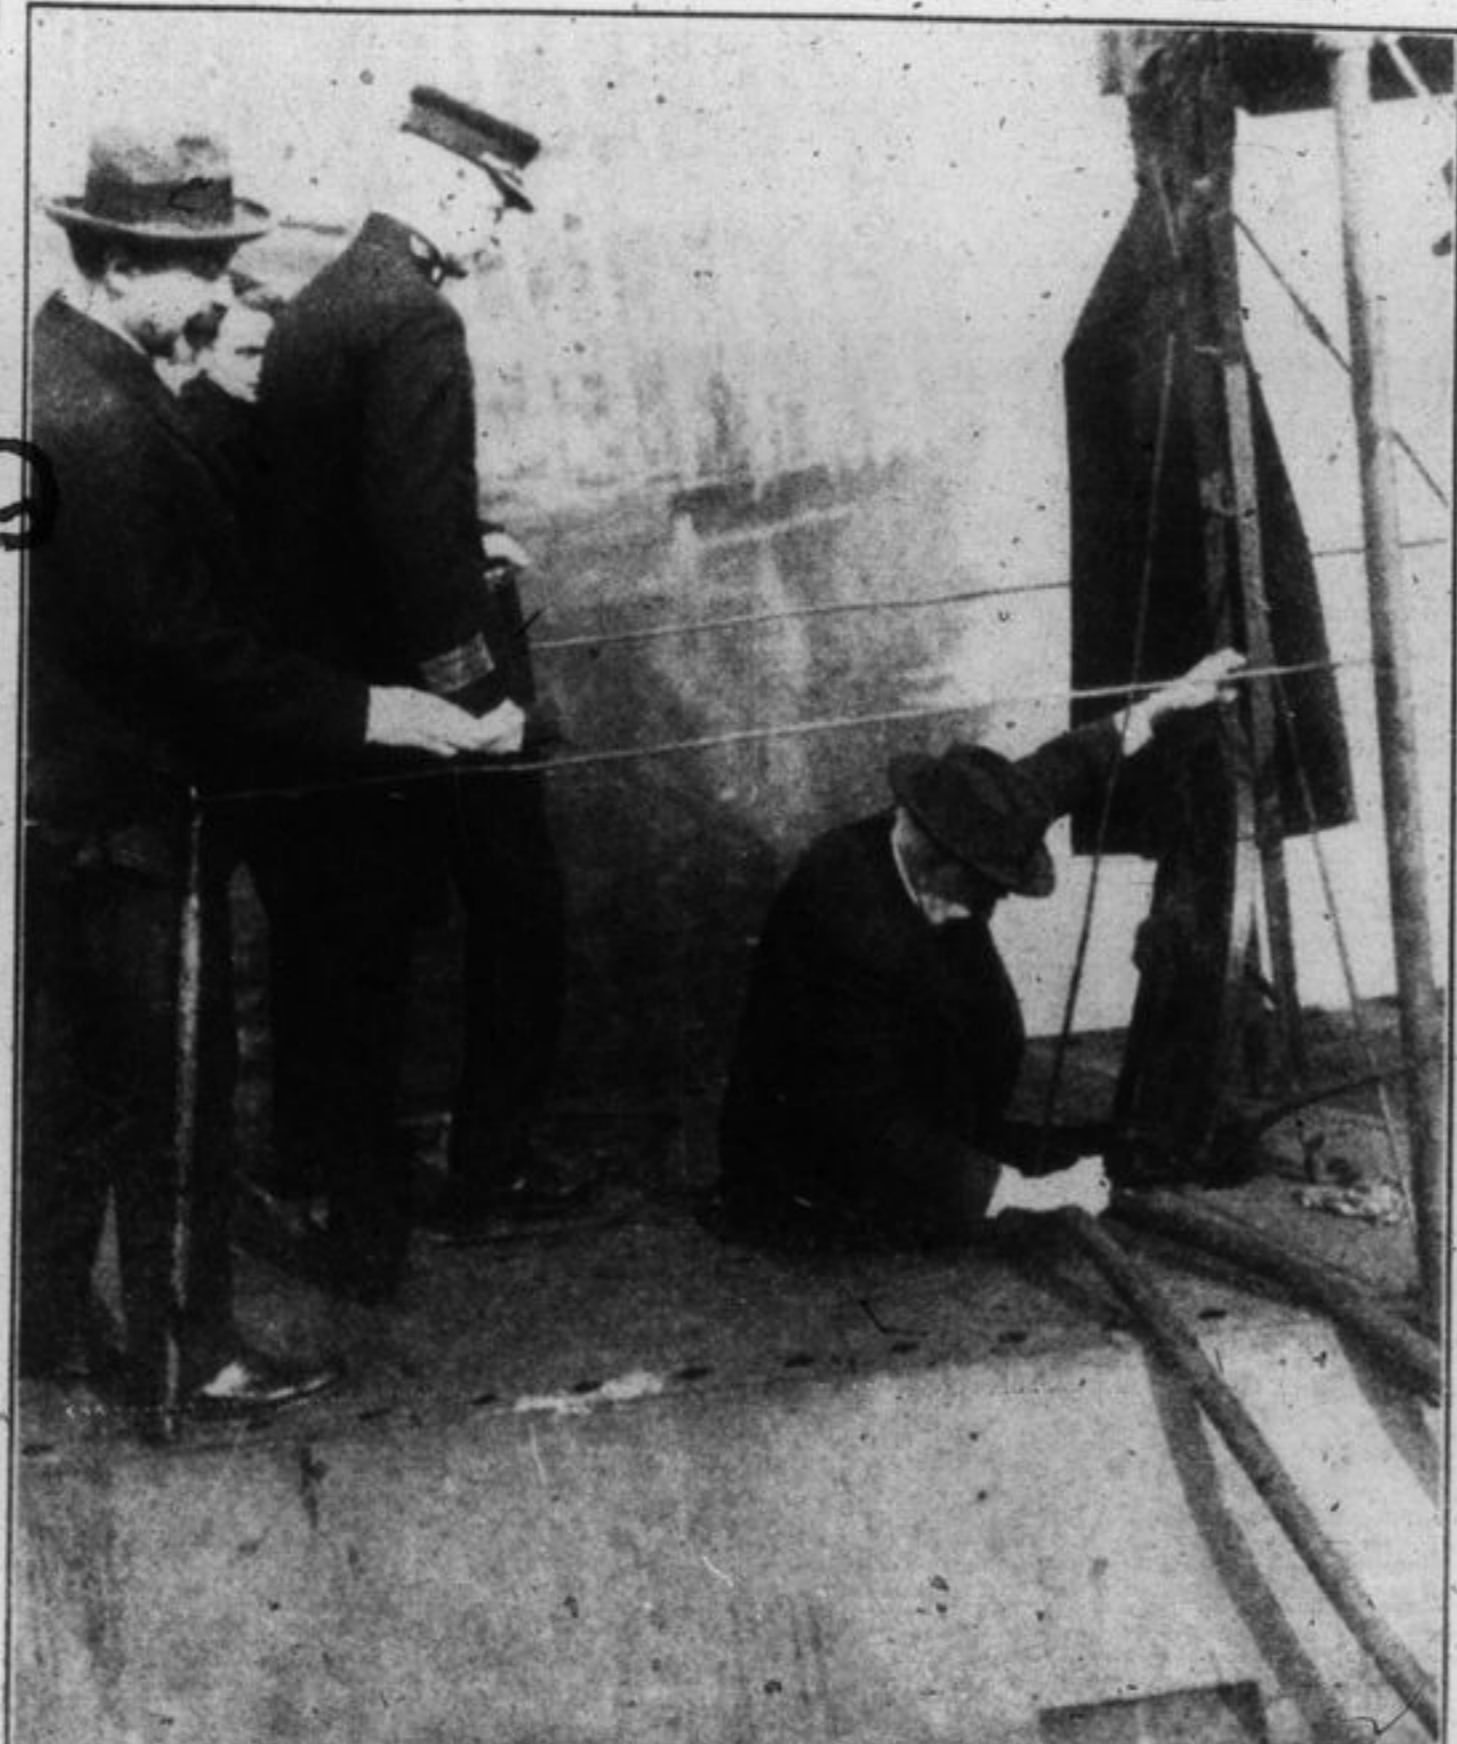

Continental Glacier, Mount Robson Park.
(Grand Trunk Pacific Photo.)

Canadian Northern Parliamentary Special Train crossing Kamloops Bridge, B.C., on its recent transcontinental trip.
(Canadian Northern Photo.)

Latest skating fashion, as seen at the Biltmore Hotel Rink, is a blue leather skirt, worn with the same color georgette crepe waist. The trimming is of white fox.

Chairman Thomas A. Edison of the Naval Advisory Board visited the Brook Navy Yard to-day, Dec. 23rd, with other members of the Board, and looked over the various ships and other craft now in the yard. Edison was interested, of course, in the submarines, and spent some time on interior and exterior exploration. The picture shows him descending into the E. 2.

CHANGE THE FUEL without changing the Range
THE "PENNA" Two Fuel Range

Two complete stoves in one for Coal or Gas, either separately or at the same time.
WITHOUT MOVING A BURNER
One Oven for Both Coal or Gas.
Come in and see them
H. LAWRENSON
291 PRINCESS ST.

Miss Velli Velli, star of "The High Road," Metro Starfilm, at the Strand Theatre, Vancouver, Jan. 10, 11, 12.