PRIVATE W. J. PENFOLD IS DOING WELL.

Tributes Paid to His Worth as a Soldier—Was Always Willing and Ready For Any Duty.

Mrs. Sarah J. Penfold, 431 King street, received a telegram from the Adjutant-General at Ottawa, stating that her husband, Pte. William James Penfold, of the 21st Battalion, who was wounded, was now out of danger.

Mrs. Penfold received a letter from Sgt. T. Jackson from "Somewhere in Belgium." The letter was written on Dec. 22nd, and in it Sgt. Jackson expressed sympathy, stating that he was Pte. Penfold's section commander. He paid a warm tribute to his worth, stating that he was a good soldier, always willing and ready for any duty.

Mrs. Penfold also received a letter from Pte. D. H. Masonomy, another friend of Pte. Penfold's. This letter was written on Dec. 21st. The letter stated that he was standing within three feet of Pte. Penfold when he was hit. He stated that the wound was not a serious one and that there was no cause for alarm.

He was hit on the shin bone of the left leg by a German bullet.

Pte. Penfold wrote a letter to his wife on December 29th. He said the bone in his leg was so badly broken that the doctor found it advisable to take the leg off just below the knee.

HATES GERMAN, SO GIVES TO BELGIANS.

Little Listowel Tot Sends Money to Feed One Belgian Child For a Month.

Montreal, Jan. 19.—Among the donations that have come into the hands of the Belgian Relief Committee at the offices at 59 St. Peter street, is one for $2.50 from a baby girl in Listowel, Ont., who just hates Germans.

Perhaps everyone may not approve of the sentiment which prompted the gift, but this little tot's money will provide the food that will keep the breath of life for one month in some other little one, who perhaps also hates Germans for an even better reason.

Life for a month. Few Canadians can realize what that means. The Belgians—three millions of them—are living from hand to mouth. They have no money with which to buy food, there is no food to buy even if there were money, no food except that provided through the generosity of their Allies.

Wheat is the one great need and Canada can supply it. If every little tot in Canada hated Germans $2.50 worth many a shipload of the much-needed wheat would go to feed the hungry Belgian kiddies.

GERMANS HOLD HOPES OF INVADING CANADA.

Senator Lougheed Gives Warning of Result of Enemy's Victory in Europe.

Ottawa, Jan. 19.—Declaring that in the United States there were from 10,000,000 to 12,000,000 Germans, many of them military reservists, who had long dreamed of seeing German authority established in North America. Hon. Senator Lougheed, minister without portfolio and government leader in the Canadian Senate, urged the people to greater effort in aid of the Allies, in a speech during the debate on the reply to the speech from the throne.

"Canada's security can only be established by a victory over Germany," declared Senator Lougheed, who said these German-Americans had vision of the fatherland one day dominating North America.

"Let the allied lines be broken through by Germany and an avenue upon the seas gained by Germany, and Canada would be invaded by Germans brought to Canada's shores in transports and Canada's boundary would be crossed by German reservists living in the United States."

BELGIAN RELIEF FUNDS.

Cool $40 A Ton In Italy.

Rome, Jan. 19.—In spite of the cold weather Italy is a country almost without coal fires. The only smoke to be seen is that from railroad locomotives, factories and a few hotels. The peasants in the mountains and the poor of the cities are able to make a few fires of wood, but coal is beyond the reach of any except the most wealthy. American coal lies un sold at the seaports. On account of high freight, anthracite costs more than $40 a ton.

SERUM WAS PRODUCED

GERMAN DOCTOR WORKED UNDER EYE OF POLICE.

Supplied His Material—Sent Phial With Coded Letter To Sick Mother, Which Authorities Seized.

London, Jan. 19.—According to the Daily Mail, the recent death of a well known English diplomat revealed some remarkable facts about Dr. Mohnarto, whose tuberculosis experiments were featured three years ago. Dr. Mohnarto at the outbreak of the war was interned in Alexandria Palace, an amusement building in the North of London, converted into an internment camp. His house in Harley Street and his laboratory at Notting Hill were closed.

When the diplomat was suffering from a disease a few months ago for considered a possible cure, it was agreed to allow him to return to his laboratory as he alone could manufacture the serum. Dr. Mohnarto left the palace daily under escort. One initial difficulty had to be overcome. A number of vipers which he had kept for his experiments were now dead. He was given facilities for obtaining what was required from the Zoological Gardens, and thus was supplied. He worked months in the laboratory producing the serum under the eye of Scotland Yard officers and also continued experiments perfecting a serum to take the place of salvarsin. He claims satisfactory results at this while working as a prisoner.

As he was thus engaged word was sent him from Germany that his mother was stricken with tuberculosis, contracted, it was feared, through a visit to his laboratory in London before the war. A request that a phial of her son's serum be sent her was allowed by the British authorities. A messenger was sent to Germany with it, and also with a coded letter to Mohnarto's sister containing the secret serum's composition.

The messenger was seized entering Germany, the letter and phial confiscated, and the sister arrested. So far as is known she is still a prisoner.

Meanwhile the illness of the diplomat did not yield to treatment, and eventually the permit to leave the palace was revoked. The scientist is now there with other Germans who hold high places in science, art and medicine. At the time of his internment, it has been disclosed, Dr. Mohnarto was negotiating with the physician of a crowned head for a supply of the serum.

CANADA IS PAYING FOR HER SOLDIERS.

Minister of Finance Replies to Question in the Commons.

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—In the Commons yesterday afternoon Hon. William Pugsley asked the Prime Minister for a statement showing what part of the expense of maintaining the Canadian armies in the field was being borne by Canada and what part by Great Britain.

Hon. W. T. White stated that it was the desire of the Government that the entire cost of maintaining the troops both at home and in the field should be borne by Canada. There were certain accounts, however, which would have to be adjusted after the war was over. He had spoken with Col. Ward of London, and had been told that the Canadian Government was paying all the expenses in connection with the troops in France and Flanders, but that certain expenses in connection with rationing, equipment, etc., at the front would have to be settled later.

"Does this include ammunition, shells, guns, etc.?" asked Dr. Pugsley.

"So I understand. It is our desire to pay all," said Mr. White.

"Does it include transportation?" asked Mr. Maclean, of South York.

"I believe we are also paying our share in the transportation," said Mr. White.

Frock of Self Striped Voile.

pockets and belt and collar of contrasting material.

There is nothing prettier among the inexpensive materials for developing this frock than tulle striped self-striped voile. It is smart, when made upon even the simplest lines and combines well with trimmings of the same or contrasting material. This model is made without a lining, and the back of the waist extends over the front to give a yoke effect with a notched tab. The attached skirt is a 5-piece design finished with a deep hem at the lower edge and trimmed on either side of the front with large pockets. In medium size the dress requires 3 1/2 yards 64-inch material, with 1/2 yard contrasting material for collar and belt. There can be no mistake in cutting the dress if the guide is carefully studied, for each section of the pattern is placed to secure smart lines and avoid waste of material. The collar sections and back of the waist are laid on the lengthwise fold of goods as illustrated, and the belt is placed in the same way, but can be laid crosswise also if desired.

The front gore of the skirt runs parallel with the selvage of the voile, resting on a lengthwise thread. The sleeve and pocket come next, and to the right of these is the front and cuff. After these sections are placed there still remains considerable space on which to place the back gore of the skirt.

If the tubular effect is not wanted for the yoke, then cut off the pointed shoulder edge of back 1/2 inch forward on line of small "o" perforations. To shorten the skirt the hem may be made deeper or the lower edges of the gores cut off the desired amount.

While the use of contrasting material for the belt and collar are exceedingly smart, the dress will be in equally good taste if made entirely of the voile.
