were forwarded from Prince Rupert The halibut taken to British Columbia ports, and principally to Prince Rupert, was valued at $1,734. 200 while the herring catch brought $955,583 and coe $258,885. The report demonstrates how large has been the transfer of fishing vessels previously operating from Seattle and Ketchikan to the Canadian port of Prince Rupert where the operators now sell their catch, obtain bait and outfit for their fishing trips.

Memorial for Canadian Soldiers,

A memorial to Canadian soldiers who completed their training on Salisbury Plain has recently been unveiled at Salisbury Council Chamber by Lady Campbell, wife of General Sir Pitcairn Campbell.

General Campbell referred appreclatively to the great services performed for the Empire by the overseas troops; and General Steel, in offering the thanks of the Canadians to the citizens of Salisbury for the memorial, spoke, he said? as the son of a British officer who had fought against Napoleon. Canada, he said. had always been ready to stand by the Empire and was going to do so to the last gasp. It would be the fault of politicians and not of the soldier the Kaiser was not crushed, if Krupp's factory was not flattened, if every fort in Germany was not leveled, if the Kiel Canal was not made a waterway to all nations, and if we did not get back Heligoland.
