Many Military Matters

(Continued from page 8.) The military carnival, which is being run under the auspices of the 146th Battalion, is proving the centre of attraction in military circles this week. The Armouries never looked prettier. Directly facing the main entrance is the large booth of the Royal Military College. On all sides are others of different sizes. In the western end is that of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery. Booths representing every branch of the military work from the recruiting depot near the door to the Veterans' Reserve exhibit across the hall there is every stage of the military game represented. It is an educational exhibition and is proving of the greatest interest. It is stimulating the military spirit through the civilian ranks, and owing to the very important part that martial deeds now play in every person's life, it is important that everything possible should be learned. There are hundreds of instruments and machines that are used by the soldiers of the garrison which to the civilian are very interesting novelties. At the Armouries it is taken only a casual look at everything but the bounty to take in knowledge that will prove invaluable just now.

The rivalry that is existing between the different branches is making the exhibits of the highest class and those who visit the carnival will carry away a pleasing remembrance of having been shown something entirely new and something that is of vital importance to the defense of the Empire.

The Royal Canadian Horse Artillery band is giving a concert every evening in the Armouries as part of the programme.

All the men of the 146th Battalion and many teams from other units are here for the big event. It was planned by Lieut.-Col. C. A. Low to have teams from every battalion in the division but owing to the fact so many are only in process of organization it was found impossible to send very many. Lieut. F. Ingledew, 109th Lindsay Battalion, brought down fifteen machine gun experts and these will enter several of the contests.

Lieut. F. Newlands, 146th Battalion, is endeavoring to arrange a game between the 93rd Peterboro Battalion team and the 146th team. If arrangements can be made it will be a splendid game. Peterboro team is in the intermediate O. H. A. series but the local battalion could put up a team that would make even more than a close contest for the honors.

Sergt. Albert Chapman, A. M. C., has been detailed for duty at Fort

Henry vice Sergt. Fuller, A.M.C., promoted to the rank of quartermaster-serjeant and detailed for duty as Aid Instructor, 3rd Military Division.

Retreat is being sounded at 5.40 p. m., this week.

Hon. Lieut.-Col. R. S. Low has been appointed to command the 4th Pioneer Battalion to be raised in Eastern Canada and mobilized at Ottawa.

R. Dowdell, W. H. Jones, G. E. Wong have been made lance-corporals and G. B. Spoor has been made a corporal in the 146th Battalion.

Lieut. Norman G. Crothers has been appointed to the 146th Battalion.

The following have been taken on the strength of the 146th Battalion: P. L. Metcalfe, Delbert Lewis, D. McClelland, Frederick Stone, F. J. Tompkins, C. L. Wagar, R. E. Lambert, G. E. Ball, Charles S. Ball Roy Wagar.

The following were taken on the strength of "C" Battery, R.C.H. A.: N. C. Anderson, H. A. Wilson, N. L. Wilson, T. C. Burt, H. Varley, W. J. Spicer, R. G. Hines.

The monthly meeting of the sergeants in the R. C. H. A., Depot Sergeants' Mess was held on Saturday.

Lieut.-Col. H. J. Dawson, officer commanding 59th Battalion, was in the city on Monday. The battalion is waiting expectantly for orders to proceed overseas as it is now well trained and eager to get into the fray.

Major George H. Gillespie, O. and I. of C. C., has returned from an extensive inspection trip through the division inspecting the equipment of the many militia regiments. Major Gillespie will inspect the stores of the 47th Regiment this week.

Lieut.-Col. J. E. de Hertel is getting both money and men for the 13th Battalion. With the same original ideas that brought hundreds of recruits to Barfield camp from the 42nd Regiment the popular colonel has now a full-fledged opera troop on the road. It towns all through the district with the lion round about and you can bet that I will fight hard and fast from the start until it ends.

A cut from ten to fifteen cents in the retail price of golf balls in the United States was announced by the dealers yesterday. This cut will apply only to the cheaper grade of balls, and is due to the running out of the Haskell patent, which expires on April 11. Both imported and American balls selling at seventy-five cents will remain at the same figure.

It is expected that the British shilling ball will be sold in this country in future and American manufacturers are now turning out a ball at a quarter to compete with the English article.

Hamilton Herald: It's hard to admit, but true, that Hamilton has many grand stand referees among its hockey followers. The week's clearly shown Friday night when a certain element chose to make the voyage of Referee Lou Marsh of Toronto quite rough. He didn't deserve it. Marsh is one of the most capable officials in Canada, and knows more about the game in five minutes than the majority of his critics ever knew.

Marsh is always the boss when he is in charge of the game, and his decisions are given in a fearless manner. There was nothing done by him last night that called for such actions as those by the "kicking" element.

"The life of the average ball player is, I believe, not more than five or six years," says Fielder Jones, the manager of the amalgamated Sluited-Brown team, "but the life of a star is something better than fifteen years. Stars endure, because to be a star you must take proper care of yourself. However, there aren't many stars. You easily can count 'em among the present-day crop. But if you go back a few years you'll find that Wagner, Legach, Mathewson, Wallace, Plank, Crawford and others I cannot mention just now, were as good at 85 as they were when they broke in. Take Eddie Plank, for instance. He's 41, but his arm was as good last year as it ever was. That's an extravagant statement. It's fact. He had as much stuff in the pinch last year as he ever had in his life, and I think he will have it again next season."

Toronto News: By winning Friday night over Queen's the Frontenacs, of Kingston, have given the backers of the local senior teams cause for worry. The Limestone City squad, strengthened by the acquisition of Gooch and Heintzman, will make a bold bid for the championship. Gooch is one of the classiest defence players in amateur hockey, and outside of his skill as a puck-chaser he is a valuable coach for a young team. There is little doubt but that the Kingston club will make it more than interesting for the winners of the local group in the next round, and whether it is the Riveriders or the Argonauts which survive they will have to play better hockey than they have at any time this season to emerge on top.

The explanation is that the standing starts hold forth in the antipodes, and it easily makes a difference of ten seconds to get off winging. Then, too, the races are handicap affairs at various distances, such as nine furlongs and the like. American horses have not been trained to the system, and they are at a disadvantage to compete with the Australian trotters and pacers.

In this country a horse is schooled to start from a turn and score up to the starter for the word. The fields are not sent off until a horse is in his stride and going at a pretty fair speed. We have classes for horses; that is, when a trotter or pacer wins a race in 2.10 or a fraction he has to go in the 2.11 classification the following year.

The appeal of Abel Kiviat and Harry Smith, of New York, against the verdict of professionalism handed down by the Metropolitan Registration Committee, has been dismissed by the Board of Directors of the A. A. U. These men were found guilty of demanding exorbitant "expenses" for competing in a set of games at Schenectady, N. Y. Kiviat insisted upon $75 for his appearance, and Smith demanded $40. Kiviat is one of the best milers anywhere, and was a member of the United States Olympic team of 1912.

The Willard-Moran bout may be staged in an abandoned car barn in New York on March 17th. Tex Rickard reiterates that the price demanded by the Madison Square Garden people for the rental of their arena is too high, and he will put on the bout somewhere else.

I offered the Garden people $6,000 for their place," said Rickard. "They refused it. I'm through figuring on holding the battle there. I've got an old car barn in mind, and I'll stage the fight there."

Andrew Robertson, the prominent horse-breeder of Melbourne, issues a warning to American owners of trotters and pacers who might figure they could clear up over in Australia because mile races are won in 2.20 or worse. There are many trotters capable of going in two minutes and ten seconds over there.

In the World of Sport

David Janoski, the Russian chess master, has arrived in America.

The Ottawa Citizen states that the adoption of the O.H.A. outside rule might improve the N. H. A. No might about it.

Montreal News: The necessity for a thorough overhauling of the rules which govern hockey, as played by the National Hockey Association, becomes more and more apparent as each game is played.

Kingston Frontenacs have to beat Queen's University in the return game on Feb. 18th to win group No. 1 senior championship. Queen's can tie it up by winning that game and beating Brockville twice.

Clarence Kraff, the player who once almost caused a baseball strike, has been purchased by Harrisburg and will be transferred with the rest of the club to Richmond. There it is hoped that he will strike about 300.

Mr. Schaefer, the well-known baseball jester, late of the Washington Americans and later of the Federal League, is now with the New York Americans. Somebody asked him what he would play with the Highlanders this season and he replied "light comedy."

Toronto Telegram: The sportsmen's Battalion has as yet asked no man to join them; they have not made a single speech seeking a recruit. To-day they have 233 men in uniform or waiting to join. Nearly all are Canadians.

Toronto News: Ottawa blames the smell of ammonia for the defeat of the Senators at Toronto, while the Globe asserts that there is always a smell from N. H. A. games. One of the local professionals rises to remark that the odor around the rink might come from the so-called amateur experts who play in the O. H. A. series and get the prize.

The Pittsburgh Baseball Club is still after George Sisler. The Pirates claimed him before the national commission at the time he reported to the Browns. Now that Fielder Jones has such a big squad, the St. Louis Club might be willing to concede the justice of the claim without further argument.

"Birdie" Cree, veteran of the New York Yankees, is slated for the minors for keeps. After doing a comeback following his release to Baltimore in 1914, Cree is now off the Yank pay-roll again. He has been given his unconditional release. Cree came to the Yanks in 1908, was a hard-hitting outfielder, but lost his batting eye.

Jess Willard declared yesterday that the fight with Frank Moran in New York on March 15th will not go the ten rounds and he doubts if
