

Ends Dry, Hoarse or Painful Coughs Quickly

A Simple, Home-Made Remedy, Inexpensive but Unequaled

The prompt and positive results given by this pleasant-tasting home-made cough syrup has caused it to be used in more homes than any other remedy.

Best 2 1/2 ounces Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drug store, pour it into a 16-ounce bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup.

The promptness, certainty and ease with which this Pinex Syrup overcomes a bad cough, croup or throat cold is truly remarkable.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, rich in guaiacol, and is famous the world over for its splendid effect in bronchitis, whooping cough, bronchial asthma and winter coughs.

STOP CATARRH! OPEN NOSTRILS AND HEAD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Relieves Head-Colds at Once.

If your nostrils are clogged and your head is stuffed and you can't breathe freely because of a cold or catarrh, just get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm at any drug store.

Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream into your nostrils and let it penetrate through every air passage of your head, soothing and healing the inflamed, swollen mucous membrane and you get instant relief.

ACTRESS TELLS SECRET

A Well Known Actress Tells How She Darkened Her Gray Hair and Promoted Its Growth With a Simple Home Made Mixture.

Miss Blanche Rose, a well-known actress, who darkened her gray hair with a simple preparation which she mixed at home, in a recent interview at Chicago, Ill., made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray hair and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home.

I started to draw up to the table, but I could not find a place for my knees. They wouldn't let me get near enough to the table to carry out my designs on the fish. Seeing my trouble, the girl dropped down to show me how.

Evidently the poet was broke when he said to his best girl: "Drink to me only with thine eyes." One of the great drawbacks in this world is that men never know it is too late until it is too late.

A DINNER IN JAPAN

Troubles of a Hungry Man Not to the Manner Born.

SQUATTING AT THE TABLE.

It Tried the Patience and the Muscles of the Stranger in a Strange Land, but From an Epicurean Standpoint the Worst Was Yet to Come.

Describing an amusing experience in Japan, Homer Croly in Leslie's Weekly tells how, after arriving by train in an interior town, in his efforts to find a hotel, he tried to break into a bank.

What interested me most was something to eat, and opening my mouth to its fullest I panted in. They motioned me to follow upstairs, but I held back, showing that I wanted the dining room, not the bedroom. Seeing a door, which I thought must be the dining room, I pushed it open, but it was the kitchen; so, thinking that they knew more about things than I did, I let them lead me upstairs.

I started to sit down on the milk stool, but it squirted out from under me, while the servant girl made no effort to hide her laughter. Dropping down on the floor, she showed me how to use the milk stool by sitting on the floor and leaning one arm on it, like a picture before Pompeii.

MODERN GREEKS.

Those at Home Outnumbered by These in Other Countries.

What and who are these modern Greeks? The most skeptical investigators admit that in most of them is some blood transmitted from ancient Greece and that there is a proportion of Greek descent in Greece about equal to that of Anglo-Saxon descent in America.

Besides the Greeks in Greece there are other Greeks who far outnumber them. They are found on all the coasts of the Ottoman empire. Crete and the other islands until very lately under Turkish sovereignty have no other inhabitants important in numbers.

Cleopatra and Poisons. Cleopatra assembled all kinds of deadly poisons and began experiments with all the criminals sentenced to death in order to see if the action of the poison was painless.

Saved by a Dream. Hints conveyed by dreams are occasionally worth heeding, says the London Chronicle. The late Lord Dufferin when in Paris dreamed that he was in a hearse on the way to the cemetery.

A Goat's Voice. The drawer was talking into the telephone. "Why—er—ab! I think—ah-b-b!—perhaps—ah-b-b-b!—ah-b-b-b!"

Our idea of a mean man is one who waits until Saturday night to have his hair amputated.

ODD MEMORY TEST.

A Bit of Nonsense Literature Whose Author is Unknown.

There is an odd bit of composition that has figured in nonsense literature as follows: "So she went into a garden to pick a cabbage leaf, to make an apple pie, and a she bear, coming up the street, put her head into the shop and said, 'Do you sell any soap?'

Testing a Freight Car. Shower Baths Are Used For Detecting Leaky Roofs.

Shower baths for freight cars? Certainly. Treating the cars to a good bath every now and then is the method which railroads have devised to prevent having to pay for freight damaged while in transit by water leaking through the car roofs.

Coloring Metals. Almost Any Hue, Bright and Lasting, Quickly Imparted to Brass.

It has been found that metals may be colored quickly and cheaply by forming on their surface a coating of a thin film of a sulphide.

The Penalty of Pride. "When I was running a circus," said a retired showman, "I never lost an opportunity of advertising. I always made it a point to get my name every where, and whenever any one asked for my autograph you may be sure he got it.

EYES OF THE DEER.

An Incident That Spelled a Hunter's Placard in the Chase.

A Canadian hunter tells this incident of how he once came face to face with his quarry and hadn't the heart to fire: "It wasn't a case of 'buck fever,' such as a novice might experience, for I had been a hunter for many years and had killed a good many deer.

Cleanliness in Persia. The Persian spends hours in the "hammams" (Turkish baths), which are very handsome buildings decorated with tiles and embellished with numerous engravings as to the value of cleanliness.

How Scott Bore Adversity. Once when I was staying with Mr. Ruskin he took delight in showing me his Scott manuscripts. He took down "Woodstock" from the shelf, and, turning the leaves over slowly and lovingly, he said: "I think this is the most precious of them all.

Hearing Keener Than Sight. An Irishman, an Englishman and a Scotchman once went up into a tower to see which could see the farthest through a telescope.

One of These Friends. "Wombat, I'm a friend of yours and I must tell you that today Fluddub was saying some very mean things about you."

Assisting the Wicked to Flee. "The wicked flee when no man pursueth," quoted the deacon to the minister.

Laurel Leaves. According to an old tradition, laurel communicates the spirit of poetry and prophecy. Hence the custom of putting laurel leaves under one's pillow to acquire inspiration.
