NEWS ABOUT THE TROOPS QUARTERED IN THE CITY

An officer, on Saturday, advised the Whig that there would be another camp this year on similar lines that at Valcartier in 1914. Inquiries were made of officers as to their opinion on the matter, and they all disapproved of the idea. There is a vast difference between the way the 1st Canadian Overseas Division was trained and the way the men for service abroad are now being made into soldiers.

At Valcartier ninety per cent. of the men had previous military experience. This percentage has rapidly fallen until now few if any of the men who have been in the ranks before the war can be secured. This is proven by the fact that N.C.O.'s are very hard to procure.

In the training of Canada's first contingent the orders read that all possible field work was to be given. This meant not only battalion and battery manoeuvres, but brigade and even division work. The units were combined so that immense tactical schemes would be worked out. This requires large plain and Valcartier was ideal for the purpose. When the Governor-General and the Minister of Militia arrived, for inspections they could be shown great numbers of men moving in mass.

To-day the scheme that will undoubtedly last until the close of the war has been worked out. In England there are reserve battalions and batteries and every officer or man going to France must come through their ranks. Officers on sick leave have no assurance that they will return to their own units and often they reach entirely different parts of the Canadian Division.

The men who are sent over are first drafted into their reserve units. Here they receive their field training. In Canada they have received their discipline and their introduction into military life. No presence was made that they have received the finer parts of war training. That is left to officers in England who have been, at the front know the conditions and are able to impart necessary knowledge without bothering the men with a lot of dress parade stuff which has to be forgotten as soon as the men reach France.

For men to receive discipline and elementary drill, with some instruction in marksmanship and what is absolutely necessary for the laying of a foundation in the soldier's mind for the training he will receive in England, huge camps like Valcartier are not of any value. Camps of less than 5,000 are much more preferable.

The system that has been in use this winter throughout Canada of having soldiers quartered in small lots has proven that for recruiting purposes it is excellent but for sanitary reasons is of the worse possible system.

J. Smith, R. G. Charlton and Victor Francis have been taken on the strength of the 146th Battalion.

Pte. Boswell, 146th Battalion, has provisionally been promoted to the rank of corporal.

The last ride of the officers and N.C.O.'s attending the seventh course of the Royal School of Artillery was held on Saturday morning through the city. The class has broken up and the officers and N.C.O.'s returned to their homes throughout Canada.

Ian MacKinnon, Renfrew, brother of Capt. K. MacKinnon who played with Queen's hockey team and is now in France, has enlisted in the 130th Perth Battalion. He is qualifying as an N.C.O.

Major G. H. Gillespie has returned from an inspection trip through the division where he has been inspecting the equipment of the militia units. He will inspect the 14th Regiment, 4th Hussars and 9th Brigade stores this week.

Dr. J. B. Galligan, Eganville, a Queen's graduate has sailed for England to join the Royal Army Medical Corps. He has full recovered from the shooting accident in Toronto last fall when an automatic revolver which he was unloading for a friend accidentally exploded.

Messrs. Thomas McNeill, Holmes Eyre and Thomas Pender, of the Marine Depot, Prescott, have joined the Canadian Engineers and expect to report at Kingston on Thursday next.

Driver Gay Wilson, 33rd Battery, was, on Tuesday, presented with army field glasses by his former employer, D. P. Boles, Picton, at a dinner given in his honor by Mrs. Boles. Gay was for three years on Mr. Boles' staff and was popular, being straightforward and obliging. He was home on his last leave before going overseas with the ammunition column of the 33rd Battery now at Kingston.

Col. T. D. R. Hemming, D. O. C., was in Ottawa on Saturday inspecting the Engineer's Training Depot.

Pat, wishing to enlist for overseas, presented himself at the recruiting depot. The sergeant in charge looked him over and said:

"No, we can't take you."
 "Why?" asked Pat.
 "Because you are blind in one eye," said the sergeant.

"What difference does that make?" asked Pat.

"Why," said the sergeant, "don't you know that when you shoot off a gun you have to have one eye closed."

"Well," retorted Pat, "begorra I'm all ready to shoot now."

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY IF CONSTIPATED

If Peevish, Feverish and Sick, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given to-day saves a sick child to-morrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

WEBBER IS ARRESTED

CHARGED WITH BEING A FUGITIVE FROM JUSTICE.

Charles Fitzgerald of Godfrey Claims That He Lost $1,900 By Selling Cattle To Webber and Receiving Useless Cheques.

A despatch from Oswego, N.Y., says:

George Webber, a well-known Cape Vincent cattle buyer, was arrested at his home at Williamstown on a warrant issued by United States Commissioner L. W. Baker of this city charging him with being a fugitive from justice. He was brought here and arraigned before Commissioner Baker. The warrant, which was issued on complaint of Charles Fitzgerald of Godfrey, Ont., charges receiving property under false pretences in purchasing seventy head of cattle from Fitzgerald in Canada more than a year ago.

Webber entered a plea of not guilty to the charge and the proceeding was adjourned until Monday when he will be given a hearing. Commissioner Baker declined to grant the defendant bail.

This is Webber's second arrest in the case. On Jan. 28th he was arrested on a similar warrant issued by Commissioner Baker. Through some misunderstanding he was taken before Commissioner Harry Harrington at Rome and was discharged, no one, it is claimed, having appeared against him when the time came for his examination.

The proceedings will be forwarded by Commissioner Baker to Williamstown, where, if the evidence warrants it, the proper papers for his extradition to Canada will be issued. Webber is the son of William Webber and a former resident of Cape Vincent.

He bought cattle extensively from farmers in the vicinity of Kingston. It is charged that he made his payments with checks on the Bank of Cape Vincent, which were returned for lack of funds. Fitzgerald claims that he lost $1,900. T. J. Rigney of Kingston represents Mr. Fitzgerald.
