80TH BAND CONCERT

AT THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE MONDAY NIGHT.

A Small Audience Was Present—The Programme Under the Direction of Bandmaster Stares Was Excellent.

A brilliant performance was given by Bandmaster Stares and his 80th Battalion Band in the Grand Opera House.

One might reasonably have expected also that a large crowd would have turned out to greet the band. But the audience was surprisingly small.

The programme given by the band was an excellently arranged one. It began with the overture "William Tell." Then followed Elgar's "Salut d'Amour," Rimmer's delightful "Les Cloches de St. Malo," "Hymns of Old Church Choir," a grand selection, "Echoes from the Metropolitan," of Tobani; the famous coronation overture "1911" by Hume.

Conductor Stares exercised a fine control over his band, always using careful judgment in his interpretation of the spirit of the thing the band was playing. Applause followed the concluding notes of the overture, and as an encore "Humoresque" (Dvorak's) was given. Elgar's "Salut d'Amour" and "Les Cloches de St. Malo," the latter with bell effects, were played with fine feeling and clever work in unison by the bandmen. The grand selection "1911" overture is another delightful and interesting number, played in a masterly manner by the band. It is conceived on similar lines to "1812," being highly descriptive and full of color. It involves all the national airs of the Empire which are wound round a central theme of a military character. Just as "William Tell" gives the reeds a chance for distinction, this gives the trumpets full play, and in both cases full advantage was taken.

Assisting the band was Miss Victoria Stares, soprano. She has a voice of great purity and sings all her songs with the most delightful ease and effect. Particularly pleasing were her renderings of "Shepherd Thy Demour Vary," "That's Enough for Me," "Wake up," "The March Away," "The Flower Song," "Annie Laurie," "Black Birds," W. E. Wheatly was the accompanist.

Why Support the Y. M. C. A.

Because it is a "character factory"—not a fashionable club. It is not, and cannot be, self supporting because it sets membership privileges at a loss to both men and boys. This loss is made up by the subscriptions of public spirited citizens.

Because its doors are open to boys and men of all classes and creeds. Because of its wide open doors to the soldier and the stranger in the city.

Goes to Jail.

Cornelius McMahon will spend the next thirty day in the county jail. On Tuesday morning in Police Court he pleaded guilty to taking a razor, the property of W. J. Crozier, barber, Ontario street.

When the charge was read to him by the court McMahon stated that he was drunk and did not intend to keep the razor. His record was against him.

THE HALLS OF QUEEN'S.

Latest News From the University Journal.

S. H. Marshall, of '17, better known as "Cady," has secured a commission in the Canadian Engineers and will take the course at the next Instructional School for Engineers which begins on March 10th at Ottawa.

Sapper Ralph, who has been at the front under Major (Prof.) Macphail, is the city quartered in one of the convalescent homes here. Ralph entered Queen's on a B.A., B.Sc. course in the fall of '13, and when war broke out was called to Valcartier with the 5th F.C.C.E. where he enlisted under Major Macphail, and with whom he has seen service in France, where he was wounded and invalided home. Corpl. Ralph is also a member of Arts '17.

A HEAVY SNOWSTORM

That Impeded Traffic Owing To the Thaw.

All Monday night and for part of Tuesday morning the Weather Man handed to Kingston an old-fashioned snowstorm. The snow came down in quantities, and with the high wind drifted badly. Walking was very disagreeable after eight o'clock, and there was a run on the cab stands.

The railways were more or less affected. The morning C. P. R. train to the city was late. The temperature rose on Tuesday morning and a stiff crust formed on the snow, making it very difficult for the trains to keep the tracks clear.

The street sweeper were out all night clearing the tracks.

For Kingston War Prisoners.

The American Consul states that if seventy-five people put their names down to contribute $1 a month to the prisoners-of-war fund the next and every shipment to the Kingston boys in future will be of a standard that will make it possible for practically everything necessary to be sent. The response in the last week has been quite satisfactory, and if it continues the total of $200 in goods and money will be subscribed. As the consul is doing this work without compensation, citizens should co-operate in every possible way.

ON-GWA NA-DA' TAKEN

BY THE GOVERNMENT FOR A CONVALESCENT HOME.

It Will Be Made a Ninety-Bed Hospital and An Operating Room Will Be Installed.

On-gwa-na-da the home of Lieut. Col. A. B. Cunningham, King street west, has been accepted by the Military Department as a convalescent home for returned soldiers. Mr. Cunningham intends to vacate the premises at once and take up residence on Earl street in the home formerly occupied by his mother.

It is understood that it is the intention of Major R. J. Gardner, A. D. M. S., to make the home into a ninety-bed hospital with an up-to-date operating room. Some of the soldiers who are receiving treatment in the city still have to undergo a second operation to have pieces of shrapnel removed.

The new convalescent home is probably the best located for a hospital in Kingston. It is situated along the shore, which means that during the warm weather the soldiers can enjoy swimming. There is also a fine wharf on the property.

The Cunningham home was at one time owned by Mrs. Morton, later by Lieut. Col. Smith and then by the late E. J. B. Pense. When Mr. Pense purchased the property he spent a considerable amount of money to make it one of the finest residences in Kingston. After his death, Mr. Cunningham purchased it.

Any soldier who returns from the battle-front has the privilege of staying which convalescent home he wishes to enter. For instance if he comes out West but wants to go to a Kingston convalescent home, on account of his friends living in this locality, his request is granted.

Taking Harbor Soundings.

The Department of Public Works is now taking definite action to secure data about Kingston harbor so that extensive improvements that will make it ready for the deepening of the Welland Canal may be made. A gang of men are now taking soundings from Cataract Bridge to the Dominion Textile Company's factory on the river. A diamond drill is being used. The work is being done under the supervision of Engineer Beckwith.

The Soldier's Interpretation of Y. M. C. A.

In city, in camp, in barracks, and on the firing line the soldier interprets the letters "Y.M.C.A." as "You-May-Call-Again", and so they do by the hundreds—wherever the "Y" does business; khaki is the predominant color. Help the Y.M.C.A. continue this good work; Send along your subscription.

To Choose The Site.

A meeting of the Orangemen of the city was held on Monday evening to consider and approve of the selling of their hall. The reasons given for the sale is that the Factory Act would have made extensive alterations necessary. The alterations would mean wider stairs and fire escapes which, owing to the construction of the building, would be expensive. A committee was appointed to co-operate with the judges trustees in the choosing of a new site.

Just Received.

Prevost, Brock street, has just received a case of Flannel Shirts. They are all good quality and different patterns, assorted sizes; all new goods. See the display of them in St. George's Cathedral.

LOOKING FOR REIGEL.

A Kingston Man of Unestablished Nationality.

It is understood that the authorities are seeking William Reigel, who about a week ago suddenly left the city, presumably for Montreal, but has not since been located. Reigel lived on Clarence street below King street, and though with no visible means of support seemed to be well supplied with money. His nationality was questioned by the police, but his statement that he was a Canadian was accepted without question. He tried later to prove it, but failed, and then said that he was a naturalized American. This could not be proven either, and in the meantime he departed, going he said to Montreal to be examined. He was born in the Alsace-Lorraine district in 1873, which would make him a German citizen.

Married At Ottawa.

The marriage was quietly solemnized on Monday afternoon in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa, of Major W. P. Wilgar, of the Canadian Engineers, and Miss Gertrude Ross Low, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Low. Rev. Dr. W. T. Herdridge officiated and the ceremony was witnessed by the relatives and a few most intimate friends. The bride wore a costume of brown crepe de chine with small hat of the same shade. Major Wilgar will leave shortly for overseas service.
