Our city and our board have been represented in this terrible struggle and they mourn the death or disablement of some of our finest young men. The convalescent homes contain some of those who have been at the front. They have received their baptism of fire, and, bearing the marks of the flery assaults of the enemy, have returned to recover health or fitness for ser- tory of the Company. The Fronten-

Industrial Activity.

Industrially the city has not made any noticeable advance during the last year. During the lull which followed the boom period our members had occasion to take stock. At the present time the largest factor in the success of the city is the cheap power of which Kingston has too long been deprived. The City is so far away from the sources, of electric power as to not be so readily served, and yet the prospect now for a service is more cheering than it has been for many years. The Board of Trade can flatter itself that it has been the happy medium through which to express public opinion and stimulate those who have been interested in this power question. At this moment the Hydro-Electric Commission is grappling with the bigger problems of developing power in Eastern Ontario in the interest of the municipalities. Kingston is observant of all this, and it is observ-

Survey Of The City.

The officials of the Board of Trade have put themselves in touch with the commercial and manufacturing interests of the City and have made a note of some things of more than passing interest. The Dominion Textile Company's business in 1915 was far ahead of the business of 1914, and without any enlargement of the plant. The employees recaived an advance of five per cent. in their wages. S. Anglin & Co., lost through a fire, early in the year, their planing mill and saw mill. These have been rebuilt, enlarged and equipped with machinery up to date. The Canadian Locomotive After Three Years Faithful Ser- Company, Limited, built during 1915 new boiler, blacksmith, sheet iron, and super heater shops, at a cost of from $140,000 to $150,000. The Company increased its equipment approximately by the same amount. In My third and last report as your the manufacture of engines, (some to extend its wharves far out into the harbour in order to gain the more room in that direction for the extension of its shops. There appears to be a bar, and one which prevents the Council from favorable action. It is hoped that this matter may be taken up by the Marine Committee of the Board in co-operation with the Council; and that the utmost freedom will be accorded to the Company for the carrying out of its plans.

A. Davis & Co., during the year installed a large power plant. The business was the largest in the hisac Floor & Wall Tile Co., one of the Conspicuous among the fallen is newest concerns, increased its out-
