Russia and Canada.

War and trade and immigration will bring Cauada and Russia into closer and friendlier relations than years ago. The distance between them is not as great now as it use to be. The road across the Pacific is clear, and the way is direct. A Siis now safeguarded by wireless stations along the coasts. New railroads are building, too, and as late as last November a 500-mile road was opened into a rich region of Siberia that hitherto had not been within reach of anybody. A few weeks before fifteen ocomotives and 6,000 tons of steel ails were landed at Vladivostok for nother railroading enterprise in Siberia. Prof. Simpson, inventor of the mous septie ray, has made an offer to Mrs. Fleming to install a complete "S"-ray apparatus, of the type which is working wonders in cleansing and healing wounds.

Not to His Liking.

You could tell by the way he held his head he had once been a soldier. Time had not stooped his shoulder nor robbed him of erectness, though his hair had grown sparse and grey turing the procession of peacefy cars. He stood at a window of Onario's Parliament Buildings watching the drill of a certain company of citizen soldiers. Silently he watched and long, then, turning in high disdain, remarked:

"Thank God we've got a Navy!"

A Great National Public Utility That concerns all merchants and all people THE original Cash Register rang a bell, indicated and recorded the amount of the purchase. It benefited the merchant only.

In a third of a century this old model has developed into a Cash Register that directly benefits every man, woman, and child who spends money in a store.

This new Cash Register equally concerns every merchant and clerk, every banker and wholesaler in this land.

It furnishes every customer with a receipt or sales-

It prints on this the amount paid or charged.

On this is also printed the date of the sale and who

It forces a duplicate, printed record for the merchant.

It prevents disputes over charges and bills paid.

It saves shoppers' time.

It gives the merchant all his profits. It gives him more money for his family.

It promotes more and quicker sales.

It protects each clerk against making errors and against the mistakes of others.

It rewards the diligent clerk by telling his employer which one makes the largest number of sales and which one gets the greatest amount of business. It assures the banker additional security for the money he loans the merchant. It gives the wholesaler additional assurance that the merchant will have money to pay his bills.

It furnishes the banker and the wholesaler mechanical evidence that the merchant's statement of his business is correct.

It is a business necessity.
