

APPOINT TWO NURSES AN AEROPLANE HEARD

TO POSITIONS IN THE KINGSTON GENERAL.

Improvements in the Diet Kitchen — The Nurses Graduating Ceremonies to Be Held Early in May.

The Board of Governors of Kingston General Hospital met on Monday afternoon. The Committee of Management reported that the new matron had not yet been appointed although it was in correspondence with a number and a choice will probably be made from one of these. It also reported that the improvements in the diet kitchen suggested at a former meeting had been completed. A large new steel range and also a very fine gas range had been installed, and the added improvements should make the diet kitchen very efficient. On recommendation of the medical staff backed by the Committee of Management, the Board sanctioned the appointment of Miss Olive Wilson to the position of operating room nurse. Her duties will be almost entirely with surgical cases. Miss Olive O'Neill received the appointment as night supervisor for the whole institution. These two nurses stand high in the present graduating class and will receive their diplomas at the coming graduating exercises.

There are now three vacancies on the list of Life Governors caused by death. Three names have been suggested and will be submitted to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council for approval.

The graduating exercises will be held early in May, the exact date to be fixed later. The exercises this year are expected to be very interesting as the class is larger than usual notwithstanding that three nurses have already been appointed to military duty.

The medical superintendent's report showed March to have been a most active month. Every one visiting the hospital is impressed with the activity manifested in every department. Of course the expenses are exceedingly high as the cost of everything is much higher than a year ago, and for that reason the finances never show any large balance to credit, but the efficiency is being maintained and every effort possible put forth to satisfy the patients and their friends.

Mayor Richardson and Warden Halliday were appointed visiting governors.

The members present were: A. F. Chown, (Chairman), Prof. D. H. Marshall, R. E. Kent, James Crawford, Canon Grout, Rev. D. Laing and F. G. Lockett.

AN AEROPLANE HEARD

FLYING OVER THE CITY ON MONDAY NIGHT

A Number of People Declare They Heard the Noise About 2.30 O'clock In the Morning.

Did you see an aeroplane pass over the city between 2 and 3 o'clock on Tuesday morning?

A number of citizens had a story to tell about seeing a plane go over the city during the early hours of the morning and some of them had visions of an air attack by the Germans.

"I heard it distinctly," said one resident to the Whig. "It was about 2.30 o'clock. The noise was so loud that it awakened me from my sleep. I got up and looked out the window. I could not see anything but from the noise I am sure that it was an aeroplane."

A number of citizens telephoned the Whig to say that they were under the impression that an aeroplane passed over the city.

Some Kingstonsians doubted the story and even went so far as to allege that the citizens had been drinking something stronger than water. However, the people who were "seeing things" stood by their story and claim it is O. K.

Shortly after war was declared stories about aeroplanes hovering over the city were sent so far as to believe that the citizens had been drinking something stronger than water. However, the people who were "seeing things" stood by their story and claim it is O. K.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At The Grand.

The Grand is offering another splendid bill of vaudeville and pictures. Capacity houses greeted the performances of yesterday. Heading the photoplay portion of the bill is Blanche Sweet in "The Ragamuffin."

The story is a thrilling one and contains a theme somewhat similar to "Leah Kleeschna," showing how a young girl is converted from an early life of crime. "Discontent" a two part drama, a one reel laugh producer "A Political Mess", The Topical Budget and the Pathe News-complete the screen end of the bill. Heading the vaudeville is one of the finest water acts on the vaudeville stage. Ethel Dawn June performs feats which one would think were impossible, giving under water tests also sewing, eating, writing and hearing under water. Johnny Bell in a dancing specialty is also very good delineation of a Chinese character.

The Grand has installed a new picture sheet, the last word in such things, being manufactured of the latest materials and found to be the best through numerous experiments.

Hal Johnson in "Miss Modiste."

Hal Johnson, a far-famed actor has written a worth-provoking farce in "Miss Modiste" full of brisk action and tuneful music, which makes it a veritable scream from start to finish. This is not a "one man" show and consequently Mr. Johnson has surrounded himself with such talented people as Lillian Forrest, Eva Swinburne, etc. Inasmuch as there have been many imitators of Mr. Johnson, who were no doubt encouraged by his phenomenal success in the "Arrival of Kitty," we wish to state emphatically that Hal Johnson (himself) will positively appear at the Grand on Wednesday, April 6th, making an night when the above attraction plays here. Secure your seats early as Mr. Johnson's past record is a future guarantee.

At The Strand.

The feature photo-play, "The Martyrs of the Alamo," the five-act Triangle masterpiece, merited the crowded house which saw the screening of this historical spectacle with an all-star Griffith cast at The Strand last evening. The comedy was a two-part Triangle Keystone offering, featuring that well-known Broadway star, Hal Hamilton, supported by a goodly array of Keystone stars, which kept the audience in a happy mood for a good thirty minutes. Tyrone Power also pleased in a strong three-reel drama, while Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Drew, the well known vitagraph comedians, rounded out with a single reel comedy, one of the strongest programmes ever presented in the city. The same bill will be repeated again to-night and at the Wednesday shows.

The Toronto Star says: Rapid has been the rise of a certain James J. Kenney, 374 Crawford street, headquarters staff artillery units at Kingston, one of Toronto's best known young men since he joined the artillery brigade at Kingston last November. From a private in the 34th Battery to captain and paymaster of the artillery brigade is the jump that Kenney has made in five months. Kenney left a good position as salesman with the Ford Motor Company in Toronto, and enlisted as a private in the 34th Battery, C.E.F., at Kingston. He was given the rank of sergeant last February, and promoted to the rank of captain in March and made paymaster to the artillery units, C. E. F., third division at Kingston, under Lieut.-Col. E. C. Arnold, supervisor-artillery units, 3rd division headquarters staff.

Walter Easton is the latest acquisition to the Sportsman's Battalion of the 146th Battalion. He was heartily welcomed when he enlisted on Monday. He is a popular sport and won fame in the Ponic and Oriental baseball aggregations.

Dr. E. B. Meigs, Brockville, came on Monday to Kingston, to be attached to the headquarters of the army medical staff.

A Song For Canadian Soldiers---And Others

When my King and country call me and I'm wanted at the front, When the shrapnel shells are bursting in the air; When the foe in fury charges and we're sent to bear the brunt, And the roll is called for service—I'll be there.

Chorus: When the roll is called for service—I'll be there.

When the Kaiser's lines are broken and his armies out of France, When the Belgian desolation we repair, When the final muster's ordered and the bugle sounds advance, May the God of Battles help me to be there.

Chorus: When the roll is called for service—I'll be there.

When the Allies march through Prussia with the foe in full retreat, That our hearts be kept from Hatred is our prayer, When the sight of might is ended in a crushing last defeat, And the roll is called in Berlin—I'll be there.

Chorus: When the roll is called for service—I'll be there.

When for me the Last Post is sounded and I cross the silent ford, I've a Pilot who of mine fields will be aware, When Reveille sounds in Heaven and the Armies of the Lord sing the Hallelujah Chorus—I'll be there.

Chorus: When the roll is called up yonder—I'll be there.
