AN ASSAULT-AT-ARMS

HELD BY 146TH BATTALION IN CITY HALL.

Some Boxers From the 180th Battalion Took Part, as Well, as Local Boxing and Wrestling Leaders.

The Sportsmen's Platoon of the 146th Battalion held an assault-at-arms in the City Hall on Thursday evening. This makes the third such event the sportsmen's platoon has presented, but it even surpassed the others. Every item was a feature, and the principals were rewarded by loud cheers from a crowded hall. Few people here understand the real significance of the title "Sportsmen's" to the 180th Toronto Battalion, commanded by Lieut.-Col. Greer. It is made up of the finest collection of sportsmen ever brought together for a common cause, and the ranks are filled with champions and ex-champions and would-be champions in every sport. The best talent was brought here from Toronto for Thursday evening's entertainment, and its high standard was appreciated.

The 146th Battalion band gave several selections that were in keeping with the quality of the exhibition. During the evening Lieut.-Col. C. A. Low was called on for a few words, and he thanked the 180th Battalion for the interest it had taken in the local battalion by sending down men to the assault-at-arms. He said that he was strongly in favor of building up the spirit of good clean sport in his battalion, and also valued the fraternity feeling which had brought the 180th representatives to the City. His opening sentence was that it would not be a recruiting address, and his only remark was that there was a large number in the hall who should be in uniform.

The entertainment opened with an introduction in the words of Capt. James T. Sutherland of the referee of the evening, Corpl. Thomas Daley, who was in former days a lightweight champion of Canada.

The first match was between two of the smallest boxers ever seen on a Kingston ring. Each was under ninety pounds in weight. Pte. Butler Pate is now the flyweight champion of Canada, and his opponent was Pte. Bugler Colborne, who holds a similar title in England. This was a splendid exhibition, and both were game to the last of the three two-minute rounds.

Frankie Russell, 114 lbs., will defend his title of bantam champion of Canada in Toronto on Friday next at 108 lbs. He defended it successfully two weeks ago by winning four fights in two nights. His opponent was Charles Christie, 118 lbs., who was defeated in the Boston finals for the American amateur championship, but who held the Canadian championship for four years. He is fighting Elmer Divan, of Buffalo, in Hamilton this (Friday) evening for the Canadian title.

Pte. Pickering, 145 lbs., is an amateur champion, and his opponent was Frank Shea, who for five years had the 155 lbs. championship. He now goes 145 lbs. The Jarvis brothers, of the 14th Regiment Guard, although on duty up to a very short time before their entry into the ring, gave an exhibition of high-class boxing, demonstrating brotherly love to a delighted audience.

"Peewee" Adams, 115 lbs. amateur champion, was billed to scrap with Joseph Donovan, but the latter missed the train, and "Bill" Mara, trainer for the 180th Battalion, took his place. Mara is a well-known trainer in bicycle and baseball circles, and made good success in lightweight boxing until he met with an accident to his hand five years ago. This exhibition was particularly good.

A splendid heavyweight exhibition was given by "Chummy" Bank, heavyweight professional champion of Canada, and Corpl. Rosin, who last week defeated Joseph Gwief. He will defend his title on Saturday next.

The last bout was between Ellerbeck, of Glenvale, and McKimney, of Montreal, in wrestling match of three five-minute periods. This was a closely-contested exhibition, and the bell broke in on what seemed a sure throw by Ellerbeck.

Corpl. "Billy" Breen is a well-known hockey trainer, but also proved himself a high-class entertainer, and filled several numbers with humorous monologues that brought repeated encores.

Frank Russell gave some concertina numbers that were very much enjoyed.

Pte. Goulean, who broke in after three years' experience with "Eddie" Foy and other well-known comedian companies, to enlist in the 180th, sang a number of well received songs.

CAPT. HERBERT BAKER

ANOTHER QUEEN'S GRADUATE KILLED IN ACTION.

Deceased Enlisted With Queen's Engineers—Was Twice Wounded—Given Commission in Royal Engineers.

Capt. Herbert Baker, of the Royal Engineers, serving with the British Expeditionary force in Mesopotamia, has been killed in action. He was the son of Robert Baker, Napanee. The late officer was well known in Kingston, having graduated from Queen's University with the degree of B. A. in 1913 and B.Sc. in 1914. He was a mining engineer. When war broke out in August, 1914, he enlisted in Queen's Engineers under command of Major Alexander Macphail, and went to the front as a sapper. While serving in France he was twice wounded, and was mentioned in despatches for his bravery. As a result of his excellent work on the field, he was ordered to report in England, where he received a commission as lieutenant in the Royal Engineers, and was sent with the British Expeditionary Force to Mesopotamia. For his excellent work on this battlefield he was soon given the rank of captain.

Deceased was a cousin of Lieut. Edwin Baker, who lost his eyesight while fighting with the Canadians in France.

A memorial service is to be held for the deceased in Napanee on Sunday, at which Dr. Goodwin, Dean of the School of Mines, will be present.

WILL DO THE TIME.

Four Men Who Were Heavily Fined Taken to Jail.

The four men who were so heavily fined in the Police Court on Thursday morning, selling liquor to soldiers, were removed to the jail in the afternoon, in default of the payment of a fine of $300 and costs, and will spend the next months in jail. They will be out in time to celebrate the Glorious Twelfth of July, if all is well. Now, instead of selling liquor to soldiers they will be engaged in making tile for the county, and doing odd chores around the court house.

The men were stunned by the heavy sentence imposed on them.

Church Ladies Held Tea.

The members of the Ladies Aid of Princess Street Methodist Church had an enjoyable time at a tea given at the home of Mrs. Caverly, 332 Alfred street, on Thursday afternoon. Among the musical numbers which were greatly appreciated was a solo by Miss Wilson. Mrs. R. Carr-Harris gave a short address. H. P. Raud, a noted Russian exporiter of the Bible, was present and spoke.

Footway Easily Added.

William Leslie, who built the temporary Cataraqui Bridge, says a footway could be easily added. A way for pedestrians is a necessity in view of the tremendous traffic expected when the big Barrield Camp begins. Last year life was sacrificed by pedestrians and vehicles colliding. The President of the Board of Trade is interesting himself in the matter.

Anywhere in the church ought to be an amen corner for good.
