

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Here's Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 50-cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens no naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FORMER CAPTAIN

Of Military Police in Lindsay a Deserter.

Lindsay, April 14.—It has been given out around town that one of the 69th Battalion from Lindsay who left here about one year ago deserted from the regiment the night previous to that assigned for company to leave Brockville for England, and the fellow has never been seen since, though his whereabouts is sought for by the Militia Department.

While in Lindsay he served as captain of the military police, and professed to be a native of Sweden. He spoke German, Swedish, French, Yiddish and English languages, and was looked upon as a clever officer.

It is now a matter of conjecture as to whether he was a spy or an ordinary deserter who got cold feet at the last moment. His sudden disappearance had the effect of withholding the transportation of the troops for several days.

To a companion he previously stated he would never go overseas, and to an officer he left an unpaid account of $30.

Lots of Nerve.

Deseronto, April 13.—Last September a lad by the name of Edgar Covert, along with one Keith Sharp, decided they would join the soldiers, and so ran away from home to Nanpawa and tried to enlist in the 80th Battalion, but, being under age, they were not taken. They came home and remained the winter, being employed locally until a few weeks ago they hiked out for Toronto with the hope of getting in a battalion there.

However, under persuasion of his mother, the Covert lad came home and immediately enlisted with the 155th, and is now quite contented. The lad Sharp secured a position in Toronto and remained there.

At the Age of 75 Years.

Carleton Place, April 14.—Mrs. Edwards, wife of Francis Edwards, passed away on Saturday, aged seventy-five years. The deceased lady was before marriage Abbie Lewis, and lived in Carleton Place for many years. She is survived by her husband and two sons—John L. and Edwin L.—and three daughters.

The funeral took place at the English Church at Franktown, interment being made in the churchyard.

TODAY'S WORK

Today is the time to pursue fortune and to grasp the opportunities at hand. "Tomorrow" is never here, and putting off the good we may have for a questionable future is not the best wisdom. Therefore use today. Do the kindness before you, the duty nearest you, and tomorrow will take care of itself.

Giving Their Groats.

In the course of Montreal's Patriotic Fund campaign, in which the committee went after $1,500,000 and got nearly $2,500,000, a collector approached a group of three men on the street, one of whom he recognized as a worthy but not affluent Scot of his acquaintance. The other two proved also to be from the Land of the Heather, and Harry Lauder, the collector, disclosing his mission, the three at once evinced a willingness to add their groats to a good cause, but a financial inventory showed that one had just a dollar, a second only a dime, and the third but a humble "jitney." These amounts were pooled, and then arose the question as to how the donation was to be acknowledged. After a couple of suggestions had been made, the contributor of the dollar delivered his ultimatum: "Pit it down to 'The Scots Wha Hae and Wha Hae Not.'" And pit down accordingly it was in the official lists.

Labor Glut in British Columbia.

The continued congestion of the labor market in British Columbia has caused the Government to again extend for six months the order-in-Council prohibiting the entry into British Columbia from any foreign country of immigrants who may be classed as artisans or skilled or unskilled laborers. The new order-in-Council will apply until the end of next September.

Reproof.

Kate Sanburn has recalled a blow to her vanity as follows: "I asked," she says, "the carpenter to adorn a weather-beaten door with some putty and a coat of paint."

"Yes'm," he replied, "paint and putty will fix up a thing wonderful. Lots o' humble people use paint and putty. But I guess you and I hain't tried it yet."

J. Wilson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. D. Pennell; treasurer, Mrs. W. S. Abbott; delegate to branch meeting, Mrs. William Carpenter; alternates, Mrs. Thomas Scott and Mrs. W. S. Abbott.

Fish and Game Overseer George Toner is losing no time in getting after the law breakers. Yesterday at Big Bay on St. John Island he seized one hundred and thirty muskrat traps, set on the houses that were broken open.

High School Inspector James E. Wetmore finished his inspection of the local school yesterday, finding teaching staff and equipment in good working order.

Mr. Charles Wood of the 80th Battalion landed at Belleville, has been quarantined at his home on Water street for the past week as one of his children had the measles.

Pte. William McDonald of the 80th Battalion spent the night and day in town with his wife and family, Garden street. Rev. Melvin Taylor spent the forepart of the week in Wellington with his son, Garnet Taylor.

To Have New Officers.

Renfrew, April 14.—At the council meeting of the report of the property committee bearing upon the purchase of the Temperance hotel and acquiring the old Albion hotel, situated upon the market square town property, was adopted. A mortgage upon the former will be taken over by the town and a note given for the balance of $1,800. It is proposed to convert the Albion hotel into town offices, using part of it as a jail, fitting it up with steel cells. The old town hall property, at the back of which is situated the present "lock-up," will be disposed of by tender.

Lieut. Anderson Successful.

Anderson, rector of St. Matthew's Church, has arrived from San Antonio, Texas, where he attended the school of aviation and has successfully passed his examinations. His friends are now congratulating him upon his success. Lieut. Anderson leaves on Monday for the front.

Almonte's Donations.

Almonte, April 14.—At the regular meeting of the town council the by-law granting $5,000 to the patriotic fund and $300 to the 130th Battalion were given third readings and passed. It is intended to raise these amounts by taxation this year.

BREWSTER OF B. C.

Liberal Leader in Pacific Province is Forging to the Front.

After years of discouraging toil and reverses, enough to dry up the enthusiasm and hope of most men, the Knight Solitaire of British Columbia public life, Harlan Carey Brewster, is passing out of the solitude and the shades, and is becoming an important figure in the politics of the Province. His victory in Victoria on March 4 over Hon. Alfred C. Flummerfelt, the recently-appointed Minister of Finance in the Bower Administration, lifted him from nearly the bottom of the political ladder almost to the top.

Why "Knight Solitaire"? Because never did a mediaeval baron have to endure such lonesome fighting and ordeals without colleagues as did Mr. Brewster in the Legislature from 1910 to 1912. When he first entered the House in 1907 things weren't so bad. The Liberal Opposition at that time consisted of fourteen members, but by the end of 1910 it had shrunk to one man, himself. For three sessions, single-handed, he had to fight the battles of the party.

Presented against the overwhelming forces of Sir Richard McBride. Then, in 1912, Brewster himself succumbed temporarily, and the Liberals were left without a single man in the House. In 1913 he was chosen leader of the Liberal party of the Province, but from that time until this week he has had to do the leading from outside the House. Now, not only has he a seat himself, but he has a virile and able assistant in Malcolm M. Macdonald, who a week previously defeated the Conservative candidate in Vancouver.

Mr. Brewster is a fisherman. Not the kind who go out in a small punt and catch a few ciscoes for breakfast, but a fisherman nevertheless. And his face is ruddy with the wind, like all fishermen's faces. It happens that Mr. Brewster fishes in the Pacific Ocean on the stormy west coast of Vancouver Island, but his complexion is the same as that of fishermen on the north shore of our own Lake Erie.

Salmon is what Brewster catches—or rather, the company of which Brewster is the one of the largest canning concerns on the coast. In his business Mr. Brewster has at least two achievements to his credit which augur well for the initiative and originality he needs must show when he becomes Prime Minister of British Columbia. He is said to be the first man to have eliminated Oriental labor from a fishing and canning business on the coast, and besides that, he was the first to introduce sanitary methods of sealing the salmon tins. It was he who began to have them soldered by machinery.

Brewster did not always fish. At one time he was a newspaper man. Films developed at Gibson's.
