

CAPT. THOMAS R. LITTLE,
No. 7 General Hospital (Queen's), at Cairo, Egypt.

Above is a snapshot of the late Sapper James Leonard McQuay (on the right), and of Lance Corporal Walter H. Ellis (on the left), who went from Queen's University with the 6th Field Company Canadian Divisional Engineers to the front under Major Lindsay Malcolm. Sapper McQuay, a former Queen's rugby player, died from wounds, the latter part of February. He and Corpl. Ellis were bosom friends.

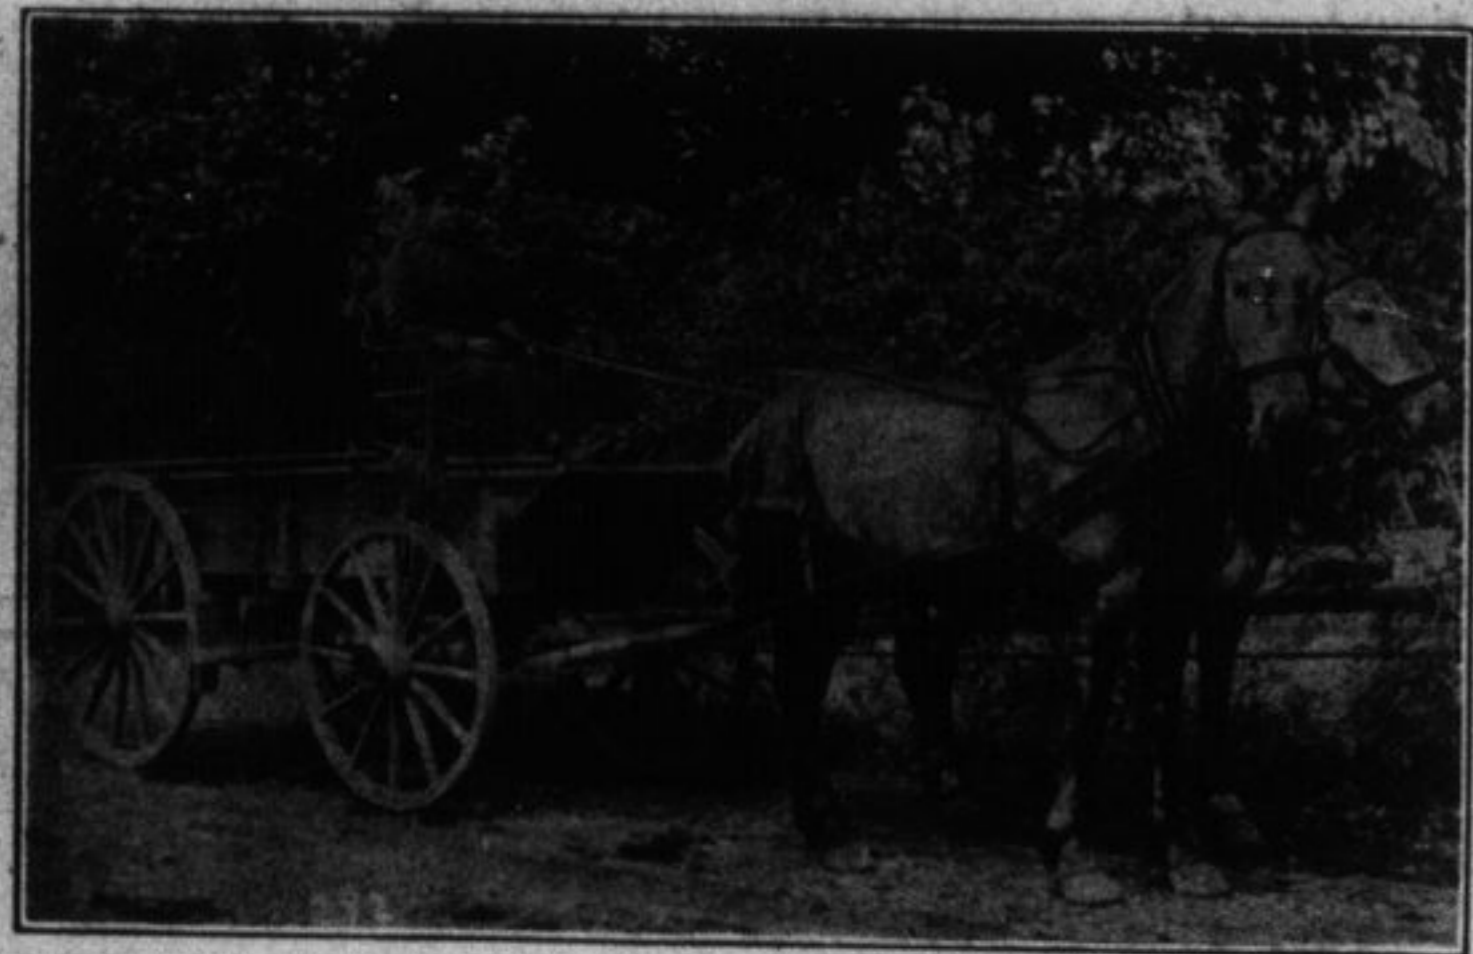

PTE. GEORGE HAGON,
6 Orchard street, Kingston, who is
Overseas with the 21st Battalion.

PTE. GEORGE T. HAGON,
2nd Battalion, son of Mrs. Hagon,
6 Orchard street, Kingston. Pte.
Hagon has been missing since the battle of Langemarck, April 24th, 1915.

Pte. Alex. Bennett, of the 97th Battalion, Toronto, and Pte. Robert Bennett, of the 33rd Battery, Kingston, sons of Robt. J. Bennett, Toronto, and formerly of Kingston.

PTE. CHAS. BAYLIE, KINGSTON,
In France with the Transport Section of the 21st Battalion. This picture was taken at Hythe, Kent, England.

SAPPER ALLAN SHEA,
Who left Kingston with No. 5
F. C., Queen's Engineers, under
Major A. McPhail on Aug. 18th, 1914.

DRIVER W. J. BURNS, JUNIOR,
304 University Avenue, Kingston, overseas with the 33rd Battery under Major W. Sears.

GEORGE ANGROVE

THOMAS ANGROVE

WILLIAM ANGROVE

THREE KINGSTON BROTHERS IN KHAKI.

Three sons of Thos. B. Angrove, Queen Street, serving with the colors. They are all attached to Queen's Stationary Hospital Corps, Cairo, Egypt.

THREE BROTHERS IN ARMS.

Below are three sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell Carruthers, corner Earl and Sydenham streets, Kingston, who are wearing the khaki. Another son, Capt. Colin Gordon Carruthers, was wounded at the Dardanelles.

LIEUT. DUDLEY CARRUTHERS,
37th British Division, Artillery.

LIEUT. DOUGLAS CARRUTHERS,
Canadian Mechanical Transport, France.

CAPT. KENNETH B. CAR-
RUTHERS,
26th Kingston Battery, in France.

SERG. A. H. SMYTHE,
Overseas with the 62nd Vancouver Battalion.

LIEUT. J. C. SMYTHE,
Assistant Adjutant 59th Battalion.

LIEUT. F. A. SMYTHE,
At the front with a draft from the 58th Battalion.

LIEUT. E. B. SMYTHE,
146th Kingston Battalion.

FOUR BROTHERS IN ARMS.

Below are four sons of the late ex-Mayor Edward Smythe, and brother of George H. Smythe, of the legal firm of King & Smythe, Kingston.