OBITUARY

Late Mrs. Mary Mundell.

Mrs. Mary Mundell, who died at her home on Arch street on Tuesday morning, was born in Ireland about eighty-three years ago. Her mother died when she was very young, and soon afterwards her father, James Gardiner, brought her to Canada, settling in Kingston, where until his death in 1849 he kept store opposite the grounds on which Chalmers Church now stands.

She was a resident of Kingston for over seventy years, and had witnessed all the many changes that transformed the town of the forties into the city of to-day. Always of a lively and cheerful disposition, she kept herself young in spirit throughout a long life. Kindly and generous to a fault, she endeared herself to a large circle of friends, by whom she will be long remembered and greatly missed.

An Acrostic

On the name of a much beloved wife and mother.
Heaven now has more attraction,
Earthly ties are vastly less—
Love'd one you are called to leave us,
Entering your eternal rest,
Naught to know but what is best.

Great our hearts pain at the parting,
Really blasting hopes for time,
And we find it hard—but would say:
"His will of love be done—not mine."
And may we live for that meeting—
Meeting and eternal greeting.

Belov'd on earth, you're now in glory
Ever to be free from care,
Waiting for us at the Portals—
Soon Dear One we'll meet you there.
—F. W. LAKE.

A PRISONER OF WAR

Writes to a Kingston Friend From Göttingen, Germany.
Miss L. Reid, 395 Division street, is in receipt of a letter from Pte. A. McCluskey, of the 48th Canadian Highlanders, Toronto, now a prisoner of war at Göttingen, Germany. He writes to thank her for the receipt of parcels from Kingston. Other Canadian prisoners also received similar parcels. The writer enclosed a photo which he had had taken at the detention camp. This will be reproduced in the illustrated section of the Whig later on.
Miss Reid also received a card of thanks from Pte. M. Holden, of the 13th Canadian Battalion, Montreal, also a prisoner. The men greatly appreciate the parcels sent them.

POLICE WERE CALLED

But Drunk Had Been Whisked Off In a Grocery Wagon.
Tuesday forenoon, a telephone message was received at the police station stating that there was a drunken man near the corner of Clergy and Brock streets, and that he should be taken in charge.

Constables Robert Sargeant and Leslie Armstrong hurried to the scene only to find that a man driving by the corner in a grocery wagon had taken pity on the poor unfortunate and had driven him to his home, thus saving the man from the disgrace of being locked up and at the same time probably a fine.

News of Troops in the City

(See also page 12.)

The Militia Department, Ottawa, has issued an order that officers, non-commissioned officers and men now at the front will not be allowed to return to take positions in new overseas units being organized in Canada.

"Commanding officers are therefore requested to submit no applications for officers or men to be so transferred," says the order.

Capt. Donald Robertson, of Ottawa, has been appointed to the command of the Ammunition Column of the new 13th Artillery Brigade being organized here under Lieut.-Col. E. C. Arnold. Lieut. P. A. Wood and Lieut. B. R. McDougall, both of Ottawa, are officers of the Column.

Lieut.-Col. M. K. Adams and Capt. Green of the 155th Battalion, Belleville, were in Kingston on Monday.

The Belleville Intelligencer says: Lieut. Birkett, who commands a Russian platoon in the 80th Battalion, has left the hospital and is now at the home of his parents in Kingston. He will hardly be able to go overseas with the 80th when the battalion goes, but he will join his unit later. The Russians of Mr. Birkett's platoon are devoted to him, and he to them, and the 80th Battalion are anxious to retain the services of so good and efficient an officer.

Capt. Charles E. McLean, medical officer of the 156th Battalion, successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis in the General Hospital, Brockville, on Monday. His sister, Miss Lulu McLean, professional nurse, went down from Kingston to be with him.

LIQUOR RESTRICTION 126 YEARS AGO.

On January 12th, 1790, a resolution was passed by the Court at the Sessions of the Peace restricting tavernkeepers in the sale of liquor to soldiers, officers, tradesmen, etc., to one day a day. It is of interest to note that the Court was composed of Richard Cartwright, Neil McLean, Robert Clark, Archibald McDonald, Stephen Gilbert and Nicholas Hagerman. The records were brought to light by the Clerk of the County Court.

Letters To The Editor

A Lesson in Patriotism.

Kingston, April 17.—To the Editor: I would like you to publish this article in your paper, as it is read more than any other in barracks. It could be called "A Lesson in Patriotism."
There is an enlisted man of the R. C. H. A. who came all the way from Oakland, California, to Toronto to do his "bit." He threw down a position as stage director for Oliver Morosco, the well-known theatrical producer, which paid him a salary of $80 a week. Arnold William Skeen is the gentleman's name. Mr. Skeen has been a resident of Oakland, California, for ten years, first coming from England to America in 1903 to the World's Fair in St. Louis, and thence to California, where he has made his home since 1906, the year of the earthquake. Gunner Skeen (as he now known) is only sorry he did not enlist a year ago, in order that he might be all over before he is sent overseas. This should be a lesson to all those who are still hanging back. Travelling 4,000 miles is quite a journey, so this spirit alone should get him ahead.—SOLDIER.

The Conscription Question.

Kingston, April 18.—(To the Editor): I am one of those who have been in favor of conscription in Canada but I realize the difficulties which confront the Government in dealing with the matter at this time. In an issue of the Whig last week I read a despatch from Toronto stating that Ontario's share of the half million men to be raised in Canada for war purposes was 147,000, and that when this number had been raised, Ontario would have done her "bit." As probably only 30,000 men more require to be raised in Ontario, and these will no doubt be secured by next September, conscription could not be enforced in Ontario to make it do more than other provinces, even if Ontario is the banner province of Canada. If conscription were to be put into effect, Ontario would have to be eliminated, and the additional number of men required would have to be sought largely in the province of Quebec which has not done its duty, but which would if the agitators were removed to the internment camps.—READER.

Injured At Shorncliffe, Eng.

Word was received in the city on Saturday that Bdr. R. D. F. Bruce, R. C. H. A., now of Shorncliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bruce, Nelson street, had met with a painful accident while helping to load a transport wagon with bales of peat moss. One of the bales in falling from the wagon caused the horses to start quickly, throwing Bdr. Bruce under the wheels, and the wagon passed over his body. He is now in a hospital doing as well as can be expected.

It is said that one-fifth of a man's salary is a fair average allowance for rent. Let McCann save you what you pay for rent by selling you a home this fall. Never hit a man when he's down—unless you're sure of your ability to keep him down. A very heavy overseas mail left the city on Tuesday.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

The mere mention of Mary Pickford is sufficient to attract capacity houses to any theatre, and the attendance at the Grand last evening was no exception to the rule. In "The Poulthling" Miss Pickford is offered wide latitude for a display of her charm and versatility, and she takes advantage of every opportunity to arouse one's sympathy and make one feel merry in the role the author has given her. The other photoplays are very pleasing. "Man or Money," a three-reel offering, being very good. "Slim, Fat and Medium" is full of laughs in every move, while the Pathe Gazette and the Topical Budget round out a pleasant evening with the screen.

Russell and Bell headline the vaudeville section. The act is full of timely comedy and some dainty dancing. The songs are snappy and bright, while the costumes are artistic. Miss Bell was formerly understudy to Ruth St. Denys, and offers some classic dances. "Bella Carmen" in an open-theatrical hand offering was well received. She plays catchy melodies. The same bill will be repeated to-night.

"Within the Law."

"Within the Law" is the real underdog play of to-day," wrote Police Commissioner George S. Dougherty. It comes to the Grand on Saturday, April 22nd, matinee and night, and which has had the almost unprecedented record of an eighteen months' run in New York city. Before writing this play, Mr. Vellier was practically unknown. The day after its production, he received so many offers of contracts to write plays that he was forced to flee out of town to keep from signing away enough of his time to cover the remainder of his natural life. This is what inevitably happens to the dramatist who writes a big success. But only a few playwrights achieve such a hit as "Within the Law" during a century of dramatic writing.

"Rolling Stones."

The Grand Opera House announces for its attraction on Easter Monday, matinee and night, "Rolling Stones," a comedy which has attained a remarkable degree of popularity during its six months' engagement in New York, and more recently during a several weeks' run in Boston. It comes here direct from the latter city with cast and production intact. "Rolling Stones" is a comedy of youth and adventure with enough romance and melodramatic incidents to make its story entertaining.

At The Strand.

One of the best photo-play programmes ever seen here was screened to a large and very appreciative audience at the Strand last evening. The bill consists of a 5-set Triangle Griffith production, "The Lily and the Rose" in which "Lillian Gish," that wonderful little actress who played the leading feminine role in "The Birth of a Nation," is seen at her best. The comedy feature is a 2-reel Keystone, "The Great Vacuum Robbery," which kept the audience in a continual roar for thirty minutes. Other members on the bill include "The Spider," a two reel Essay drama, "Adama's Ancestors," one-reel comedy and the "Selig Tribune" showing the world's latest happenings. The same bill will be repeated again to-night and at the Wednesday shows.
