WALDRONS

NAMES ARE REQUIRED

OF ALL KINGSTON MEN SERVING THE KING.

Register Them With The Whig, Where An Accurate List Can Be Kept For Future Reference.

How many Kingstons have enlisted for active service? This is the question which hundreds of citizens have asked the Whig. In the Whig's Prosperity number of April 8th there were given the names of 627 Kingston men who had joined units for overseas service. This number the Whig believes to be not more than one half of the total number of Limestone City men wearing khaki for service abroad.

The Whig's list contained only the following units: 2nd Battalion, Divisional Supply Column, Depot Units of Supply C. A. S. C., 48th Highlanders, No. 1 Divisional Train, 13th Battalion, and No. 2 Stationary Hospital with the 1st Canadian Contingent, 21st Battalion, 59th Battalion, 80th Battalion, 109th Battalion, 22nd Battery, Queen's Stationary Hospital, 13th Mounted Rifles and 77th Battalion.

In the Whig's total there are 95 Kingston graduates and undergraduates of Queen's University who are wearing khaki.

It is the desire of the Whig to secure a complete list of all Kingston men who have joined overseas units, and it invites the co-operation of the people in compiling the list. If any of our readers know of Kingstons in khaki whose names have not already been published, will they kindly send them in by card or letter, with full particulars? The additional lists will be published later.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

The Grand was filled to capacity last night to witness Mary Pickford in the Famous Players five reel photo play of "The Foundling," and the other good pictures on the bill. Together with the splendid vaudeville acts presented for the first half of this week, the same programme will be repeated to-night for the last time. The excellent bill secured for to-morrow and Good Friday, includes Fannie Ward, in a five reel Famous Players photo play of "Tennessee Partner," in which Miss Ward plays "Tennessee," a waif of the plains, the story opens where her parents are making a trip across the continent in a prairie schooner. The other photo plays are a Universal two-reel feature, the Pathe News, the Paramount travel pictures and a comedy film, together with two polite vaudeville acts, which will make a splendid programme.

"Within the Law."

Bayard Veiller's "Within the Law," which ran for an entire year at the Eltinge Theatre, New York city, and which will be seen here at the Grand on Saturday, April 22nd, heralds matinee and night, is the melodrama treating of modern conditions in New York life, which has caused a sensation not only in the metropolis, but throughout the country, for it has provoked editorial comment and praise from such eminent Americans as Rev. Charles H. Parkhurst, who wrote of the play: "All employers of labor, who underpay their women employees, should go to see this play for the lesson it will teach them" and the Bishop of Wyoming, who said: "I shall never forget the lesson it portrayed." "Within the Law" is in four acts, and as many scenes.

"Rolling Stones," Easter Monday.

"Rolling Stones," Edgar Selwyn's newest comedy, will be seen at the Grand on Easter Monday, matinee and night. Mr. Selwyn, hardly needs any introduction to local theatre-goers. He has appeared here on various occasions as an actor, and has always been considered one of the best. The story of his latest play, "Rolling Stones," revolves around the efforts of two down-and-out youths to show that the world owes every man a living. The play will be presented here by the same company intact that appeared in the play during its six months' engagement at New York.

Is Mary Pickford Married?

This question has been puzzling thousands of ladies. For their benefit we answer. Yes. To whom? To Owen Moore, who is also a screen star of no mean ability. You have seen and known Mary. What is more natural than a desire to see the man who Mary fell for. He is a lucky fellow, also a smooth, handsome and a capable actor. You can see him at the Strand on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, where he will appear as a co-star with "Dorothy Gish" in a five act Triangle play, "Jordan Is a Hard Road." Don't miss this chance of seeing Mary's hubby and deciding whether you agree with her or if you would have picked a different looking man had you been in her shoes. A two-act Keystone "Fatty and the Broadway Stars" and three other good photo plays will also be shown.
