PERANCE ACT. Income Tax On Places Where Liquor

Is Sold Is That To Be Collected For 1916. Clause 146 of the Ontario Temperance Act just passed means a loss of $1,458 in taxes to the city this year The clause reads as follows:

"Notwithstanding provisions of the Assessment Act, no distillery. brewer, maltster or holder of a tavern or shop license, or a club in which spirituous or fermented liquors are furnished, shall be liable for, nor shall any municipal corporation levy or collect from any such person or club, any taxes for the year 1916 in respect of business as-

By the clause the city will lose its business tax by reason of the reduction in the assessment, while the Government will get the war tax on the full assessment taken in 1915. "It should not go into force until the taxes for 1917 are being collected.' said an alderman. "To strike the taxes off the liquor business for the year 1916, is manifestly unfair where a municipality collects taxes on an assessment taken the previous year. By making it apply to 1917, it would practically be an instruction to the assessors as to what they should do in taking the assessments this year." The income tax paid by hotels amounts to $1,153; by liquor stores $207 and by the Frontenac Club $98.

One Million Seven Hundred and Twenty-four Thousand Dollars for New Buildings in Canada Since the War Began

WHY?

Is Canada prosperous?

Are we justified in having the courage and confidence to put on full speed ahead in our business

The experience of the Canadian Ford Company since that never-to-be-forgotten Aug. 1, 1914, indi-cates that courage and confidence should be away above par, that we are fully justified in casting aside anxiety and putting our full energy into an aggressive and progressive business policy.

It was some time before the outbreak of war that the Ford Canadian Company decided on an extremely broad policy of expansion

If the demand for Ford cars should increase in the way that it had every indication of doing, then new-buildings would have to be started at once to enable the company to meet this demand.

When war came the Ford Canadian executives saw no reason to change their plans—their confidence in Canada's prosperity never wavered.

So work was begun on a new building at Ford City costing $452,000. This is used as an addition to the office building and to the main factory building. It adds 130,000 square feet of floor space to the Ford Plant, bringing the total up to more than 9 acres. Then followed a new machine shop costing $90,000.

The power plant was also enlarged at a cost of

In four leading Canadian cities, handsome new uildings were erected as branch assembly plants, sales and service stations. Each one is as large as many automobile factories. All are of similar construction, being modern fire-proof buildings of brick and reinforced concrete trimmed with mat glazed terra cotta. The bases are of granite. The interiors are finished and fitted in accordance with the very best modern practice.

One of the branch buildings is located at Montreal, 119-139 Laurier Ave., East. It is a four story building containing 124,000 square feet of floor space and costing $333,000. Over 100 people are employed

The Ford branch at Toronto, 672-682 Dupont St.; is a five-story building containing 132,000 square feet of floor space. The number of employes is about 150. The third new branch building is at London, Ontario at 680-690 Waterloo Street. It is a three story structure having 49,872 square feet of floor space and was erected at a cost of $161,000.

The immensely increasing demand for Ford cars in Western Canada made it necessary to build a fourth new branch at Winnipeg. This is a handsome five story building located at the corner of Portage Avenue and Wall Street. A quarter of a million dollars was put into its construction The total cost of these new buildings erected by the Ford Canadian Company since war began is $1,724,000 Additional to this are thousands of dollars spent to equip these buildings.

Why has this been done? First, to provide Ford owners with greater service facilities. Each of these branches is so completely equipped with parts and machinery as to be able to build a Ford car complete. Also they act as a base for build a Ford car complete. Also they act as a base for the hundreds of Ford dealers in their part of the country, each of whose place of business is a well equipped Ford service station, in giving more rapid and more efficient service to Ford owners.

The second reason for this great amount of development work is to be found in the attitude of the Ford Canadian executives. If these men had followed the policy of many Canadian manufacturers they, with seeming good judgment, might have held up these plans for such enormously expensive construction work.

But such was not their attitude. They were convinced that progress and prosperity were assured in

This decision was of vast benefit to Canadian industries, Canadian merchants and Canadian workmen in such a critical time as this. Practically all the material for these buildings was purchased in Canada. Canadian workmen were employed in their construction. And after the construction work was over, the whole community benefitted from the enthusiastic, successful, wealth producing and distributing activities of these big establishments.

THE LATE DR. RYCKMAN.

Some Characteristic Actions Of The Distinguished Clergyman.

Christian Guardian, Toronto.
The late Rev. E. B. Ryckman, D. D., was deeply interested in the mission work of our church, and as a member of the General Board and Executive for many years was held in the highest possible regard. His last visit to the Mission Rooms was on Thursday, Feb. 3rd. He then said that he had noticed in the Christion Guardian that the receipts for the General Fund were not equal to those of the same date last year, and that therefore he desired to make his contribution now. He enquired if, by paying the amount in Toronto, it could be credited to the particular church of which he was a member, namely, Sydenham Church, Kingston, and seemed very much gratified when told that that could readily be done. He then drew out his cheque book and wrote a cheque for $150, being his contribution to the Missionary Society for the current year. He was apparently in good health and spirits, as capable of transacting bu-siness and as amiable and genial as he had always been to those at the Mission Rooms, who had known him all along through the years and had easily learned to love and esteem his saintly character.

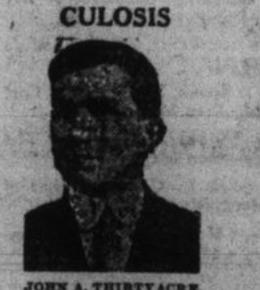

On April 14th the General Superintendent received a letter from his son, E. B. Ryckman, barrister, Toronto, in which he enclosed a cheque, on his father's behalf, for $1,000, and said: "In an informal testamentary paper which my father wrote with his own hands four days before he passed away, and certainly not expecting that the time was so near at hand, he said, 'I have not been a money-seeker, yet I declare, to the praise of the good Providence to whom I committed myself at the beginning, that without care, effort or concern of mine, my temporal wants have always been abundantly supplied. My worldly possessions are but small.' Then, speaking of his balance at the bank, and no doubt because the sum presently mentioned was a relatively large portion of it he said, 'I desire that $1,000 of that balance be given as a donation to the Methodist Missionary Society, for the purposes of the general fund, as the Board of Management may deter-mine. I dispose of that amount in demption that is in Christ."

Commission Government It seems just to say that the introduction of the McGarry bill in the Legislature is a confession that Mr. Clancy has, substantially, made his case against the Hydro-Electric Commission. There is, apparently, no ground for the r'diculous protension that the bill endangers public ownership or affects the public usefulness of Mr. Beck. It provides, merely, we understand, means, which may be relied on, to oblige the Commission to keep within the scope of its employthis way, not with the slightest ment. The government recognizes, no thought of improving my prospects of future blessedness, but simply because I love the kingdom of God on earth and the missionary cause of electors, who note with alarm the content to which the Louisiature has doubt, that, if it were now to yield the Church to which I belong, and extent to which the Legislature has have confidence in the integrity and been delegating its functions.
