

Montgomery Dye Works

For the Best in French Dry Cleaning, Dyeing and Pressing. J. B. HARRIS, Prop., 225 Princess St.

Tanked

Our modern 40 gallon Stained Tanks are capable of handling any number of films a day. We are now putting through from 50 to 85 rolls, and with increased staff of operators can promise the same prompt service at 10 cents a roll.

Films

We guarantee to sell you the best films made and will replace any which are defective.

Supplies

We can supply the most satisfactory papers and developers used to-day. Cassette of all makes sold, exchanged, reloaded and repaired.

Best's

The Popular Drug Store. OPEN SUNDAYS.

SEE US WHEN YOU CANNOT SEE

A Paradox? No!

We provide proper glasses through which you can see.

Being eyesight specialists we know when eyes are wrong and why glasses are right.

See us—we understand our business.

KEELEY Jr., M. O. D. O

OPTOMETRIST AND OPTICIAN 225 Princess Street 2 doors above the Opera House

For You Expressly!

New Easter Apparel Accomplishments

New Shirts, in Soft or Stiff Cuffs, Satin stripes and Algerian Silks.

New Neckwear

Fresh from the looms in Switzerland, in very choice designs, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

New Hats

Pearl and Steel Grey, Blue and Black. These are in new spring shapes in soft felt.

Spring Coats and Spring Suits in our matchless styles.

Fair prices—and good service.

E.P. Jenkins' Clothing Co.

There were female matchmakers thousands of years before matches were invented.

LORD FRENCH GIVES PRAISE

To the Canadian Troops At the Front.

GLORIOUS GALLANTRY

SAYS THE GREAT BRITISH FIELD MARSHAL.

The Canadians Have Again More Than Held Their Own Against A Toxic Artillery Fire.

London, April 23.—Field Marshal Lord French, K.C.M.G., G.C.B., has always had a soft spot in his heart for Canada, and when I applied for something that would let Canada know he had not forgotten the Canadians at Ypres—as the Canadians surely had not forgotten him and the many kindly things he did for them in their early war days in France and Flanders—the Field Marshal promptly gave me the following message: "On the anniversary of the Second Battle of Ypres I take this opportunity of testifying once more to the glorious gallantry of the Canadian troops.

"I have watched with the greatest interest the rapid growth of the Canadian Contingent in the field, and it is impossible, in my opinion, to overestimate the value of the support thus given to our armies.

"At Ypres, and in other places, they have fought nobly. There is no part of Britain to which their fame has not reached. Their determination and fighting qualities are appreciated by the whole Empire."

Canadians Outdo Enemy.

Northern France, April 23.—Battling here every hour of the day and night, almost where the Canadians fought and saved the day exactly a year ago, the infantry from overseas have more of than held their own against what has probably been the most terrific artillery fire outside of Verdun.

What the Germans want and what they hope to accomplish we do not know, but this fighting has proved that, beyond the sudden concentration of guns which any attacking force might achieve, we have more than held our own in hand-to-hand combats among the dilapidated trenches honored by the name of trenches.

AMBASSADORS' PRIVILEGES

They Cannot Be Forced to Pay Their Bills in England.

The tragic death of the First Secretary of the Italian Ambassador at a London hotel recently had a curious sequel. The Ambassador put forward the unusual plea of "diplomatic immunity," and the result was that inquest was held. The last occasion on which this plea was put forward was when, many years ago, attempts to hold inquests on deceased members of the Chinese Embassy were defeated by recourse to the Act. Ambassadors, however, have many peculiar privileges of which the general public know very little. In the first place, an embassy or legation is, to all intents and purposes, a piece of the country which it represents, and consequently an ambassador and his staff are not affected by the ordinary laws of the country in which the legation stands. This was emphasized some years ago when a certain gentleman whose name was well known at the particular period was kidnapped into the Chinese Legation. An inspector from Scotland Yard immediately proceeded to the legation and released the prisoner. This was a most serious breach of international law, and quite a sensation in diplomatic circles at the time.

An ambassador cannot be sued. In fact, he is immune from legal proceedings by a statute which was passed to appease the wrath of Peter the Great of Russia, whose ambassador was actually arrested in London for a debt of £50.

In 1909 Bethmann Hollweg, the German Ambassador in London, claimed to be exempt from rates in respect of his residence at Walton-on-Thames, and although the Walton authorities took up the matter with the Treasury, the latter upheld the ambassador's claim. Again, in Washington, in 1904, a member of the British Embassy successfully claimed to be outside the law when charged with exceeding the motor speed-limit.

An ambassador cannot be forced to pay his bills or forced to give evidence in the law courts. He is free from paying customs duties, and if his footman is summoned for being drunk and incapable in the streets (this has actually happened in London) he can save him from being fined.

The most curious of an ambassador's privileges is that when dismissed from an audience with the Sovereign to which he is accredited, he may turn his back to the court. He also has the right to demand admission to the Sovereign by day or by night. An ambassador's wife is regarded as almost as important a person as the ambassador. Not only is she addressed as "Your Excellency," but any insult offered to her is as much an affront, and even a cause for war, as would be one offered to her husband or his country.

The ambassador has the right to sit in the presence of the Sovereign of the country to which her better half is accredited, and, like her husband, cannot be arrested or sued for debt.

A Mid-Air Thrill.

The flying corps of all the armies have distinguished themselves for daring and gallantry during the present war. An eye-witness at the British Headquarters tells about one thrilling episode that was more sensational than most of the adventures that occur along the front almost daily.

A British airman, alone in a single-seated aeroplane, saw and pursued a German machine. While trying to reload his machine-gun he lost control of his steering-gear, and the aeroplane turned upside down. The belt round the man's waist was rather loose, and the jerk almost threw him out of the machine, but he saved himself by clutching hold of the rear centre strut, while the belt slipped down round his legs.

As he hung thus, head downwards, making desperate efforts to disengage his legs the aeroplane fell from a height of 8,000ft. to about 2,500ft., spinning round and round like a falling leaf. At last he managed to free his legs and reach the control lever with his foot. Then he succeeded in righting the machine, which turned slowly over completely "looping the loop." Thereupon the pilot slid back into his seat and came composedly to the ground.

THE BILINGUAL QUESTION.

Looms Smaller Than It Did A Week Ago.

Ottawa, April 25.—The bilingual question looms smaller than it did a week ago, the fact that an appeal has been entered to the Privy Council from the Ontario County Commission to the Separate School Commission Legislation is taken to indicate that hope has been abandoned of all federal action in the matter. Only two days will remain when the House opens for discussion. The reply of His Royal Highness to Archbishop Bruchesi, published on Saturday from Montreal, has been welcomed as contributing a note of conciliation coming from without and above the parties and the warring elements. Even if the matter does come up in the Commons now it cannot be attributed to the discredit of any party for taking a stand toward conciliation on the matter.

Calling The Faiths.

Ottawa (Citizen). The anxiety of Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P., to learn officially the judgment of varieties of church faith among the Canadian recruits would hardly be satisfactorily answered by the hard-bitten old sergeant in the Submarine Miners. "There were only two churches within marching distance of the camp; Anglican and Roman, and there seemed to be rather a large number of men with conscientious scruples about attending either. So when the squad paraded on Sunday morning, old Bob, the sergeant-major, exclaimed, 'Catholics, one pace to the rear! England, one pace to the rear! Faith religions, fall out for fatigue!'"

"Blessed be the tie that binds not," would be an appropriate slogan for the Ohio woman who has been divorced seven times.

AMBASSADORS' PRIVILEGES

They Cannot Be Forced to Pay Their Bills in England.

The tragic death of the First Secretary of the Italian Ambassador at a London hotel recently had a curious sequel. The Ambassador put forward the unusual plea of "diplomatic immunity," and the result was that inquest was held. The last occasion on which this plea was put forward was when, many years ago, attempts to hold inquests on deceased members of the Chinese Embassy were defeated by recourse to the Act. Ambassadors, however, have many peculiar privileges of which the general public know very little. In the first place, an embassy or legation is, to all intents and purposes, a piece of the country which it represents, and consequently an ambassador and his staff are not affected by the ordinary laws of the country in which the legation stands. This was emphasized some years ago when a certain gentleman whose name was well known at the particular period was kidnapped into the Chinese Legation. An inspector from Scotland Yard immediately proceeded to the legation and released the prisoner. This was a most serious breach of international law, and quite a sensation in diplomatic circles at the time.

An ambassador cannot be sued. In fact, he is immune from legal proceedings by a statute which was passed to appease the wrath of Peter the Great of Russia, whose ambassador was actually arrested in London for a debt of £50.

In 1909 Bethmann Hollweg, the German Ambassador in London, claimed to be exempt from rates in respect of his residence at Walton-on-Thames, and although the Walton authorities took up the matter with the Treasury, the latter upheld the ambassador's claim. Again, in Washington, in 1904, a member of the British Embassy successfully claimed to be outside the law when charged with exceeding the motor speed-limit.

An ambassador cannot be forced to pay his bills or forced to give evidence in the law courts. He is free from paying customs duties, and if his footman is summoned for being drunk and incapable in the streets (this has actually happened in London) he can save him from being fined.

The most curious of an ambassador's privileges is that when dismissed from an audience with the Sovereign to which he is accredited, he may turn his back to the court. He also has the right to demand admission to the Sovereign by day or by night. An ambassador's wife is regarded as almost as important a person as the ambassador. Not only is she addressed as "Your Excellency," but any insult offered to her is as much an affront, and even a cause for war, as would be one offered to her husband or his country.

The ambassador has the right to sit in the presence of the Sovereign of the country to which her better half is accredited, and, like her husband, cannot be arrested or sued for debt.

A Mid-Air Thrill.

The flying corps of all the armies have distinguished themselves for daring and gallantry during the present war. An eye-witness at the British Headquarters tells about one thrilling episode that was more sensational than most of the adventures that occur along the front almost daily.

A British airman, alone in a single-seated aeroplane, saw and pursued a German machine. While trying to reload his machine-gun he lost control of his steering-gear, and the aeroplane turned upside down. The belt round the man's waist was rather loose, and the jerk almost threw him out of the machine, but he saved himself by clutching hold of the rear centre strut, while the belt slipped down round his legs.

As he hung thus, head downwards, making desperate efforts to disengage his legs the aeroplane fell from a height of 8,000ft. to about 2,500ft., spinning round and round like a falling leaf. At last he managed to free his legs and reach the control lever with his foot. Then he succeeded in righting the machine, which turned slowly over completely "looping the loop." Thereupon the pilot slid back into his seat and came composedly to the ground.

THE BILINGUAL QUESTION.

Looms Smaller Than It Did A Week Ago.

Ottawa, April 25.—The bilingual question looms smaller than it did a week ago, the fact that an appeal has been entered to the Privy Council from the Ontario County Commission to the Separate School Commission Legislation is taken to indicate that hope has been abandoned of all federal action in the matter. Only two days will remain when the House opens for discussion. The reply of His Royal Highness to Archbishop Bruchesi, published on Saturday from Montreal, has been welcomed as contributing a note of conciliation coming from without and above the parties and the warring elements. Even if the matter does come up in the Commons now it cannot be attributed to the discredit of any party for taking a stand toward conciliation on the matter.

Calling The Faiths.

Ottawa (Citizen). The anxiety of Dr. J. W. Edwards, M.P., to learn officially the judgment of varieties of church faith among the Canadian recruits would hardly be satisfactorily answered by the hard-bitten old sergeant in the Submarine Miners. "There were only two churches within marching distance of the camp; Anglican and Roman, and there seemed to be rather a large number of men with conscientious scruples about attending either. So when the squad paraded on Sunday morning, old Bob, the sergeant-major, exclaimed, 'Catholics, one pace to the rear! England, one pace to the rear! Faith religions, fall out for fatigue!'"

"Blessed be the tie that binds not," would be an appropriate slogan for the Ohio woman who has been divorced seven times.

Probs.: Showers Wednesday; not much change in temperature.

Brighten Up the Home

Spring is Here!

Now is the appointed time for brightening up and replenishing the many needs of the home—take early advantage of our special "Brighten Up the Home" sale prices. In

NEW LACE CURTAINS
NEW SCRIM CURTAINS
NEW SILKENES
NEW CRETONNES
NEW ART SATEENS
COLORED BORDERED VOILES
IMPORTED MADRAS
NEW SCRIMS AND NETS
FRENCH VELOURS
WINDOW BELINDS
POLES, BRACKETS, ETC.
PILLOWS AND CUSHIONS

We invite your early inspection!

STEAACY'S

THE WOMAN'S STORE OF KINGSTON.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For 25 cents you can save your hair. In less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes!—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

KILLED IN ACTION.

Names Of Three Gananoqueans Appear In Casualties.

Gananoque, April 24.—Gananoqueans have been brought face to face with the awful realities of war this week, when word came that three well known amongst them had given up their lives in the service of the Empire.

Norman Clifford enlisted with the 21st Battalion of Kingston. He was formerly shipper for the Parmenter Citizens Bank, and a member of the Citizens Band. He was a young man of excellent qualities, and his death will be deeply regretted. His relatives reside in England.

Alfred Teale was also a member of the 21st. He was wounded some time ago and died from the effects in a hospital in England.

Oscar Lloyd was born in Gananoque and attended the Public and High Schools here and later went with his father, Mr. Richard Lloyd, to a farm near Brewer's Mills. He was preparing to enter the Methodist ministry, and was engaged in mission fields in the west when he enlisted. He was regarded as one of the cleverest of the young men, and had promise of a brilliant career in the work to which he had been called.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Mills, of West Lake, are preparing to go to Alberta in May to spend the summer.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Cataract that cannot be cured by Hall's Cataract Cure. Hall's Cataract Cure has been taken by thirty-five years, and he entered. He was regarded as one of the cleverest of the young men, and had promise of a brilliant career in the work to which he had been called.

Davies'

Special Prices on Canned Goods

CHOICE PEACHES	2 tins 25c
CHOICE CHERRIES	2 tins 25c
CHOICE PLUMS	10c per tin
GARDEN PEAS	2 tins 15c
TOMATOES	9c per tin
CREAM CORN	3 tins 25c

The Wm. Davies' Co. Ltd. Phone 597

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM

Homeseekers' Excursions

Round trip tickets to Western Canada via Chicago or North Bay or Cochrane will be on sale each Tuesday up to and including Oct. 31st, 1916. Valid for return within two months. An extension of time limit not exceeding four months may be had on payment of $5.00 per month, but in no case later than Nov. 30th, 1916.

For full particulars apply to J. P. Hanley, C.P. and T.A., cor. Johnson and Ontario streets.

The Marrison Studio

The group photographs of the Sportsmen's Platoon of the 140th Battalion were made at Marrison's Studio.

The best place for military groups, Studio and outside work by appointment—Telephone 1318.

Phone 1318. 99 PRINCESS ST.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL

NEW WESTERN CANADA

TORONTO-WINNIPEG

Via North Bay, Cobalt and Cochrane

Lv. TORONTO 10.45 P. M. Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday

Ar. WINNIPEG 3.50 P. M. Thursday, Saturday and Monday

Connecting at Winnipeg with C. T. P. train leaving 6.00 a.m. daily for Regina, Saskatoon, Edmonton and International Falls, Minn. Through tickets to Prince George, Prince Rupert, Alaska, Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle and San Francisco.

Specially coached and the best of everything. Timetables and all information from any Grand Trunk, Can. Govt. Ry. or T. & N. O. Railway Agent.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio Sold by all Druggists, 75c.

CANADIAN PACIFIC OCEAN SERVICES

ALLAN LINES

Lv. Liverpool	Lv. St. John
Apr. 14	Apr. 18
Apr. 21	Apr. 25
Apr. 28	May 2

CAN. PAC. LINES

Lv. Liverpool	Lv. Montreal
May 2	May 20
May 19	May 19
Apr. 21	Apr. 21
Lv. London	Lv. Montreal
Apr. 21	Apr. 21
Lv. Glasgow	Lv. Montreal
May 7	May 7

For Rates, Reservations, Etc. apply Local Agents or Allan Lines, 55 King St. W., Toronto.

Dr. E. H. Becking, 1 King St. E., Toronto.

General Agents.