MOTHER UNDER ARREST
ON CHARGE OF ABANDONING HER CHILD,
 Which Has Since Died — Mrs. Byrl Byron the Wife of a Canadian Prisoner-of-War in Germany.
 Mrs. Byrl Byron, wife of a Canadian soldier who is a prisoner-of-war in Germany, appeared in Police Court on Wednesday morning charged "with abandoning her child under two years of age." She pleaded "guilty" to the charge and was remanded for two days for sentence.
 The child which you abandoned had since died and you are now up on a very serious charge," said the Magistrate to the accused, before remanding her.
 It appears that on the evening of April 28th the accused paid a visit to the home of Elias Thompson, who resides at 6 Vine street. Upon ringing the bell she left a small bundle on the steps and made her escape. When the people in the house made an investigation they found that the bundle contained a baby aged about seven days. She left a note with the child, advising the people of the house to care for it.
 The child was very well dressed and appeared to be ill. When the mother could not be located, Mr. Thompson communicated with the police, who turned the case over to W. H. Wylie, Inspector for the Children's Aid Society. Mr. Wylie got Mr. Thompson to take care of the child, but it died on Monday night.
 It is thought that the child was "doped" before being placed on the steps.
Died of Convulsions.
 When seen by the Whig Dr. Richardson stated that the infant son of Mrs. Bryon died of convulsions. It had been carefully attended, and in his opinion did not suffer any as the result of being left on the steps of Mr. Thompson. It would likely have died anyway, therefore the only charge against the mother is that of desertion.

Women in Liquor Case.
 Mrs. Elizabeth Keenan, a member of the "prohibited list," appeared in Police Court on Tuesday morning charged with being under the influence of liquor. Since the 1st of December Mrs. Keenan has been endeavoring to keep away from liquor. After getting out of hospital on Sunday, she was very "dry" on Monday morning and asked a woman to go and get her a bottle, which she did. She paid the woman fifty cents for the bottle and gave her in addition twenty-five cents for making the purchase. Mrs. Keenan claims that she explained to the woman that she was a member of the list. She told the Court the name of the woman, so the case was adjourned until Tuesday morning until the accused is brought to court to defend herself.
 Michael Kelly was charged with being drunk and was taxed $1 and costs or ten days in jail.

LECTURE AT THE Y.M.C.A.
 By Prof. W. E. Macpherson on "School Days in Olden Times."
 Prof. W. E. Macpherson of the staff of the Faculty of Education of Queen's University gave the third of a series of educational talks presented by the educational committee of the Y. M. C. A. in the Association parlors on Tuesday evening.
 His subject was "School-days in the Olden Times," and was illustrated with a number of stereopticon slides. The lecture dealt with the methods of teaching from the days of the 16th century, when the "gad" was used freely, to the splendid methods used by the schools to-day.
 The lecture was attended by an appreciative audience. The Y. M. C. A. intends continuing these lectures in the fall.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
 George H. Gregg of Seoul, Korea, a Y. M. C. A. worker in the far East is paying a visit to the local "Y" in the interests of the International Committee, and is on his way to the International Y. M. C. A. convention at Cleveland, Ohio.
 The board of directors of the local Y. M. C. A. will meet Wednesday evening in the board rooms at which George H. Gregg of Seoul, Korea, will meet the members.

HUSBAND AND SONS ARRIVE
For the Burial of the Late Mrs. Edward Snider.
 The remains of the late Mrs. Mary Snider, who was found dead in her bed on the tug Bartlett, on which she was cook, were interred in Cataract cemetery, Wednesday afternoon. The deceased's husband, Edward Snider, Napanee, and her two sons, Pte. Archibald of the 146th Battalion Harrowsmith and John Snider of Watertown, N.Y., were lodged and arrived for the burial. The family originally came from Glasgow, Scotland.

 Major Elmer W. Jones, who was acting commanding officer of the 21st Battalion in the recent fighting, in a letter home, pays a splendid tribute to the men of his command for the manner in which they performed what was expected of them in spite of a murderous artillery fire. "Before we left," says Major Jones, "the trenches had been ordered to take were ours."
A Personal Triumph.
 Giuseppe Creatore, who, with his band, comes to Kingston on May 17th, is unquestionably the most interesting personality before the musical world to-day and the most successful of all conductors, both from an artistic and financial standpoint. This is all due to his personal, powerful, intense individuality supplemented by a musical genius of the very highest order.

INVITED TO REMAIN COL. F. ETHERINGTON
AS PASTOR OF BROCK STREET METHODIST CHURCH.
 Quarterly Board Hears Excellent Reports of Church Work—Resolutions of Sympathy Regarding Dead Soldiers.
 The Quarterly Board of Brock Street Methodist Church met on Tuesday night with a good attendance of members. Rev. G. S. Clendinning referred to the fact that in spite of much sickness the congregation there had been only two deaths in the membership and four among adherents. There were twenty-five removals, while forty-six had been added to the membership roll, thus showing a healthy increase.
 W. J. Lee, treasurer, reported a prosperous year. The income was in advance of last year, and a satisfactory balance was in the treasury. There is also a good increase in missionary offerings.
 Dr. C. C. Nash presented the report of the Sunday school. Additions had been made to the equipment, library and staff, and the income of the school was well maintained. The chief need was for teachers, many of the active young men having gone overseas. The missionary interest of the school is increasing, and a new lantern gives much satisfaction.
 An encouraging report of the Epworth League, of which Miss Vera Vanliven is president, was also presented.
 The committee which arranged with the Military Y. M. C. A. for the use of the lecture room by the soldiers reported that the place was well patronized, and the scheme worked very satisfactorily.
 The following elections were made: Stewards—T. R. Carnovsky, W. J. Lee, William Drury, Douglas Pound, James Armstrong, H. W. Watts and Dr. Day.
 Recording steward and delegates to District Meeting—T. R. Carnovsky.
 Treasurer—W. J. Lee.
 Envelope steward—Douglas Pound.
 Pulpit supply committee—Messrs. Watts, Carnovsky and Nash.
 A cordial invitation was extended by a unanimous vote to Rev. Mr. Clendinning to remain as pastor for the coming year, the usual summer vacation being provided for, and in addition a bonus of $72 was voted to Mr. Clendinning.
 Resolutions of earnest sympathy were passed with Mr. and Mrs. Auld, whose nephew, Pte. Robert Charles, was killed in a few days ago, and to a former pastor, Rev. Dr. Crummy, whose second son recently died at the front.

 Capt. C. G. Carruthers of the Dublin Fusiliers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Carruthers, Kingston, mentioned in General Sir Ian Hamilton's despatches in November, is awarded the Military Cross.
NO TRACE OF MRS. TEMPLE.
 Who So Mysteriously Disappeared Last Saturday.
 There have been no new developments in the case of Mrs. Temple, wife of B.S.M. Instructor Frederick Temple, who so mysteriously disappeared last Saturday morning. Sgt.-Major Temple has been unable to find any trace of his wife, and he has placed his young daughter, Gladys, in the care of a friend until his sister comes out from England to take charge of her.
 It is very likely that Sgt.-Major Temple, who is a very efficient instructor on the staff of the Royal School of Artillery, will leave in a short time for Peggawa to do instructional work in the artillery camp.

A WONDERFUL EXHIBIT.
The Only One of Its Kind in the Dominion.
 Commencing Wednesday afternoon a most wonderful and rare picture will be on exhibition in the Lion Clothing House window on King street. It is the portrait of Her Most Gracious Majesty the late Queen Victoria. This wonderful picture is all in words, and took four years and seven months to execute. It describes the history of her life, containing 173,000 words. This picture was got up to commemorate her diamond jubilee, June 22nd, 1897. All lovers of pictures should not miss seeing this rare picture at the Lion Clothing House, in Rodger's Jewelry Old Stand, King street, Kingston.
