

A Little Bit from Every Purse Will Provide for Belgium's Hungry Millions

"Oh, I'm sick and tired of hearing about the poor, starving Belgians! Why do the papers keep harping away on that same old subject?"

"Because the Belgians are still hungry, I suppose. By the way, have you given much to the Belgian Relief Fund?"

"Well, I can't say I have given anything yet. But then there are so many demands on one's purse these war times."

Isn't that usually the way? Those who have followed the impulses of humanity and have given what they could to the Belgians are the ones who are always interested, who sympathize with their sufferings and are willing to keep on helping.

Those who profess to be "fed up" on Belgian Relief talk are the ones who, at every appeal, have stiffed their generous impulses, and are feeling more uncomfortable about it every time.

Belgium's need is growing greater every day as one family after another exhausts its little hoard of money and becomes entirely dependent on the Belgian Relief Fund for daily bread—for life itself. Already these number nearly three millions.

More is needed than the continued help of those who have been giving right along! The big gifts of the rich and well-to-do by no means meet the demands! What the Belgians need—what these Belgian women and children must have or face stark starvation—is the additional help of hundreds and thousands who have not yet contributed!

In the hands of the marvellously efficient Belgian Relief Commission, Seven Cents a Day, or even less, will provide food for one needy woman, child or old man.

Can you afford to give that much? Can you, knowing the need, refuse it? Whatever you feel you can give, send your subscription weekly, monthly, or in one lump sum, to Local or Provincial Committees, or

LANCE CORPL. STANLEY C. GUILD HIT BY SHRAPNEL.

Did En Route To Dressing Station—W. Hazlett Writes That He Visited His Grave.

Mr. and Mrs. John Guild, 29 Lower Charles street, have received particulars concerning the death of their son, Lance Corpl. Stanley C. Guild, which occurred during an attack on the Germans on April 9th.

Lieut. W. Kent Macnee has written the family as follows: "On the morning of April 9th our company was ordered to charge and take a German position. During the charge Stanley was hit badly with shrapnel. We got his wounds dressed at once and sent him right through to the hospital. His wounds were of so serious a nature that he passed away in a few hours, as fine a hero as Canada has given since we have helped our Mother Country.

"Stanley was a Lance Corporal in my platoon, and I never had to worry about him at all. If I wanted work done, and done properly, I gave it to him to do. We buried him yesterday morning, April 10th, in a graveyard about two miles behind the front line, as he is there with other of our boys whom we have lost. I am looking after his personal belongings, and will have them sent to you. May God be with you and your family in this very sad and distressing time."

The family is also in receipt of the following letter from Rev. F. George Sherring, chaplain, Church of England, 5th Brigade, Canadians:

"It is with deep regret that I have to report to you the death of your son, Stanley Guild, of the 21st Battalion, C.E.F. He died of wounds in the ambulance en route to the dressing station on April 9th, and I buried him to-day, the 10th, in the military cemetery.

"I have every reason to believe that he suffered no pain, and was unconscious. A cross will be erected to mark the grave, bearing the name, date and regiment. Will you please accept my heartfelt sympathy in your sad bereavement."

The late Stanley Guild was well-known throughout the city. When the Highland Cadets of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church were being formed, he took great interest in the matter, and collected quite a large sum of money to assist in buying uniforms for them. After their organization, he served for some time as captain of the junior unit. He took a prominent part in the presentation made by the cadets to Lord Dundonald during his visit to the city. The Highland Cadets were instructed and trained by Capt. Hughes, now officer commanding the 21st Battalion, and in which this young Kingstonian was serving when he met his death. He attended public school and the Collegiate Institute, and also the Kingston Business College, and was a member of Kingston Lodge, No. 59, I.O.O.F.

W. Hazlett, Kingstonian serving at the front, writes homes that he visited Stanley's grave, located in the military cemetery. He states that it is marked with a very fine cross bearing his name, date, and regiment, and also the three links.

A picture of the deceased soldier, as well as that of other Kingstonians who met death at about the same time, will be reproduced in the illustrated portion of the Whig during the next week or so.

WE MUST APOLOGIZE.

The Whig is forced to apologize to-day to some of its friends for its inability to handle all the advertising offered. Our Friday and Saturday edition—in fact almost every day's paper—is crowded to the very limit, but it remained for to-day's issue to be the first for which we had to refuse considerable advertising.

THE LATE ARCHDEACON CAREY.

The Remains Taken To Napanee For Interment.

The funeral of the late Venerable Archdeacon, W. B. Carey took place Saturday afternoon from his late residence, 230 Brock street, to St. George's Cathedral, where the Church of England services were conducted by the Bishop of Kingston, assisted by Dean Starr. Appropriate hymns, "On the Resurrection Morning," "Jesus Lives," and "Abide With Me," were sung by the large number of citizens and clergy who were present to pay their last respects to the deceased Archdeacon. The pallbearers were Rev. H. B. Patton, R. D., rector of Prescott; Canon Armstrong, rector of Trenton; Canon Forness, of Kingston; Archdeacon Dobbs; Rev. J. O. Crisp, rector of Fortsmith, and Canon Groul of Kingston. The remains were placed on the three o'clock G. T. R. train to Napanee where interment took place.

The chief mourners were deceased's son Travers and Arthur Shibley, Westmount, Que., brother-in-law. The late Archdeacon Carey was seventy-one years of age. Years ago he took a keen interest in military matters, and was for a long time chaplain of the 14th Regiment, P. W. O. Rifles.

A Powerful Personality.

Sig. Giuseppe Creatore is unquestionably the most interesting personality before the musical world to-day. He is the bright musical star of the century, a revelation to all classes, and the most successful of all the musical leaders, both from an artistic and a financial standpoint. In a business way he has been most remarkably successful. This has all been accomplished on account of his personal, powerful, intense individuality, supplemented by a musical genius of the very highest order. This noted organization is to give a concert here Wednesday, May 17th, at the Kingston rink.

(Continued from Page 1.) German artillery, and with not much artillery of their own. "The Canadian exhibits a truly wonderful spirit in this game, no matter where his position may be, there is only one thing to be said of them: They are wonderful; they are great."

Come Forward. "Many Kingston homes have been saddened by the loss of loved ones in this war. Kingston and Brockville have suffered more in my own battalion than almost any other places, and I hope I do not misjudge the young men of Kingston, if they will not come forward at least five for every one who falls, to do honor to dear old Canada and the Empire, and to avenge the deaths of the boys from home who have fallen. "When one passes down the several miles of line held by the Canadians, and meets in every trench and in every part of the game, hundreds of our best friends from home, one feels that almost every one you would care to know, and whose friendship would be worth having, and who is physically fit, is either already doing his bit here, in England, or at home.

Call To Canadians. "When I look at the spirit of my own brave lads, many of whom gave up their all, and numbers of whom underwent slight operations to remove defects, in order that they could come, I can scarcely believe that after eighteen months there are still young men left in Canada who are not in some way doing their bit, or who are not enlisting. How do they expect to hold up their heads?

"Kingston's part, and by Kingston I mean the district surrounding Kingston, as my own lads come from all over Eastern Ontario, will be written large in the history of this war.

"As a city the people have done wonders. We have paid and continue to pay our portion of the debt, by the loss of many of our best and bravest, and I hope when this war is over that no one will be able to point the finger of scorn at any one living in the old Limestone City and say, 'He did not do his bit in our great war; in our hour of danger when his country needed him. Those who have been his comrades all his life were crying out for assistance and anxiously scanning the list of new recruits for his name.' He did not do his bit in hundreds, and many perhaps suffering from wounds they will carry to their graves—were fighting his fight that he, living at home in comfort, who did nothing to help, might enjoy the privileges of liberty and freedom and all that we Britons hold dear."

"With best regards to yourself, and with wishes for success, honor and prosperity to the 146th Battalion, I remain, yours sincerely, W. S. Hughes, Lieut.-Col. commanding 21st Battalion."

FARM LABORERS WANTED.

Western Provinces Report Acute Shortage.

The western provinces of Canada are now experiencing an acute shortage of farm laborers for spring and summer work, which makes steady work and good wages a certainty. Saskatchewan has called for five thousand laborers, and an equal number is required in Manitoba and Alberta.

After a thorough canvass of the territory served by the Canadian Northern Railway, it was found that an average of twenty-seven men is required at the points from which returns were received. An average wage of $45 per month, including board, is being paid, the highest being $3 per day.

For further particulars as to the men required, and the wages being paid at the various points, apply to R. H. Ward, station agent, or M. C. Dunn, city agent, or write E. L. Fairbairn, General Passenger Agent, 68 King street east, Toronto.

ORDAINED AT HARROVSMITH.

Rev. W. J. Parsons New Pastor of Presbyterian Church.

The ordination and induction of W. J. Parsons took place at Harrowsmith Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, May 3rd. The Moderator of Session, Rev. J. D. Boyd, in the absence of the Moderator of Presbytery, acted as Moderator. Rev. Dr. Jordan, of Queen's, read the scripture and preached to the congregation assembled. His sermon was based upon the words of the Apostle Paul, "Not for that we have dominion over your faith, but ye are helpers of your joy; for by faith ye stand" (I. Cor. 1, 24). It was a most appropriate sermon, expounding fully the office of the Christian minister in relation to his people. The Clerk of Presbytery, Rev. Thomas Wilkins, gave the historical statement leading up to the call. The Moderator then proceeded to ordain and induct Mr. Parsons into the charge of Glenvale, Harrowsmith and Wilton. Mr. Parsons, the newly inducted minister, will reside at Wilton. The call was a most unanimous one, being signed by every member and all adherents of the three appointments. Mr. Parsons has supplied this field since October last, and the congregations have steadily increased. The Glenvale portion of the congregation have undertaken the renovation of their church, which was very necessary, and the work will immediately be put in hand. At Glenvale also since Mr. Parsons has been supplying he has established a young people's meeting, which has had a very successful winter's series of meetings every Saturday night.

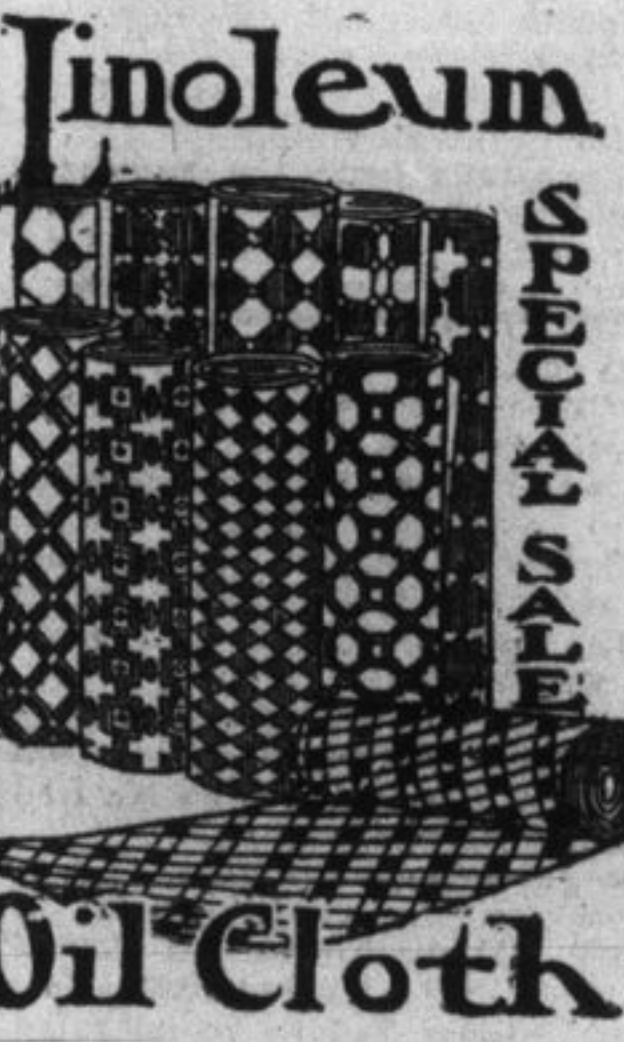

The Moderator, Rev. J. D. Boyd, spoke very highly of the work Mr. Parsons had been able to accomplish while he had also concluded his studies at Queen's, and expressed the belief that Mr. Parsons would be able to do much more good work now he is settled on the field. The Clerk briefly addressed the minister, and Rev. J. D. Boyd addressed the congregations.

Quality Reigns

supreme in the two essential features which make for the success of a life insurance company, i.e., the careful selection of risks and the judicious investment of the reserves for the protection of the policyholders. During 1915 the mortality experienced by The Manufacturers Life Insurance Company was but 60% of the expected, being a continuation of the favorable death rate experienced during the twenty-nine years existence of the Company.

The average rate of interest earned on the Company's investments during 1915 was 6.63%, which is possibly the maximum that can be expected, consistent with safety, in the investment of trust funds. The great care taken in the investment of the funds of the Company is exemplified in the following table of classification:
