TO ASK THE BISHOP
TO APPOINT CANON W. F. FITZGERALD AS RECTOR.
St. Paul's Congregation Nominates Its Popular Vicar—The Church Has Prospered Under His Charge.
The people of St. Paul's Anglican Church want their vicar, Canon W. F. Fitzgerald, appointed to succeed the late Archbishop Carey as rector. After the vestry meeting on Monday night, the congregation, which attended in larger numbers than ever before, decided unanimously and with enthusiasm that the name of Canon Fitzgerald should be submitted to the Bishop and that His Lordship should be asked to appoint him as rector of St. Paul's, which has prospered under his charge during the past nine years. The congregation also decided that it would contribute $1,200 to the new rector's salary, which is augmented by Rectory Lands Funds and the Watkins bequest.
To show how St. Paul's is prospering under Canon Fitzgerald it is only necessary to state that according to the auditors' statement presented Monday night at the vestry meeting, the receipts, through weekly offerings, etc., were more than sufficient to pay the salaries of all the church officials, a balance of $422 being left. The open collections amounted to $893.10; thanksgiving offering $109.59; pew rents, $676; envelopes, $688; special service, $12.75.
The church wardens, R. F. Elliott and A. E. M. Loscombe, were re-elected. C. A. Bunt was appointed vestry and envelope clerk, and W. J. Monk was re-elected missionary envelope clerk. The delegates appointed to synod were H. W. Snelling, J. W. Power and A. E. M. Loscombe.
The whole meeting revealed a most successful year at St. Paul's. After the general business the congregation met to nominate a rector, and Canon Fitzgerald was asked to retire. Later the decision of the congregation was communicated to him. Canon Fitzgerald has been a faithful vicar and his worth is appreciated. Besides being an arduous worker, he is one of the best preachers in the diocese of Ontario and a platform lecturer of note.

JUDGMENT DELIVERED ON GRAVELLE WILL
Life Insurance Money Will All Go to Brother of Deceased.
Calgary, May 9.—Justice Simmons has delivered judgment in the case of Gravelle vs. Rudolph. This was an interpleader action to determine the ownership of some money that had been paid into court by the Continental Life Insurance Company.
It appears that the late Thomas Wilfrid Gravelle, formerly of Portsmouth, Ont., had insured his life for $5,000 with the Continental Life and that his brother, Joseph W., had done the same, each being in favor of the other. It was explained at the time of the trial that this was done for the protection of the business which they conducted under the name of Beverages, Limited.
When Thomas W. Gravelle died on April 30th, 1915, it was found that he had willed $2,000 of the $5,000 to his fiancée, Miss Stella Rudolph. The money was paid into court by the insurance company, and in his judgment Justice Simmons held that all of the insurance was payable to Joseph W. Gravelle.
The females of the species do a lot of figuring about their figures.

System Was Full of Poison; Pains in Side and Back
Had Constipation for Many Years, but Was Entirely Cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.
The most common ailment and the greatest cause of disease and suffering to-day is constipation. Artificial food and sedentary indoor life combine to induce torpid, sluggish action of the liver, kidneys and bowels. As a result poisonous waste matter remains in the system and gives rise to pains and aches and affords a starting point for serious disease.
Infectious and contagious diseases are little known to persons whose liver, kidneys and bowels are kept in healthful activity, for there are no suitable conditions for disease germs to thrive in. Even common colds usually take their start when they find the system in a constipated, poisoned condition.
Mrs. Edward Miller, West Flamboro, Ont., writes: "I can truthfully say that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have cured me of constipation. I suffered with constipation almost

IS THE BRIDGE ABLE TO STAND THE TRAFFIC
That Will Pass Over It When the Big Camp Opens?
There seems to be a general feeling prevailing in the city that there will be a great number of accidents, if not a great calamity, on the structure that passes by the name of bridge, leading from Kingston to Barrieffield. From the appearance of this so-called bridge the feeling is not without some foundation. When one considers the great amount of traffic which will pass over this bridge, one is naturally confronted with the question: "Can the structure bear up the loads that will be put upon it? The militia transports and the great number of other trucks which will pass over the bridges will tax it to the limit.
Last summer when there were only about four thousand soldiers in the camp there were a large number of accidents to pedestrians. Is it not a fact that this summer with over twelve thousand soldiers in camp there will be a greater many more accidents?
What would happen if on some summer evening the present bridge should collapse?
There would doubtless be a large number of drownings. Are there any life preservers on the bridge at present? Is there a man whose business it is to act as a life saver? Is there a qualified doctor or first aid man nearer than Kingston or the camp? Some day a horse might become frightened and push against the railing and the railing might collapse. Or again some auto driver might drive through the railing. What would be the result?
A temporary structure should be put over the last span of the causeway when the camp begins.

FATHER AND SON DIED ON SAME DAY.
Sergt. John Scott, Kingston, With 21st, Killed Recently.
That Sergt. John Scott, formerly of Portsmouth, who was killed in action while serving with the 21st Battalion, and his father died the same day, is the information received in a letter received in the city on Monday morning.
The wife of the late Sergt. Scott is now at Manchester, England. The letter states that Lieut. Walker K. Macneil has received a letter in answer to his letter of sympathy. It is doubly sad. Sergt. Scott and his father died the same day and family received the news of the former's death when they arrived back from his father's funeral.
Sergt. Scott was well known in Kingston and Portsmouth. Before enlisting with the 21st Battalion he was employed as a machinist at the Canadian Locomotive Works. When war was declared he did duty with the 14th Home Guard but transferred to the 21st Battalion and went to the front with the rank of corporal.
Another Baseball League?
There is some talk that another baseball league may be formed this summer. It seems unlikely that this will happen as the City League has decided that no more than three teams could be gathered together to play.
Donald and Miss Aileen Robinson and Grant Linton, B.A., has returned from a motoring trip to Whitney and Toronto.

FIFTY YEARS ON STAGE.
Sir John Hare Celebrates His Golden Jubilee as an Actor.
The appearance of Sir John Hare on a variety stage coincides with the fiftieth anniversary of his theatrical debut in London, for it was towards the end of 1865, when he was twenty-one years of age, that Sir John made his initial appearance at the Prince of Wales' Theatre in London as Short, in "Naval Engagements." And it is in connection with this first appearance in London that Sir John tells an amusing story.
The play was written by H. J. Byron, who remarked to the young actor, when he was rehearsing his part as Short, the publican, "With a short manner, a short part, and a short figure, you will, in short, be short." "Thank you," replied Sir John, "but if I am a failure you will have to listen your play 'Short Engagements.'" a reply which no one appreciated more than the witty author of "O'Connell."
For playing this part Sir John received £2 a week. "Salaries were not so big in those days," he says. "For playing Sam Gerridge (in 'Caste') I received £6 a week. I think I am within the mark in stating that this playing in 'Caste' for the company exceeded the sum of £50 a week, excluding, of course, Miss Marie Wilton's remuneration as leading actress and manageress. What would such a cast cost at the present day?"
Sir John has many amusing and interesting stories to tell of his theatrical experiences, and confesses that one of the most embarrassing moments of his life was when he was playing in "A Pair of Spectacles" in Edinburgh.
He had come to the scene where Benjamin Goldfinch refused to enter his brother Gregory's suggestions and suspect his wife, when an encouraging, but an embarrassing call came from the gallery, "Well done, old 'un! Stick up for the missus!"
Here is another story which Sir John tells against himself. "I remember nearly thirty years ago," he says, "I was playing on my provincial tour the part of a very old man. A spectator in the audience said to his neighbor: 'Poor old fellow! It's a shame to keep him working. I remember him as an old man nearly twenty years ago. He must be over eighty! He ought to have been in his bed hours ago.'"
Fined for Getting Married.
There are certain sections and communities who penalize marriage, and regard it in the light of a punishable offence. It is the rule, for instance, at All Souls' College, Oxford, that a Fellow forfeits his Fellowship if, when studying the classics, he should marry. In such an event he must not only pay the penalty, but must also present his college with a memorial in the shape of a silver cup.
By payment of a fine of £25 he can, however, retain an honorary membership, but, of course, he cannot be elected to the office of president of the club, or to any other office of honor in the club, until he has presented his college with a memorial in the shape of a silver cup.
There is a similar organization in Germany—the Jungesellen Club. Whenever there comes to the officials of this club any intimation that a member contemplates matrimony he is immediately summoned for trial in the club court, with the president as judge. The culprit is allowed to plead in extenuation of his offence, and upon his skill in presenting such plea depends the amount of his fine, which ranges from £20 to £200.
The humorous feature of the case consists in the purpose to which the money is applied. The money is devoted to a dinner, whereat all members appear in mourning attire. At the conclusion of the feast the president solemnly reads the sentence of expulsion, and the delinquent is led from the room amid the groans and lamentations of his erstwhile club-fellows.

R.M.C. BOXING BOUTS
HELD ON MONDAY AFTERNOON IN COLLEGE GYMNASIUM.
There Were Several Interesting Contests—The Best Bout Was In the Featherweight Class.
The annual boxing tournament of the Royal Military College was held on Monday afternoon in the college gymnasium. The staff and a number of citizens took advantage of the clever exhibition of this sport.
The first bout was between G. C. G. E. Crain and G. C. T. G. Birkett in novice class under 145 lbs. It was quite interesting, and was won by Birkett chiefly by the offensive tactics which he adopted.
In the class for novices 145 lbs. and over, Sergt. J. H. Price boxed G. C. J. Y. K. Walbank, and won. He was superior in wind and speed, but Walbank was superior in his guard.
Undoubtedly the best bout was in the featherweight class between Corpl. F. H. Jones and G. C. R. H. Wiggins. Both these boys were fast and very game. The bout was equal all through, and an extra round had to be fought, in which Corpl. Jones won.
In the lightweight class Sergt. R. L. M. Ferris won from G. C. R. L. Chaloner by offensive tactics and hard in-fighting.
The least interesting of all the bouts was in the welterweight class, when G. C. J. E. Cohoe boxed G. C. N. D. MacKay. There was very little action in this bout until the last round, when there was some hard fighting. G. C. MacKay won.
In the last bout, the middleweight G. C. J. W. Ings outboxed A. W. Robertson at every turn. Nevertheless, Robertson showed lots of pluck.

Hair Often Ruined By Washing With Soap
Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Don't use soaps and prepared shampoos that contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mildified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get mildified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

The Prince was reported to have arrived in Egypt in March as a captain on the staff of the British commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean.
