ESTABLISHES A RECORD

JAMES MULLEN ARRESTED FOUR TIMES IN TEN DAYS.

Mrs. Mary Bowman Found Drunk in Macdonald Park—She Will Be Placed On the Prohibited List.

Drunk and gathered in by the police four times in ten days is the record of James Mullen, who appeared in the Police Court on Wednesday morning charged with being under the influence of liquor, and was taxed $15 and costs or one month in the county jail. As Mullen has not the necessary funds, this time he will likely go to jail. During the winter months he was not before the court, mainly due to the fact that he was wintering on Howe Island. The other day he borrowed a boat belonging to John Foley and rowed to the city. He had only been here a short time until he "got under the weather" and was placed in the cells. He was fined $3 and costs. The second time he made his appearance he drew the same fine. On Monday when he appeared he "got" $10 and costs.

On these three occasions he was able to pay his fine with the money he had accumulated during the winter months, but his funds are now all gone but three cents.

"Mrs. Mary Bowman, you are charged with being drunk," said the Court.

"Will you give me a chance to go on the list," said Mrs. Bowman. "I might consider your request," said the Magistrate. "I will allow your case to stand over until Thursday, and during that time the police matron will see that your name is placed on the prohibited list."

Mrs. Bowman has been before the Court on many occasions on the charge of drunkenness. On April 5th she was fined. Her great desire for liquor keeps getting her into trouble.

On Tuesday afternoon the police received a call to Macdonald Park, where Police Constable Marshall found Mrs. Bowman in a helpless condition. She was so drunk that she could not tell her name, and was lying down by the shore.

Dr. D. A. Coon, ex-superintendent of the Kingston General Hospital and his son, Lieut. H. A. Coon, 156th Battalion, have both volunteered for overseas service.

Lieut. Coon is now qualifying for a higher rank at the Infantry School of Instruction and will go overseas with his battalion at training at Barrieheld Camp during the summer months.

Dr. Coon has recently completed a qualifying course at the Army Medical Corps School recently conducted in the city. If the results show that Dr. Coon is qualified to hold a military medical appointment he will be given a similar rank to his son. Both hope to get to the front in the near future.

A complete rehearsal of the 146th Battalion minstrel show was held in the City Hall on Tuesday evening. All of those taking part were present and the programme was put on from one end to the other. The few people who watched the performance, said that it would certainly be of great interest and should attract a large crowd when put on at the Opera House on Friday night. The jokes are all new and should certainly "take well."

Lieut. Leonard Birkett left on Tuesday for Belleville to bid good-bye to his fellow officers and the men of his Russian platoon of the 80th Battalion before they leave for overseas. Lieut. Birkett hopes to be able to join his battalion in England within the next month before they go to the front.

Thirty men, who have been recruited here by Lieut. McKim of Smith's Falls, left on Wednesday for Toronto where they will go into training with the remainder of the cyclists of the 4th Overseas Canadian Division. The men in the detachment were for the most part graduates of Queen's University and their friends. The men were given a send-off by their friends in the city.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

The Chaplin-Sweet bill of photo-plays attracted another "turn them away" house at the Grand last evening. This evening's performance, will be the last. "Carmen" which Chaplin burlesques is one of the most laughable, rib-splitting offerings he has ever appeared in, while "The Blacklist," which stars Blanche Sweet, is a powerful industrial drama. Miss Katharine Carleton-Hart was more pleasing than ever. Her two songs, Lehar's "Gypsy Love" and "The Sunshine of Your Smile" were rendered in admirable voice.

For Friday afternoon and Saturday matinee and night, Hazel Dawn, one of the screen's most charming stars will be featured in "My Lady Incoz," a laughable detective story. There will also be the "Universal two and one-reel films, and the Topical Budget, along with two good vaudeville acts.

"Nobody Home" Musical Comedy. Elizabeth Marbury and F. Ray Comstock will present "Nobody Home," the musical comedy success of the past season at the Grand on Thursday evening, May 11th, direct from successful runs in New York, Boston and Chicago. The original cast will be seen here, headed by Lawrence Grossmith, one of England's foremost comedians. The story of "Nobody Home" tells of Freddy Popple, of Ipsleyton, England, who comes to New York to visit his brother, Vernon, New York's most famous dancing teacher, and of his winning the love of the prima donna of the Winter Garden, Tony Miller, who has been much sought after by the wealthiest men of the metropolis. Freddy is a shy, whimsical chap of the "silly-ass" type, very slow and calculating and as played by Lawrence Grossmith is one of the most delightful characters of the production.

One of the special attractions of the play is the dancing done by Quentin Tod and Helen Clarke, the latest "fads."

The 146th Minstrel Show.

The 146th Battalion minstrels had another successful practice last night and will hold another to-morrow night. Everything is in good shape for the big event on Friday evening. The plan opened to-day and there was a strong demand for tickets. A fine feature of the programme is the introduction of so many pretty girls, who will add greatly to the entertainment and give it a flavor of the musical comedy shows so popular now. The Spanish dance by the young ladies will prove to be a hit. The end men are going to spring some "new ones" and Will White and Jules Brazil, the favorite Toronto Comedians will keep things on the hop. A full chorus of fifty will swell the musical programme into most attractive harmonies. It looks like a big night for the friends of the 146th Battalion.

At The Strand Theatre.

Highly pleased audiences again attended the Strand Theatre yesterday to witness the screening of the 5-act Triangle play "The Conqueror" in which "Willard Mack" and "Enid Markey" have been pleasing the many patrons of the Strand for the last two days. It will be shown again to-night for the last time. For the last three days the bill will consist of a 5-act Triangle Play entitled "Missing Links" in which dainty "Norma Talmadr" is featured. The comedy is a 2-part Keystone, "Because He Loved Her," starring Sam Bernard. Few other good subjects will complete a bill of great strength.

Wonderful War Pictures.

The much-talked-of, photo-drama, "The Battle Cry of Peace," is being shown at the Griffin Theatre to-day and to-morrow, and bids fair to create as big a furore in Kingston as it did wherever it has been shown in the United States. To give a general idea of the scope of the subject, it should be said that the author imagines the United States as being in the position of Belgium—at the mercy of a brutal and arrogant foe. This foe—the enemy is called "Ruritania," and wears a modified German helmet—has defeated the American fleet and landed an army, which advances on New York. That city is shelled, and its skyscrapers toppled to the ground. The army, outnumbered, makes a last gallant stand against incomparably superior artillery. Finally the United States, conquered and on her knees, is forced to sue for peace at any price. That is the story in barest outline. It is in the details—in the individual histories of a small number of citizens of the United States—that one realizes, perhaps for the first time, something of the full tragedy and the full horror of the proceedings of the German army in Belgium. As a story, as a spectacle, and as a sermon on the necessity for military preparedness—it is based on Hudson Maxim's book, "Defenceless America," and its object is stated as being "to show the criminal folly of peace babbling while a powerful nation exists, inspired by blood lust, and possessed of an ambition for world domination." "The Battle Cry of Peace" constitutes a class of its own. There has been nothing before with which one can compare it. And if there are to be similar films in the future one cannot well imagine them better done.

Hundreds Turned Away.

When the Nurses of the Kingston General Hospital held their Graduating Exercises in Convocation Hall, hundreds were unable to obtain even standing room, but Grant Hall where it will be held next Friday evening, will hold double the number and there should be seats for all. The public is invited to a splendid programme.

Placing Boys On Farms.
