It's Easy to Peel Off All Your Freckles

The contrast between the freckles and the clear skin usually is so great that no bleach can be more than partially successful in obliterating the disfigurements. Ordinary mercurochrome wax is far better; it literally peels off the freckles. Get an ounce of it at the nearest drug store and to-night spread on enough to completely cover your face; remove in the morning with warm water. Repeat daily until every freckle has disappeared.

Rough, blotchy, pimpled skin, also common at this season, may be entirely gotten rid of in the same method, without discomfort or inconvenience. The effort is decidedly worth while, the new complexion obtained being so clear, smooth and youthful.

If bothered with wrinkles, bathe the face in a lotion made by dissolving an ounce of powdered azoicite in a half pint of witch hazel. This is the most effective and quickest-acting wrinkle treatment known.

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff
The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this to-night, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

Draperies Curtains
At least once a year your draperies and curtains will require to be dyed or cleaned.
This can be attended to most satisfactorily and with the minimum of trouble and expense by having us do the work. New trimmings supplied if required. Estimates gladly given; write or telephone about this helpful household service.

may recall the war office asking for 3,000,000 pairs of socks about Christmas time a year ago. These were sent to us from everywhere, many of them incorrectly marked or not marked at all as to sizes. We had to measure every pair, label them and put them in packets of ten. That task alone meant six weeks' continuous work.

"My other duties are really too numerous to remember offhand. Let me see. At Watford-Watford is a town of 40,000 inhabitants in Hertfordshire, where we have a country place—I am on the executive committee of the urban council for war relief—that is, for the relief of civilians. I am president of the Soldiers and Sailors' Families' association, which supplements when necessary the war allowances given to wives and families. We have voluntary helpers, who take different districts, visit, write letters, find out if the families are getting their allowances and give privately additional help where it is needed. Often a woman wants to attend some function of her husband's regiment and lacks proper clothes, or, as an instance, a wife had word that her husband was wounded and in hospital at Plymouth. She had no means of her own to go to see him, and these had to be privately supplied her.

"Take the motors. At the beginning of the war the Automobile club was immediately offered 2,000 motors for war service. Since then many more have been quietly given, and those private individuals who have any left do not keep them for their own pleasure.

"Then everybody who has one lends it three or four afternoons a week for convalescent soldiers. We may be told after awhile that the use of motors must be cut down on account of petrol.

"Another luxury that may seem strange—the theater. No one dreamed of going to a theater at first. We hadn't the heart to do anything. Later the actors came out and said they were staying. Then the children returned from school for their holidays, and we felt we must exert ourselves to make things a little cheerful for

THE COUNTESS OF ESSEX.

"Every morning," recently said Lady Essex, who was Miss Adele Grant of New York, "I go to St. James' palace and work, with a large number of other ladies, from 10 o'clock until 1— that is, for Queen Mary's Needlework guild. We have made 1,000,000 respirators for the soldiers in the trenches against gas attacks, and we have made innumerable surgical stores—bandages, etc.

"A good many other things fall to our care. This morning, for instance, 100 bales of towels arrived from the country. Dressing gowns, shirts, underwear, all sorts of things, come to us as we ask for them. We sort these, repack and send them, in required quantities, to their destinations. You

FOR THE EARLY SUMMER.
After many years of absence the bandeau has returned to favor. It is seen in many of the spring and early summer hats. In the hat above, which is of leghorn faced with satin, the bandeau raises the hat but slightly from the head and is concealed beneath a wreath of pink roses. A similar wreath encircles the flat crown and loops and ends of soft pink satin ribbon fall from beneath the brim.

Sleepytime Tales

MR. NELSON'S SURPRISE.
Once upon a time several of the boys stopped on their way home from school to play marbles. They dug two or three holes in the sidewalk and had been playing only a few minutes when they heard someone say: "Boys, don't play here. You are spoiling the sidewalk and I don't like to have holes made in it." When they looked up there was Mr. Nelson the owner of the house standing beside them. "We can't play marbles unless we do dig holes, said one of the boys, but still Mr. Nelson said they must stop so they put their marbles in their pockets and went down the street, thinking all sorts of mean things about Mr. Nelson.

them. We took them to the theaters. Gradually we ourselves got to going again. Now there are the convalescent soldiers who need entertainment, and their relatives, and the soldiers on leave—there must be relief.
"There is no longer any such thing as a dinner party these out of our minds. Eight or ten people meet perhaps several times a week and happen to dine together, but there is no thought of dress and little of the dinner, except to keep it simple and sufficient. A dinner used to begin with soup and fish; there was an entree. But now! Now it is soup or fish; there is a meat course and a sweet; that is all."

Kentucky Scalloped Potatoes.
Slice potatoes and lay in the water half an hour. Place a layer of potatoes in a well buttered baking dish, sprinkle with pepper, salt and pieces of butter; repeat the process until there is a sufficient quantity. Pour over this enough milk to cover and bake an hour and a half or until the potatoes are thoroughly cooked. If onions are liked with the potatoes alternate layers may be used.

Caper Sauce For Boiled Mutton.
For this the regulation proportions of a tablespoonful each of butter and four are cooked together until they bubble, and a half pint of boiling water is then poured upon them and the sauce stirred until smooth and thick, and seasoned with pepper, salt and a very little tablespoonful of capers.

DO not think that a soap must be perfumed to be suitable for your bath and toilet.

This is true of some soaps. It is not true of Ivory.

There is no perfume more pleasing than the clean, natural odor of Ivory's high grade materials. Ivory soap is so sweet and pure that to add a perfume to it would be like "painting the lily".

The dress will offer no difficulties whatever. If the construction guide is followed rigidly in making. After making the underbody and fitting it, take the blouse and close underarms and sleeve seams. Close centerback seam and hem the front, the center of which is indicated by large "O" perforations. Gather lower edge of sleeve for flare cuffs. Sew cuffs to sleeves as notched and bring edges together at small "o" perforation in the sleeve.

To make the skirt and jumper is the next problem. Turn under front edge of front and turn gore (in one piece) on slot perforations, lap right front gore on left, center-fronts even; stitch about 1 inch from folder edge leaving edges free above single large "O" perforation for a placket. Lap the remaining folded edge of front gore to line of small "o" perforations in side gore, notches even, stitch about 1/2 inch from folded edge to any desired depth, and press; close seam under plait. Close center-back seam. Gather upper edge of skirt between double "T" perforations. Plait under-arm edges of front and back bringing "T" to corresponding small "o" perforations and tack. Underlape front, from front edge to 1 inch inside of small "o" perforations; roll over. Line back collar section and sew to front section as notched. Close under-arm and shoulder seams; and sew collar to neck edge as notched. Adjust to position stitching gathers in skirt along upper row of gathers in blouse, bringing single large "O" perforation to corresponding perforation in underbody, and bring small "o" perforation in skirt to under-arm seam.
