

We've a Very Elevated Opinion of Our Good Clothes

Don't think there's anyone that can soar above us in Quality or in Value Giving.

Our $15.00, $18.00 and $20.00 Suits in Neat Stripe Fabrics are Suits that are far above other Suits for the price.

The artistic cut of the lapels—the perfect fitting shoulders, the hang of the coat, the graceful lines of the trousers and the artistic tailoring—all tell the story of superiority.

This feature of Clothes Superiority is noticeable in every line of wearables we sell.

Come in for an abundance of other proof.

News of Troops in the City

The guns and vehicles of the R. C. H. A. were loaded on Thursday preparatory to going to Petawawa Camp. It is expected that the battery would leave the city about five o'clock for the northern camp.

The 13th Artillery Brigade is not expected to go to Petawawa until Monday.

Capt. G. I. Campbell, chaplain of the 146th Battalion, is interesting himself in the recruiting of the last 200 men for the battalion. He is establishing depots in several parts of the city and worked most of Tuesday on one opposite the Grand Opera House on Princess street. Decorations and patriotic posters drew the attention of the public to the need of men and good results are expected.

The following men who crossed the ocean on the SS. Scandinavian arrived in the city on Tuesday. Their names and homes are: Lance-Corpl. T. W. Angel, Ottawa; Pte. Gillette, F. Underwood, and W. J. Williams, Peterboro; Pte. Maxwell, Winchester.

It was a happy thought indeed that inspired Lieut.-Col. Charles A. Low to decide that his battalion should be known as the "Frontenacs." No name is associated more favorably or honorably with the history of Canada than that of the gallant Frontenac. The same aggressive fighting spirit that has always characterized the different sporting organizations that have adopted the name "Frontenac" is shown in the spirit of the 146th Battalion, C. E. F. and Col. Low made a wise decision in adopting this name for his Battalion.

Toronto has "the Buffs," "the Beavers," "the Bantams," "the Sportsmen," etc., but "the Frontenacs" promises to be a name and a battalion that will reflect great credit upon this historic old city and county.

Capt. James T. Sutherland, quartermaster of the 146th Battalion, certainly deserves great credit for his untiring energies in making the big celebration on Wednesday the success that it was. The big military parade was given through the kindness of Col. T. D. R. Hemming, D.O.C., at the suggestion of the popular quartermaster and the several events at the Fair Grounds were put on largely through his efforts. It is fortunate that such good weather came for the big day and everything proved to be such a success.

The following probationary officers and N. C. O.'s registered this week at the Kingston Infantry School of Instruction:

- G. Murray, 139th.
- J. W. Oliver, 139th.
- E. C. Rouse, 139th.
- R. F. Stewart, 139th.
- S. V. Mills, 57th Militia Regiment.
- H. F. Wilson, 136th.
- W. J. Hoar, 136th.

Some of the country soldiers in their anxiety to be proper have been saluting the battery boys wearing bandoliers and leggings. Probably they had been told to salute soldiers wearing shoulder straps, and they took the bandoliers to be of that kind. Last night Princess street was full of batterymen, and the salute was given them everywhere. But they got no return. One recruit was heard to say with disgust: "I have saluted about fifty of them fellows, and they have never returned it. They don't know nothing!"

The Kingston Veterans' Association met on Wednesday evening and entertained the members of the Royal Canadian Garrison Artillery Band of Quebec which is in the city for a few days before going to Petawawa camp with the R. C. H. A. Compliments were paid to the splendid playing of the massed bands on Wednesday.

SEVEN HOLIDAY DRUNKS.

Aftermath of Holiday Celebration in the Police Court.

Seven men, who celebrated the 24th of May with a drop or two too much of the "strong stuff," had to walk the carpet at the Police Court on Thursday morning. Two were allowed to go, and five were fined $1 and costs each. "I came in on the excursion," said one offender, whose trade is tilling the soil. The Magistrate gave him a chance to get back to in future be cut out liquor and be satisfied with water.

For The Good Of The City.

THE PUBLIC INVITED TO DANCING CLASSES.

Lessons Being Given By Mr. Sleeth At Lindsay Piano Rooms.

Never in the history of the world has dancing taken such a strong hold on the public as the present day, and any one not dancing the new dances finds himself a back number at even the smallest social gathering. New York is recognized as the dancing centre of America, and one has only to visit the smart restaurants afternoons or evenings to find them thronged with merry people, young and old, enjoying this healthy and fascinating amusement.

For the people of Kingston desirous of learning the new dances an unusual opportunity is being given them through the management of the Lindsay Piano Co., Princess street, engaging York Sleeth, of the Little Playhouse, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Mr. Sleeth was formerly connected with the Mission Tea Rooms, Toronto, and his work is most favorably known among the smart society circles of that city. Having spent the past few weeks in New York, Mr. Sleeth is prepared to teach absolutely the latest dances quickly and correctly.

For the remainder of this week and all next week Mr. Sleeth may be engaged at the Lindsay Studio previous to his leaving for Niagara-on-the-Lake, where he will have charge of the tea dances at the "Knoll," a delightful new English tea room, patronized by the many officers from the summer camp, before leaving for his Muskoka engagement.

Those desiring a teacher's course in modern dancing should interview Mr. Sleeth at once, as professional dancers are always in demand. The following graduates of Mr. Sleeth's school are his superior method of instruction: Reginald Stewart, New York; Miss Muriel Parker, Toronto; Miss L. Quinn, New York; Miss Irene Jeffries, Toronto; Scott Patton, New York; Ivan Tull, Cincinnati, Ohio; Miss Lois Bryson, Cincinnati, Ohio. Mr. Sleeth's advertisement appears in this evening's Whig, and full information may be had by phoning the Lindsay Piano Co., Princess street.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At The Grand

"To Have and To Hold" one of the most widely read novels of American life in the seventies, will be offered on the screen at the Grand, tonight, Friday and Saturday with matinees daily. Mae Murray one of the screen's most talented actresses, who makes her debut with Lasky, in collaboration with Wallace Reid, will have the lead. It is a striking exemplification of the hardships the English of the 70's endured in establishing settlements in Virginia during the early days. There will also be a two reel photoplay, a one reel comedy and the Paramount Travel Series. Two high class vaudeville specialties have been booked. Geo. Seldeon, in an up-to-the-minute singing, talking, dancing and musical offering comes direct from the best theatres. Chisholm and Brown, also booked, have something different to offer local lovers of variety. It is a comedy act entitled "The Shop Girl's Romance" and breathes with rich humor.

Holiday Play at Grand.

"The Princess Pat," a new comic opera in three acts, was produced at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday afternoon and evening, and played to a big house. The show is an excellent one, and the cast is well balanced. Though termed a comic opera, "The Princess Pat" might better be advertised under the old name of musical comedy. It was certainly filled with music from one end to the other, and every piece seemed to make a hit with the audience. The dancing was good, and several experts of the dancing art were among the players. Charlotte La Grandie, as "The Princess Pat," took her rather trying part excellently, and won the whole-hearted support of the audience. The plot was well worked out, and the entertainment on the whole proved to be one of the best.

At The Strand.

The bill for the last three days of the week at this popular theatre promises to be one of great variety and strength. The headliner is a 4-act Triangle play "The Green Swamp," starring those two big Broadway stars, "Bessie Barrisrael" and "Bruce McRae." The comedy is a 3-part Keystone, "His Here-After" featuring Charles Murray and Louise Fazenda. Other stars on the bill include H. B. Walthall and Blanche Sweet who appear in "The God Within." "The Beggar King," a 2-reel Lubin drama and other good subjects complete a high class and well balanced programme that should please the most exacting critics of motion plays.

To Live In Kingston.

A quiet wedding took place Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Vanstone, 38 Dearbourne Ave., Toronto, when their daughter Edythe Blanche (Didge) was married to James E. Lyons, Kingston, the officiating minister being Rev. Mr. Kannawin. The bride, who was unattended, wore an exquisite Paris gown of pale green taffeta and Georgette crepe. Mr. and Mrs. Lyons will reside in Kingston.

Trick of a Boy Cadet.

An amusing story is being told around town of a youngster about fourteen years of age, who is a captain in one of the local cadet corps. Yesterday he got a regular cap, belt and all the equipment, and in the afternoon he walked up and down Princess Street, where he was saluted by a large number of soldiers. The lad returned the salute like a regular officer, causing much amusement to the pedestrians.

Prof. Cappon arrived from Montreal Thursday.

HAVE PURE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes Pure, Rich, Red Blood.

Your heart works night and day without a pause. It is the principal organ of the circulation of your blood. It is of the utmost importance that it should do its work well. The quality and quantity of your blood have much to do with its action. If this fluid is pure and abundant, your heart and other vital organs act with more energy than when it is defective in quality or deficient in quantity.

Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the blood pure and abundant. It is the one old reliable medicine, that has been sold for forty years, for purifying the blood. There is no better blood remedy, appetizer, stomach tonic. It embodies the careful training, experience, and skill of Mr. Hood, a pharmacist for fifty years, in its quality and power to cure.
