CITY COUNCIL MAY DECLINE

Daylight Saving Scheme in Danger—Motion to Rescind Aid, Newman's Resolution to Be Presented to Council To-night.

A special meeting of the City Council has been called for this evening to consider the report of the Finance Committee with regard to the lighting of Barriefield Camp. As stated in Monday's Whig the Finance Committee is not inclined to recommend the expenditure of $11,000 on Barriefield Camp, on these grounds: First, that the Militia Department is not putting 10,000 troops on Barriefield Heights because Kingston might pay for the lighting of the lines; secondly, because a very small proportion of the taxpayers get any benefit whatever from a large body of troops being encamped near the city, and thirdly because it is not definitely known if all of the troops as present coming in will be permitted to remain at Barriefield till November next.

The Finance Committee is recommending to Council that an electric power line be built to the camp at the expense of the city, the cost being $800. This power is necessary for the pumping of water for the troops. Council will have to decide if it is willing to expend any more money on the camp in the way of lighting. The opinion among citizens is that the Militia Department should light the camp.

Daylight Saving in Danger.

From what the Whig can learn, Ald. Newman's daylight saving scheme, which the City Council adopted a week ago, is in danger of being smothered. It is said that at the special meeting of the Council to-night a resolution will be moved to rescind the motion passed on the 22nd. There is a good deal of opposition throughout the city to the scheme because of its purely local nature, and it looks as if the Mayor and Aldermen will be called upon to vote a second time on the matter. It is whispered that some who voted for Ald. Newman's motion last week may vote the other way this evening.

When Ald. Newman on Monday waited upon the Mayor and asked him to issue a proclamation with regard to the daylight saving scheme coming into effect on the morning of June 1st, and also to order that the hands of the city hall clock be advanced at one o'clock on that morning, Mayor Richardson stated that he had no authority to do what Ald. Newman asked, and suggested that the latter move a motion in Council to-night to put the scheme into operation. This Ald. Newman intends doing. The motion adopted by Council on the 22nd was as follows:

"That all public clocks within the municipality of Kingston be moved forward one hour in advance of what is now stated standard time, such change to take effect at one o'clock on the morning of the 1st of June, 1916, and continue in force till one o'clock on the morning of the first day of October of the same year, when the public clocks will be set back one hour to conform again to standard time."

OBITUARY

Late Thomas A. Keenan.

On Monday evening about eight o'clock the death occurred of one of the city's respected and well-known residents in the person of Thomas A. Keenan, who died in his home at 256 Barriefield Street, after a very short illness. The late Mr. Keenan was born in Glenburnie over fifty years ago, and for the last nineteen years had been a faithful employee at the Portsmouth penitentiary where he worked up to his last illness. The deceased was a member of the Knights of Columbus and a Roman Catholic in religion. In politics he was a Liberal. He is survived by a wife and her two daughters, Marion and Katharine, and four sisters, Mrs. James Barrett of Barriefield, Sister Mary Alphonsa in the House of Providence, and Elizabeth and Bridget in Glenburnie.

Late Mrs. W. H. Mack.

A very sad death occurred on Monday evening when Charlotte Natilda, wife of William H. Mack, Barriefield Street, passed away. The deceased had been ill with pneumonia for a little over a week and her death was a shock to all those who knew her. On the 24th of May she was taken to the Kingston General Hospital, and in spite of all the efforts she passed quietly away. Mrs. Mack was an ardent Christian woman and was interested in all the good works of the Church, being a regular attendant of Princess Street Methodist Church. Besides her husband, she is survived by two daughters, Isabel and Elva, who reside at home, Frederick of Montreal, and William, manager of Lockett's Shoe store. The late Mrs. Mack was beloved by all who knew her and was zealous in the joys of home life.

GERMANY TAKES ALL BUT TWO THINGS.

Cannot Rob Belgium of Honor Nor Touch Supplies Sent For Relief.

Since the days of August 1914 when the German army first crossed the frontier into Belgium, a steady and merciless denuding of the country by the invading army has been going on until to-day Belgium has been robbed of all but two things—her honor and such food and materials as she brought into the country under the direction of the Belgian Relief Committee. The former no one can take. The latter the German governors dare not touch.

The work of humanity that is being conducted by the Belgian Relief Committee in Belgium is respected by the Germans, for some reason, more than they respect the Red Cross. Not an ounce of the supplies sent over the border of Holland into Belgium has been touched by the Germans. This relief is sent for the Belgians and is used exclusively for them.

Germany has taken Belgians men and women and imprisoned them, she has killed Belgian's young men and tortured her children. She has robbed industries and individuals and taken the supplies of raw materials, but never the food and clothing sent in to replace and counteract her work of devastation. Even with this condition prevailing Belgium to-day is barely a lap ahead of starvation. The need of her people is extreme. Money, want and suffering are everywhere. Women are weeping and children suffering because there is no food. Canada is appealed to give her share—to give a small part of her plenty to these unfortunate people.

The Belgian Relief Committee, 59 St. Peter Street, Montreal, is doing its utmost. It is capably handling all that is sent for relief. Has it received yours?

Letters To The Editor

Appreciated the Concert.

Kingston, May 30.—(To the Editor): May I take up a small space in your valuable paper to thank the Daughters of the Empire for the way in which they conducted a concert at Elmhurst Home of Last Friday evening. Each one endeavored their utmost to give the boys a good night and in this they were more than successful. With songs, stories, games, etc., they made the time pass away too soon. One could not expect anything less when they have such a fine body of ladies gathered round their flag. We all hope and trust they will have every success in all their undertakings.

All the boys say it was the best night's enjoyment they have had since their return. The concert started about eight and continued until after eleven. We had not one dull moment, and the boys one and all join with me in thanking the ladies most heartily for the "tip top time" they gave us.

In appreciation for the Daughters of the Empire, I remain yours sincerely A. M. Marshall, C. E.

THEATRICAL NEWS

At the Grand.

A programme of unusual excellence is being provided the patrons of the Grand Opera House for the first three days of this week. Last night the theatre was well filled, and every one present was thoroughly pleased. Heading the photoplay part of the bill is the popular actress, Pauline Frederick, in an unusually powerful drama, "The Spider." In this extraordinary picture Miss Frederick appears in a dual role, taking the part of two distinct characters, and an opportunity is given for the display of her amazing talents. A two-reel Universal photoplay, "Her Defiance," a comedy picture, "The Circus," and the Paramount Topical Budget are also shown. The vaudeville consisted of Al. Grossman in a character singing act, which was well received by the audience. Yorke Sleeth, of the Little Playhouse, Cincinnati, in a programme of society dancing, elaborated upon for the stage, having the assistance of Miss Florence Hudson, of this city, was the second act on the bill, and provided quite an entertainment for those present. Among the dances presented were "A One Step," "A Waltz Canter," "Fox-Trot, 1916," and "Fantasia Valse." All were executed with a skill showing that both are experts in this particular line, and the audience was well pleased with their work. The same bill will be presented to-night.

At the Strand.

A good-sized and very appreciative audience greeted the presentation of the photoplays at the Strand Theatre last evening. The masterpiece is a 5-act Triangle play entitled "Acquitted," in which Wilfred Lucas, Bessie Love and Mary Allen take the leading role in a story that gripped and held those present until the end. "Love Will Conquer" is the title of the 2-act Keystone comedy featuring that old-time favorite, Fred. Mace and a strong cast of Keystone players. "The Widow's Breezy Suit," an Edison comedy, "Between Father and Son," and a 2-part Bio drama, the Selig weekly of latest current events, complete the programme. The same bill will be shown to-night and at the Wednesday shows.
