(See also Page 13.)

During the winter $1,600 was collected for the 146th Battalion, to be used for band instruments. Through the generosity of A. Davis & Sons, the expenditure of this amount was not necessary. At a meeting of the officers it was decided that the money be invested in a large mess tent, equipment for the bagle band, in the securing of a baseball outfit and for prizes for athletics.

An excursion from Peterboro to Kingston for friends of the members of the 93rd Battalion has been arranged for next Saturday.

A. A. Kellmer has been taken on the strength of the 109th Battalion.

Lieut.-Col. J. F. de Hertel has returned from Perth.

The bakers of the Army Service Corps are turning out from five to six tons of bread every day, and are using three tons of flour every twenty-four hours.

Major Lech, 93rd Battalion, is spending a few days in Peterboro.

Insufficiently addressed mail to the number of over 100 is being held at the Camp Post Office because the owners cannot be found. After three days the letters will be sent to the Dead Letter Office or returned to the senders.

Earl Stroud, the little son of Major W. Alan Stroud, Depot Regiment, C.M.R., has been so inspired by the martial spirit that he is an orderly with the Army Service Corps.

To try and influence the weather man in giving a better line of wet goods a new barometer has been installed in the Infantry School office tent. It has been pointing to continued rain since being installed a week ago.

The dampness and the conditions of the road seem to deter a great many of the taxi drivers from coming to the camp as few are seen on the road or bridge now.

Col. T. D. R. Hemming, Camp Commandant, went from Cobourg to Ottawa and made an inspection of the 77th Battalion.

A large Army Service Corps truck was "stuck" in the mud back of the pay office on Friday morning, and created quite a bit of trouble before being brought out.

Prof. Buchanan gave an interesting lecture on "Other Worlds Than Ours" to an appreciative audience of soldiers in the Y.M.C.A. tent at Barriefield camp.

W. McCammon, city license inspector, has had his district extended to include Barriefield camp in recognition of the good work he is doing.

INSTALLING WIRELESS,

Which Will Soon be in Operation at the Camp.

Sergt. J. L. Hicks is now making the installation of the wireless apparatus for the camp and expects that in a few days this valuable addition to the school of signalling course will be commenced. The apparatus is now being adjusted and the work of putting it into shape for use is being completed. The power will be secured from the electric lines of the camp. The aerial for the outfit is portable, and though now erected will be re-installed with a slight change in the wiring.

THEATRICAL NEWS

To-night "Robin Hood."
Reginald de Koven's "Robin Hood," which according to report, will be given very elaborate revival at the Grand Opera House to-night, with a cast of grand and light opera singers, has enjoyed distinction that seldom falls to the lot of a work of this kind. In the first instance it was the vehicle that made the Bostonians famous, and Barnabee made the statement in his memoirs that the organization might still be intact, could they have found another opera like "Robin Hood." In the second instance "Robin Hood" has probably been the opening attraction at more new theatres than any other piece in the history of music or drama. The Bostonians had a standing order with the booking powers to give them first chance at the new theatres, and the local manager was always glad to have them, as it assured a packed house, and a social send-off. The third distinction that fell to "Robin Hood" and its composer was that it was the first American work to be performed in London, where it attained quite a degree of success, the Englishmen being interested in the legend of this famous outlaw.

At the Grand.
Another splendid bill of photo-plays and vaudeville has been arranged for the Grand for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. Pauline Frederick, one of the Famous Players' most popular stars, in "Audrey" will head the screen end of the programme. "Audrey" unravels a story of a child of the woods, her life in the home of a clergyman, and many exciting episodes, in a most pleasing manner. There will also be a two-reel Universal photoplay, a one-reel rib-splitter and the ever welcome topical budget. For the vaudeville portion of the bill two high class variety acts have been secured. Wells and Fisher in a singing and talking act have a stunt that bubbles with action, while Lauva in artistic dancing and daring trapeze novelty work is also sure to please.

"BATTLE CRY OF PEACE"
Coming to the Strand Theatre Next Week.

To do justice to the powerful photo-drama "The Battle Cry of Peace," which will be presented at the Strand Theatre on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, one would have to write almost wholly in superlatives. A strong plot is needed to thread together scenes so stirring and so terrible as those of which the photo-drama is full. Chief among the characters are an ardent advocate of disarmament and his family, who are hoodwinked by a foreign "sympathizer," who is in reality a "Ruritanian" spy. The "Ruritanian"—the nation with which the United States is supposed to be contending—have, indeed, with a modified German helmet, adopted the full German moral code. When the crash comes the spy (splendidly played by L. Roger Lytton), who is in love with his dupe's daughter, fires at a passing "Ruritanian" regiment, and succeeds in attaching responsibility for the deed to his rival (played by Charles Richman), who with other helpers—civilians—is shot down by the troops, but escapes death—only to meet it in attempting to rescue his fiancée from the brutality of an officer. The girl kills the spy, only to fall into worse peril, and the tragic end of the story comes when the mother, locked in a room with her two daughters while invading officers carouse in the next apartment, kills both daughters and herself rather than submit to dishonor.

LAKE ONTARIO PARK TO OPEN ON MONDAY.

A Splendid Bill of Vaudeville and Photo-plays in the Evening.

Lake Ontario Park, Kingston's favorite summer resort, will open for the season on Monday, June 19th. A large number of men have been working at the park for several weeks cleaning up the grounds, installing new lights, and painting the buildings, and the park never looked better than it does this season. All lovers of outdoor attractions will have an opportunity of spending some very pleasant summer evenings in the park's twenty acres of amusement grounds.

A splendid bill has been arranged as the pavilion attraction for the opening week. The programme includes some feature photo-plays and high class vaudeville. "Little All-right," a Japanese, presenting a novelty act, and Harry and Hattie Bolden, two clever colored artists, in a singing, musical, and acrobatic dancing act, are the two feature vaudeville acts. There will be two free shows nightly, at 7.30 and 9 o'clock. Admission to the park will be free by street cars, and the Street Railway Company will pay the war tax so that this charge will not be made on the patrons of the park.

Bad For Temperance.
Too much wet weather is bad morally as well as financially, for it increases intemperance. Bar-tenders and policemen will tell you that there is more drinking of hard stuff in wet weather than in dry. Saturday morning, following a prolonged out-pouring from the heavens, there were several drunks in the police cells.

On Tuesday, June 20th,
Prof. Dorenwend, of Toronto, will be at the Hotel Randolph, Kingston, with a special display stock of ladies' fine hair goods and gentlemen's toupees and wigs. An invitation is extended to all to pay him a visit and a demonstration of any style is free of charge. The visit is for the one day only, Tuesday, June 20th. Private showrooms in hotel.
