

BARRIEFIELD WAR CAMP; IN BIVOUAC AND BARRACKS

THE LATEST CAMP ORDERS RESCUED WOUNDED OFFICER

PASS PRIVILEGE HAS BEEN VERY MUCH ABUSED.

139th Men Hereafter Must Have Clergyman's or Medical Officer's Certificate to Secure Leave Owing to Illness of Relatives.

Commencing Monday next, Lieut. McGie, Machine Gun Instructor, will give instructions to battalion machine gun sections from 8.30 a.m. to 12 noon daily as follows: 93rd Battalion, 19th June; 109th Battalion, 20th June; 130th Battalion, 21st June; 136th Battalion, 22nd June; 139th Battalion, 23rd June; 146th Battalion, 24th June; 154th Battalion, 26th June; 155th Battalion, 27th June; 156th Battalion, 28th June.

The Senior Ordnance Officer, Major P. H. Pridoux, will, commencing Monday next, deliver lectures to company officers on company interior economy. The hours of these lectures are stated below. Lectures will be delivered at the headquarters of the first named unit in each case.

Monday, 19th June, 7.30 p.m.—93rd Battalion and 109th Battalion. Wednesday, 21st June, 7.30 p.m.—130th Battalion and 136th Battalion. Friday, 23rd June, 7.30 p.m.—139th Battalion and 146th Battalion. Monday, 26th June, 7.30 p.m.—154th Battalion, and 155th Battalion. Wednesday, 28th June, 7.30 p.m.—156th Battalion.

Battalions will take advantage of every opportunity to form up in brigade. To give effect to this, battalions will, when proceeding to training areas, first form up in brigade and will move from that formation as circumstances require.

If convenient, a similar arrangement will be made when units are returning from training areas, but this is not insisted upon if loss of time would result; the idea being to facilitate training and accustom men to movement in larger bodies under the brigade staffs. Also to train officers in handling their commands under all circumstances.

The allotment of ground for brigades to be formed up will be selected by the officers supervising the training of each brigade.

The senior officer of the three battalions forming each brigade will take command of the brigade of which his unit forms a part, and the officer supervising the training of the brigade will act as brigade major.

The privilege of obtaining passes through telegrams received from relatives alleging sickness has been abused to such a glaring extent that in future no such application will be entertained unless accompanied by a clergyman's or medical officer's certificate.

Men are requested to have their correspondents give their company or section as well as number on incoming mail.—Orders 139th Battalion.

AND HAS BEEN RECOMMENDED FOR A D.C.M.

F. Martin, With the 8th C. M. R., Carried in Officer Under a Very Heavy Shell Fire—He Was Wounded in the Leg And in the Shoulder.

A well-known Kingston man has been wounded at the front and recommended for a D.C.M., in the person of F. Martin, at one time a member of "B" Battery, R. C. H. A., and also formerly of the 48th Highlanders, who is at the front with the 8th C. M. R. A letter has been received by his wife, in which he stated that he was wounded in his leg, and that he was also struck in his shoulder by a piece of shell. He says that he was doing well at the time of writing, June 6th. At that time he did not know just where he would be taken.

Martin rescued a wounded officer, and has been recommended for a D.C.M. He carried the officer off the field during a very heavy shell fire.

TAKING ALL EQUIPMENT.

When the six battalions move from Barriefield camp they will take with them all of their equipment, including tents, tent floors and all such comforts, so that when they arrive in Valcartier this part of the work of establishing a camp will not have to be done over again.

The Government, it is understood, has agreed to pay $600 to each battalion to cover the cost from the battalion funds which was necessary to install the floors.

The 93rd's Fine Band.

On Sunday evening the 93rd Battalion band under Bandmaster Hughes conducted a sacred concert for the men in the new mess tent for the battalion, giving a fine programme. This band is recognized as one of the best at the camp, and brought personal congratulations from Col. T. D. R. Hemming, Camp Commandant, and Lieut.-Col. W. Brown, G.S.O., after the playing at the headquarters mess on Sunday afternoon. The trombone solo by Bandman Gilbert was particularly good.

93rd Band on Leave.

The 93rd Battalion band is on leave in Peterboro, and will return to the camp on Saturday with the big excursion that is being run to Kingston. The band will give a concert in Central Park, Peterboro, on Friday evening, and will likely give other concerts during the week, although this is the only one yet planned. Bandmaster Hughes accompanied the band.

To Move the Other Units.

The 154th, 155th and 156th Battalions, which will be left at Barriefield camp, will likely be moved from their present locations at the eastern extremity of the camp to the grounds now occupied by the 93rd, 109th and 130th Battalions. This will give the men ample training grounds, with the added convenience of being close to headquarters for inspection, etc.

Captains R. B. Richardson, D. A. D. M. S., Bell, Hicks, Malone, Houson and Keyes are making a medical inspection of all the soldiers at Barriefield camp, and commenced on the 93rd Battalion on Monday morning.

Toronto, Ottawa and Montreal papers are on sale at the Military Book Store, next to the Y. M. C. A. tent at regular city prices of 2c per copy, 10c per week delivered.

PITCHING FOR PLEASURE AND PITCHING FOR HUMANITY

Camp Notes.

Sergt. Echobichan, 93rd Battalion, and Pte. Laframboise, 154th Battalion, are in the city hospitals suffering from pneumonia.

Latest books on the Lewis and Colt machine guns, signalling, cooking, etc., on sale at the Military Book Store, next to Y.M.C.A. tent.

The camp dentists are filling many teeth, and in some cases supplying many complete sets. One man came in on Monday morning without a tooth in his head, and he is now able to smile and eat without embarrassment.

Pte. Arthur Tremblay, who has shown a wonderful talent with the piano at many Y. M. C. A. entertainments, is spending a few days at his home at Elk Lake.

One platoon will go on pass each fifth week. One week in every five will be blank. This will change the order of going on pass so that the same platoon will not be on pass after each pay day.—Orders of 109th Battalion.

Lieut.-Col. J. J. H. Fee, commanding the 109th Battalion, is minus a diamond ring valued at $250, which dropped off his finger accidentally.

Sergt.-Major Kerrison lectures to the men attending the School of Cookery every afternoon. His subject on Monday afternoon was "Diet Sheets."

Have you visited the Military Book Store, next to the Y.M.C.A. tent? Everything in the line of military text books, stationery supplies, office supplies, etc. for the man in camp.

Rev. Mr. Bingham, Talbot Street Baptist Church, London, is expected in the camp on Thursday, and will likely give addresses to the men in the Y. M. C. A. tent.

Lieut.-Col. Floyd, commanding the 139th Battalion, was in Cobourg over the week-end attending a patriotic meeting held to bring in money and men for the battalion.

Retreat is being sounded this week at 8 p.m.

Lieut. Dupuy and Lieut. Eastwood, 93rd Battalion, have returned from Ottawa, where they were in attendance at the school of musketry.

The 139th Battalion is now having the road in front of the battalion rebuilt so that with continued dry weather it will be as good as the main road. A high crown has been

MUCH REGRET AT THE CAMP ONLY PIPE BAND IN CAMP LIEUT.-COL. A. C. CALDWELL

OVER THE ORDER FOR TRANSFER OF BATTALIONS.

The Presence of Nine Battalions at Barriefield Has Not Impeded the Work of Instruction.

The news that the rumored change in location of the battalions has been confirmed by headquarters, and that a new camp grounds would be the lot of six of the nine units at Barriefield has spread a wave of regret from one end of the camp to the other. The opinions expressed so freely show how much displeasure has been caused in all ranks by the change and how the memory of Barriefield will have to be spoiled by this important action.

Most of the criticism comes from the fact that the soldiers are going into Quebec, and the benefits they will bring with them will go to people who have not themselves done anything to help the Empire's cause.

There is also the fact that bigger grounds are of practically no value now to the training of the soldiers. The work undertaken at Barriefield has not been limited by the size of the grounds, and working in squads as the training must be done, does not require extensive plains such as the Quebec camp offers. The work at the front, which these boys are training for, will be done by platoons or lesser squads rather than by battalions, brigades or divisions.

Circumstances, however, seem to be that the move is the workings of fate and a group of politicians, and the change must be made. Orders are orders for a soldier, and the only thing is to obey them implicitly or "get in wrong." Nevertheless, there is almost a feeling of rebellion among the officers and men that the change has to be made. The boys have now become settled and accustomed to Barriefield, and realize its advantages.

The change will deplete Barriefield Camp of two-thirds of its soldiers, and the "home" battalion—the 146th—will be among those to go. There are being left in the camp, however, three strong and well organized battalions, which have already shown their worth to the headquarters staff.

THE 93RD BATTALION HAS A MOTOR TRUCK.

It Came Down From Peterboro on Sunday In Six Hours.

The 93rd Battalion has a Ford motor truck to carry the many articles that are needed in a hurry by the battalion from one point to another and make it independent of a number of transportation applications that now have to be made to the Army Service Corps. The truck was brought down through the muddy roads from Peterboro by Lieut. Ketchum in six hours on Sunday, which certainly establishes a record for quick transport. The machine was presented to the battalion by Mrs. J. R. Stratton, and was given to Lieut.-Col. Johnston in recognition of his wonderful organizing ability in making the 93rd one of the best battalions in the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

Boston Colonel in Camp.

Col. Greaves, 8th Regiment, National Guards, of Boston, Mass., was in camp on Monday, and was delighted with the splendid system which he saw in use by the Canadian army. Particular attention was paid to the School of Cookery, which is conducted west of the 93rd Battalion lines. He was more than pleased with this method of cooking, and enthusiastically congratulated Sergt.-Major Kerrison on his exhibit.

Visit the Military Book Store, next to the Y.M.C.A. tent, for latest military text books.

IS THAT OF COL. FLOYD'S 154TH BATTALION.

Under the Leadership of Drum-Major McCleod, the 139th Is To Have a Pipe Band.

The 154th Battalion has the only pipe band at Barriefield camp, but if the move to the Quebec camp had not been ordered, and in fact even before the 139th pulls out, there will be a second, for Col. Floyd's unit has recognized the value of the Scotch music. Under the able leadership of Drum-Major McCleod, there will soon be a pipe band in the 139th to give music to that fine body of men. The brass and bugle bands, however, will not be done away with, as the splendid musicians in these organizations will be used in the new band after they have been given the additional training.

There are three qualified pipers in the battalion now to assist Drum-Major McCleod, and it is hoped that in a few days the pipes will be here, so that the new band can be formed.

109TH BATTALION.

CAPT. R. B. MCCONNELL, Adjutant.

FORTY-FOUR MEN

Were in the Camp Field Hospital on Monday Morning.

There were forty-four men in the Field Hospital on Monday morning. The Field Ambulance Corps, under Capt. R. M. Filson, is doing a splendid work at the camp, and deserves much credit for the expediency shown in handling all of the many cases of sickness. Owing to the strict sanitary orders in use, the percentage of men sick is very small, but all that are "under the weather" are well taken care of. The men are first reported to the battalion medical officer, and the chain is from him to the Field Ambulance Corps, which looks after all transportation to the Field Hospital or to the base hospitals in the city.

Choir Leader Goes Overseas

Colborne, June 20.—Capt. E. E. Latta, Colborne, has left this week for overseas, and will be attached to a Canadian hospital. The Colborne Methodist Church choir, of which he was leader for some years honored him by being present at the depot as a body to bid him good-bye, and presented him with a cash gift.

Pembroke people are much pleased to learn that Major W. J. Moffat is now second officer commanding the 130th Battalion, filling the post made vacant by the transfer of Major Wait who has been called to organize and command the new 240th Lanark and Renfrew Battalion. Major Moffat is a graduate of the Royal Military College.

TO ADMINISTER ENGINEERING SERVICES IN DOMINION

His Work in the Canadian Services Has Been Highly Commended—Went Through the South African War.

The promotion of Lt.-Col. A. Clyde Caldwell, commanding Royal Canadian Engineers in the 2nd military district, to the important post of officer administering Royal Canadian Engineers for the whole Dominion is announced, and Col. Caldwell will take over the post left vacant by Col. G. S. Maunsell, C.R.E., who has gone overseas. At the same time Col. Caldwell will carry on the work of C.R.C.E. for the district, and to facilitate this arrangement his headquarters will be in Toronto, where he will have an office at 215 Simcoe Street, in the old headquarters building. The new work which will come within Col. Caldwell's province will include that of making appointments, promotions and transfers on the engineers' staff both for the Royal Canadian Engineers and the Canadian Engineers. He will also have the supervision of training depots, the duty of sending overseas engineering units and drafts, and, in general, the administration of work in the services from Halifax to Vancouver.

Lt.-Col. Caldwell, whose work on the Toronto district headquarters staff has met with the highest commendation, is one of the most experienced officers now on the district headquarters staff, his services including active work in the South African War, when he was an officer under Col. W. D. Otter (now brigadier) in the 2nd Battalion Royal Canadian Regiment, and later at Ottawa, Halifax and Toronto. At Ottawa he was on the headquarters staff as Assistant Director of Intelligence, and he had a considerable amount to do with the formation of the Corps of Guides in Canada, becoming major in that unit, to which he was attached for some years. Subsequently he commanded the fortress company, R.C.E., at Halifax, and came from that post to the Toronto division as commander Royal Canadian Engineers, the position he had held up to the present. In addition to this Col. Caldwell is official secretary to his Honor the Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

Soccer is Popular. Among the Camp Soldiers—93rd To Play 109th. Soccer games seem to be very popular among the soldiers at the camp, and every evening some hard-fought game is played on the camp grounds. The 93rd Battalion has two very strong teams, which yet to decide the supremacy of the battalion's soccer ability. The teams lined up on Friday night and played a one all tie game, and a picked team will play against the 109th aggregation on Wednesday night. The 93rd teams lined up as follows: "B" Company. "C" Company. Morrison ... Goal ... Collette. Scutt ... Back ... Collette. Gower ... Back ... Selkirk. Cudland ... Half ... Hardie. Spring ... Half ... Crow. Roberson ... Half ... Williams. Richardson ... Forward ... Clappison. Manning ... Forward ... Bonberry. Monk ... Forward ... West. Barker ... Forward ... Pears. Jamieson ... Forward ... Smith. Referee—Sergt. Theobald.

Officers and N.C.O.'s.

Of the 93rd, 109th, 130th, 139th and 146th Battalions, before leaving this city should see our line of military text books. It is the largest and by far the most complete line in Canada, containing all the latest editions, amendments, field service manuals, etc. Military Book Store, next to the Y.M.C.A. tent.
