TIDINGS FROM LANSDOWNE

CHILDREN KILLED IN CROSSING ACCIDENT BURIED

Impressive Funerals were held on Saturday — District Convention of Women's Institute held Friday, June 16.

Lansdowne, June 19.—The funerals of the two little victims of Thursday evening's accident were held on Saturday. That of Harold Leggett was held at 10.30 a.m. at the house, the remains being taken to Elgin for interment, and that of Herbert McKay, at 2.30 p.m. in the Presbyterian church, the body being placed in the vault.

Rev. Mr. Decker preached both sermons. It was indeed one of the saddest things witnessed here in years. Both children were exceptionally bright, many little fellows, and were inseparable companions, as their homes were close together. They were not to blame for the accident as the long freight train prevented them hearing or seeing the light engine. It was also raining, and they were carrying an umbrella. Herbert was killed almost instantly and Harold lingered for about two hours, but was unconscious. The attendance at the funerals was very large as the deepest sympathy is felt for the heart-broken parents, and also great indignation that such a dangerous crossing is allowed in its present condition. Hardly a day passes that some one does not have a close call, and several have been killed at the same place in the last few years.

The Lansdowne Rural Telephone company has had considerable difficulty in getting operators for Central. Joseph Warren, whose tender was first accepted, could not accept owing to ill health. The next lowest tenderers, Miss Cross and Mrs. Winburn, were asked to take it, but declined. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Johnston have now accepted the office, and will begin their new duties July 1st. There are about 400 subscribers.

E. E. Johnston is remodeling the Fredenburg Block, and when finished, will have one of the best equipped hardware stores.

Robert Turkington has purchased the residence of James Keating. Clark Johnston, son of Wesley Johnston sustained a fall from his bicycle on Thursday evening, breaking his collar bone, and being otherwise bruised.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Landon, Fine View, N.Y., a son, Mrs. James Lorimer and two children, Brockville, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Burns.

The district convention of the Women's Institute was held on Friday, June 16th, in the Town Hall. Delegates attended from Westport, Newboro, Delta and Elgin. Mrs. R. G. Leggett, district president, presided. Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Chapman, Engin and Mrs.

Breckenridge, Westport, and two splendid addresses were given by the government delegate, Miss Olive E. Hayes, Parkhill, Miss Vera Birch, Delta, and Miss Gladys Mooney, Lansdowne, contributed to the musical portion.

Miss Elizabeth Stewart, Regina, Sask., is visiting her sister, Mr. Geo. F. Johnston, J. D. W. Darling is in Winnipeg, Man., as a delegate to the Presbyterian General Assembly. Miss Lucia Jack, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Cook, Chicago, Ill., returned home last week. Mrs. Cross, Chesley, Ont., is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Edmund, Latimer. Mr. Dewolf, cheesemaker at Tilbury, is ill with blood poisoning in his hand. A young daughter has arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffin. Mrs. James Tedford is quite ill.

OTTAWA TO PETAWAWA TRUNK ROAD PROPOSED.

Representatives of Several Municipalities Are Urging Scheme

Renfrew, June 21.—A modern trunk route for vehicular traffic between Ottawa and Petawawa is now the aim of that section of the Ottawa Valley, following the big military encampment, following the campaign which has been for some time in progress for a good road to connect Ottawa with Prescott and Ogdensburg.

A meeting was held in Hotel Renfrew yesterday of men interested in the scheme, with John Brennan, Reeve of Arnprior, presiding, and W. E. Smallfield of Renfrew acting as Secretary. Delegates were present from Pembroke, Arnprior and Renfrew, and from the townships.

Mr. Brennan reported having seen in Toronto Hon. T. W. McGarry, who had commended the scheme, and said that the Ontario Government would probably be willing to give dollar for dollar.

Mr. Brennan had reason to believe that the Dominion Government would aid in establishing a good road between the Federal capital and the Dominion's biggest permanent military encampment.

A committee was appointed to take up the matter of getting an Ottawa Valley organization for the promotion of the building of the proposed road.

A GRIPPING STORY.

Frank Hamilton Spearman, author of "The Girl and the Game," is a writer of red-blooded and virile English, a master painter of intrigue in the circles of the elect and the do and dare of the great outdoors.

In "The Girl and the Game" he has taken unto himself a tremendous subject—society to-day, with its pampered daughters, its financial trickery, its heroism, its victories and defeats.

From his pen have come some of the most entrancing stories in recent years. His writing has what publishers call "punch." He has thrills that are human ones and human made. In "The Girl and the Game" he carries the action of the story from the great guarded goals of wealth in Wall street to the dingy, smoke-begrimed dwellings alongside some railroad right of way. He has written of the great game of finance, with its woman element and its trickery; all the human entanglement to be expected in a man-made war of steel against steel.

We have been fortunate in securing "The Girl and the Game" for our next serial. Be sure to read it next Saturday, and follow the pictures as they appear at Griffin's Theatre each Monday and Tuesday.

HE'S NOT CONCERNED ABOUT THE PUBLIC

Sir Sam Hughes Doesn't Care a Hang What Public Are Saying.

Ottawa, June 21.—Major-General Sir Sam Hughes told the Davidson Commission yesterday afternoon that he didn't care what the Admiralty paid for the condemned Canadian ammunition sold in the fall of 1915 through the instrumentality of Colonel J. Wesley Allison, ostensibly acting as agent for the Canadian Vickers, Limited; he hadn't read the evidence; didn't care a hang what the public were saying about it; was concerned only in the fact that Canada got full value for the ammunition sold; had enough to do with running his own show in Canada without bothering about the interest of the British Admiralty; didn't feel called upon to undertake any investigation now to see whether or not any profits or commissions on the sale should be returned either to Canada or to the Admiralty; believed that Col. J. Wesley Allison was "a cleaner man than Hartley Dewar, K.C., ever was," and that Allison when acting directly as the agent of the Militia Department never made one cent of commission or profits.

Soldier Not a Suicide.

London, June 21.—Cardiac failure, due to gastric irritation, was the verdict returned at the adjourned inquest at Shorncliffe on Leslie Peter McCormick, 526456, of the Medical Corps, found dead with a morphine syringe in his pocket, a fortnight ago. The theory of suicide was dismissed by the evidence of the analyst.

Conscription Not Necessary.

(Special to the Whig)
London, June 21.—The Railwaymen's Congress at Leeds, England, to-day adopted practically a unanimous resolution declaring that the railwaymen viewed with disgust the enactment of a conscription law and saying the measure was entirely unnecessary.

Evening Gown With Charming New Sleeves.

When in quest of an evening gown, be sure to select something novel, even though the novelty of the design is achieved through the smallest detail. Flowing sleeves of chiffon strike the unusual note in this evening frock of white satin crepe. The skirt has a simple tunic gathered at the waist-line and joined to the bodice under a soft girde of self-material. A satin cord outlines the pointed outer-front, while the round neck and upper sleeves are hemstitched.

In medium size the costume requires 7 yards 36-inch crepe, with 2 1/2 yards 36-inch chiffon for the wing sleeves.

The process of cutting is greatly simplified because the underbody back and front are cut in one piece. This section of the pattern is laid on a lengthwise fold of the material, and to the right of it is placed the upper sleeve, on a lengthwise thread. The collar and peplum are also laid on a lengthwise fold, but between these are sandwiched the outer front of the bodice, laid on a lengthwise thread. The back and the cuff are also laid on a lengthwise thread. The winged sleeves are not included in the pattern, but may be cut in triangular shape and draped to suit the fancy.

For round or V-shaped neck, cut out neck edge of underbody on indicating single small "o" perforations. If desired without sleeves entirely, cut out along small "o" perforations near the arm-hole.

When the sleeves are omitted straps of velvet or satin are substituted. They are draped low over the arm and silver lace is also a prominent detail edged, perhaps with one or two lace frills.
