ESCAPED PRISONERS INTERVIEWED FARMER.

Below Cape Vincent and Satisfied Themselves They Were on U. S. Soil.

Regarding the escape of three Germans from the Fort Henry internment camp, the Watertown, N.Y., Times says:

As Charles Cook, a farmer living on the road between Clayton and Cape Vincent, about two miles from Cape Vincent, was about his farm, he noticed a large launch coming at a rapid rate and stopping on the shore. Some men got out of the boat and hurried over to Mr. Cook.

The spokesman of the party, who was a German about thirty years old, ran up to Mr. Cook and asked, "What country is this?"

"This is the United States," replied Mr. Cook.

"The mainland?" continued the German.

"The mainland," replied Mr. Cook. "What is that?" asked the questioner, pointing toward Wolfe Island.

"That is Wolfe Island, belonging to Canada," replied the Cape Vincent man.

"What nationality are you?" asked the German of Mr. Cook.

"I am an American, and my people have been for several generations back," replied the Cape Vincent man.

These answers seemed to satisfy the three Germans as they conferred among themselves for a moment in their own tongue, and started off toward the woods, leaving the boat on the beach.

The Canadian soldier appeared about this time and told his story. The story walked to Cape Vincent village, where he found Immigration Officer W. D. Lewis, and informed him of the arrival of the three Germans in this country.

Immigration Officer Lewis at once began steps to round up the three Germans, who, if captured, will be charged with entering this country illegally.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. John's Church, Smith's Falls, Wednesday, when Hilda M. Quinn, Smith's Falls, was united in marriage to Thomas G. William, Meriville.

Last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Royal Moore, Athens, their second daughter, Miss Pearl A., became the bride of Arthur Leach, Smith's Falls.

Nervous and Almost Crazy With Pains in the Head

Clergyman Certifies to This Cure of Nervous Prostration by Use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

No ailment is more discouraging than Nervous Prostration. You may feel better for a day or two, only to find the next day that you have lost ground and are worse than ever. The headaches are worse, languid feelings are terribly depressing. As you lose strength you lose hope and courage and look to the future with fear and trembling.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is the greatest blessing that has ever come to the sufferer from nervous exhaustion. It is not narcotic in its influence. It does not deaden the trembling, irritated nerves, but through the medium of the blood nourishes them back to health as nothing else can.

Mrs. Alonzo B. Elmer, Blitown, King's county, N.S., writes:—"I was very low with nervous prostration and was about discouraged, as I could not sleep nights and was almost crazy with the pain in my head. I had tried many doctors, but seemed to get little benefit from their treatments.

"A friend handed me Dr. Chase's

SEVEN BROTHERS WEARING UNIFORM.

Record of the Panet Family—Three Have Been Decorated.

If there is one family which has shed a lustre on the name French-Canadian in this war that family is easily the Panet, which has given seven brothers to the army, three of whom have been decorated. The Panets have played an important part in the political world of Canada, and particularly in military matters. They are well known in Canadian society, particularly at Kingston, Ottawa and Quebec.

A letter received recently from London says: "I was pleased to meet Henri Panet, who came to my office yesterday bearing on his breast his new decoration, a C. M. G., which he has nobly earned. His brother Eugene, who is also at the front, wears the same medal, and Edward has been also decorated. Behold, these boys who do us proud! They are also D. S. O.'s. Henri is not only a good officer, but an excellent Christian, who has, by his example, done a great deal of good in the world. I know something of this from his brother officers who hold him in great esteem. There are seven Panet brothers all in the army. Their father, Hon. C. E. Panet, resigned a senatorship to accept a position as a deputy minister, which position he filled for twenty years, from 1877 to 1897. I do not believe that in all Canada there is another family, French or English, which has given seven sons to the army of whom three have been decorated."

Who Went With A. M. C. Now With the Cycle Corps.

Mrs. B. Layzell, 166 Bagge street, has received a very interesting letter from her son, Pie, Donald Layzell, who left with the C. A. M. C., with Colonel A. E. Ross, and is now with the Cycle Corps. He says, under date of June 16th:

"I am glad to tell you that I am in the best of health and spirits in spite of the terrific fighting that has been going on here this last two or three days. We have certainly lost some men, but it can be nothing to what the Germans have lost. "I got hit in the back with a piece of high explosive shell, but it did not do me any harm. It certainly made me hop a little bit, and left a lovely bruise and a little remembrance. "I still think I am a very lucky fellow to be out here so long with an armed company without getting it in the neck. There are not many of the infantry, that came out here when I did, left, but I suppose we all get our day. "I do not think this war can last much longer. The Russians are advancing on the Austrians all right—good luck to them. We captured 200 prisoners the other day, and we certainly used them good. We took them to our baths, and then to our giving them a good rest before going down to the base. They were a fine looking lot of men, but I think they all seemed as though they would rather be in our hands than with the Germans."
