

THE SILENT, BUT EVER ALERT GENERAL JOFFRE. On one of his recent inspection tours in the Verdun district. He is shown with the dark suit.

BRITISH ACTIVITY IN MESOPOTAMIA. Aviator about to start on a flight over the Turkish lines to drop bombs.

LATEST PICTURE OF THE U. S. SUPERDREADNAUGHT PENNSYLVANIA. Which was but lately placed in commission. The vessel is of 32,000 tons, and is not surpassed by any other fighting craft afloat.

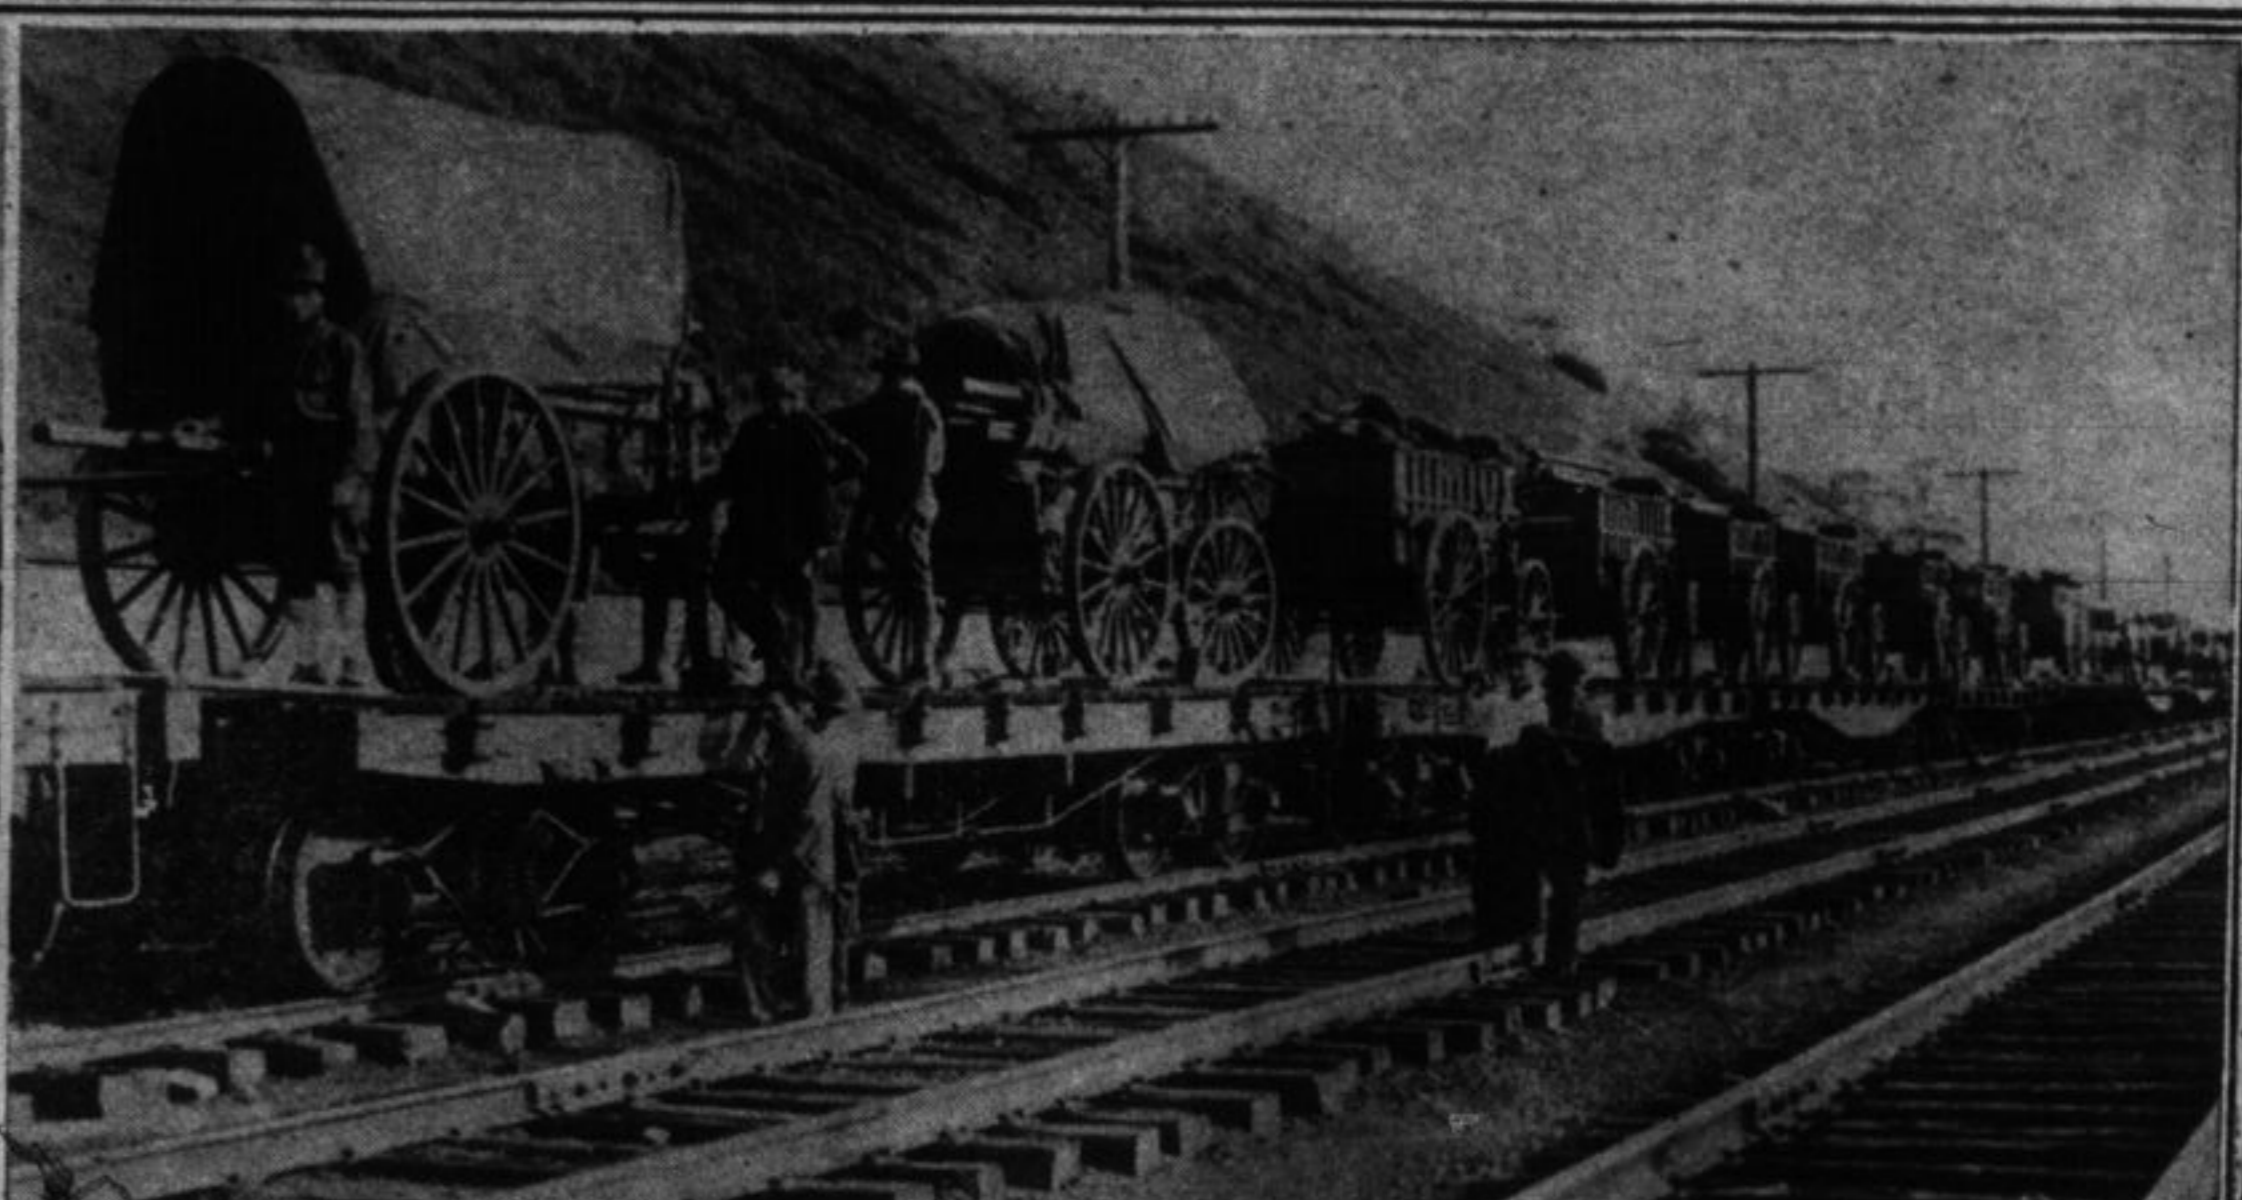

CALISTHENIC SQUAD OF THE NEW YORK POLICE DEPT. Going through one of their stunts at their field day at Sheephead Bay Speedway on Saturday, June 24th.

CHEERS AND TEARS FOR FIGHTING 69th. For the third time famous New York regiment marches away at nation's call. Photo shows 69th passing lines of friends and relatives as they arrive to entrain for the camp at Bookman.

A HERO AMONG BATTERY D, 2ND FIELD ARTILLERY BOYS. Photo shows Private B. C. Weal of Company D, 2nd Field Artillery, N. Y. National Guard now at Van Cortland Park. Private Weal was a Captain in the Canadian Black Watch Regiment, which entered the battle of Ypres with 1,287 men, and came out with only fifty effectives. Besides the battle of Ypres he was in the battles of New Chapelle and La Bassée. He was five months in the trenches and was wounded in the battle of Ypres. He is now ready to battle with the Mexicans.

EQUIPMENT FOR THE 22nd ENGINEERS. Photo shows long string of cars loaded with equipment bound for camp Beacon.

LINCOLN'S ARRIVAL IN LONDON.

Photo shows Tribitch Lincoln arriving at Euston Station, London, in the custody of Chief Inspector Ward and Sergeant Brewer. Lincoln is now being tried in London as a spy. He was extradited from America a short time ago.

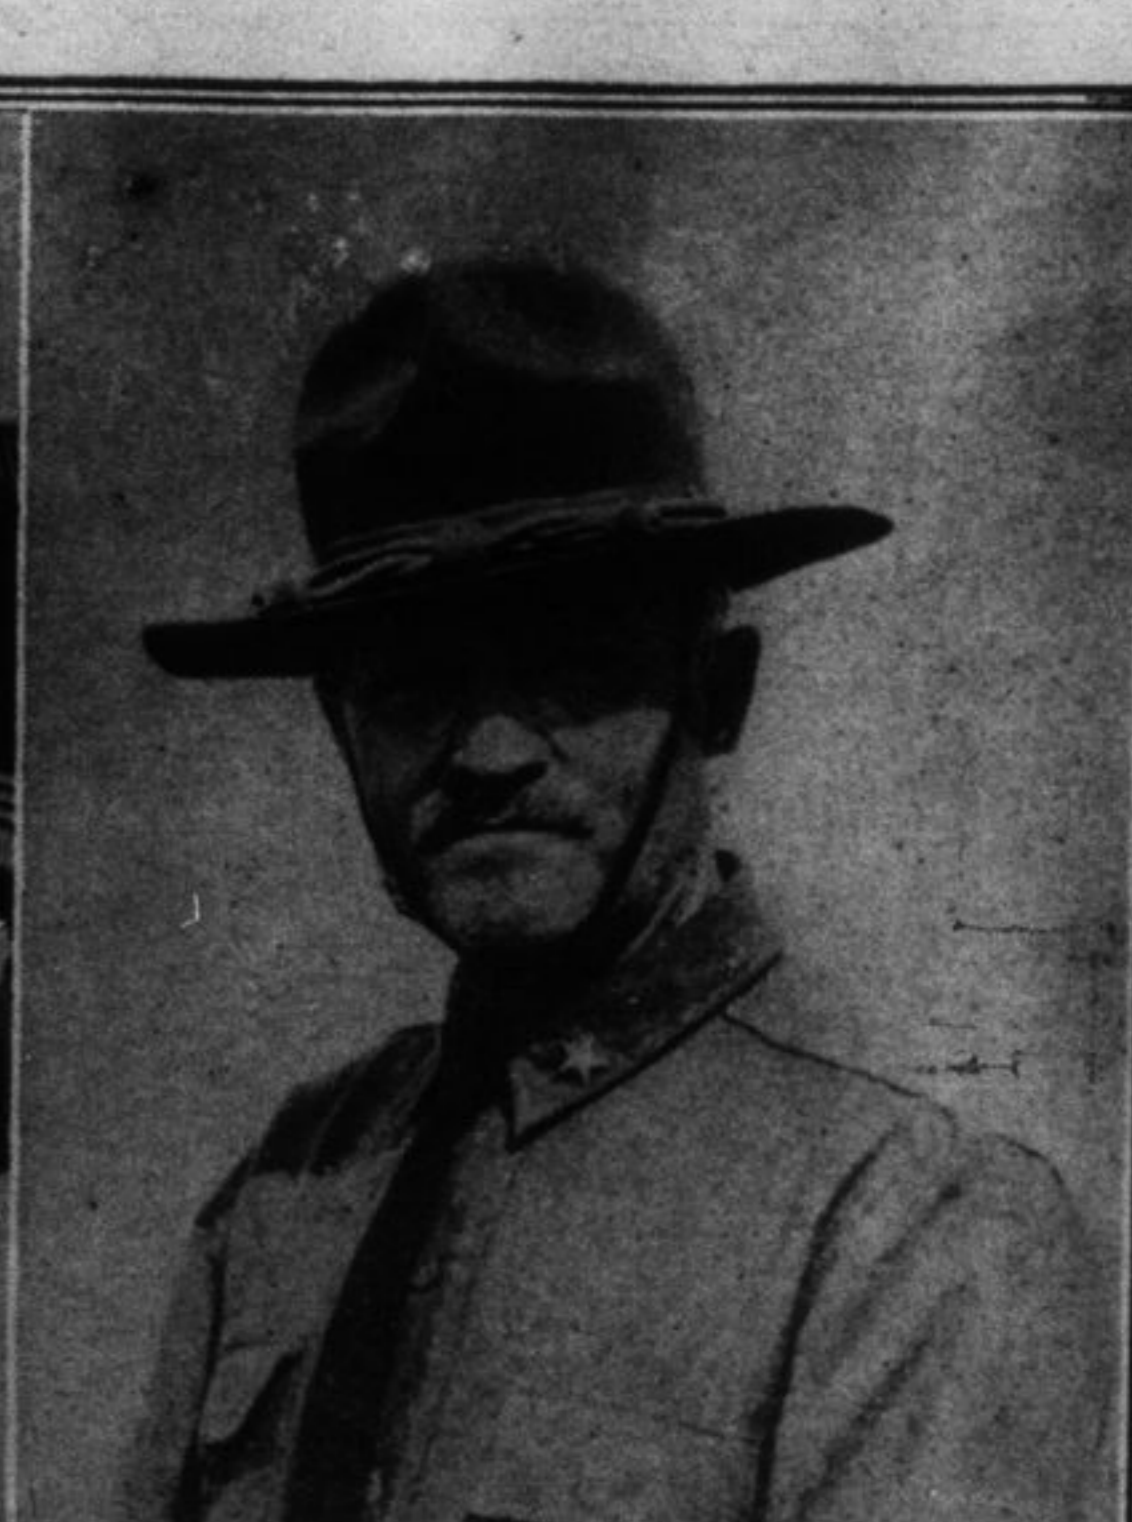

Scene in the office of the Committee on Industrial Preparedness of the U. S. Naval Consulting Board showing operator at work on electric punching machine tabulating returns from the nation wide inventory of the plants of 75,000 American manufacturers now being made by this non-partisan committee, with the volunteer aid of many thousand highly educated engineers for the purpose of mobilizing U.S. industrial resources as the backbone of the national defense.

ADMIRAL MAYO SUCCEEDS FLETCHER.

Rear-Admiral Mayo has succeeded Rear-Admiral Fletcher as commander of the Atlantic fleet. Photo shows Admiral Mayo shaking hands with the officers aboard the Wyoming.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

The latest photo of General Pershing, who is in charge of the American troops in Mexico and upon whom much depends at the present time.