Its a Treat

To chew King George Navy Plug. Made from pure, rich tobacco, every ounce of which is carefully selected, then blended according to our process.

King George's
NAVY PLUG

Has a delicious, non-irritating sweet taste—and it is universally recognized that sweetened tobacco is much more healthful than the old fashion "strong", unsweetened plug.

It leaves a long, lingering flavor and guards the teeth from the ravages of "acid mouth", the cause of nearly all tooth decay.

GREAT PLAYS BY WAGNER
WHO IS FORTY-THREE, BUT IS STILL A STAR.

A Thrilling Play Related of Honus in 1911—Most Dazzling Fielding Stunt in the Game's History.

Wagner, in his forty-third year and twentieth in uniform, betokens no going back or slip of the veteran to date. He still has an eye for the spot, evidenced by his improved stick-work in 1915, when he batted .276 and gained 29 points over 1914. His record when he batted .300 or over for 17 consecutive years was surpassed only by Capt. Anson, and a big part of that hitting was not in the National League.

Six other great hitters trailed Wagner in consecutive batting. They are: Dan Brouthers, Willie Keeler, Hugh Duffy, Jesse Burkett and Ty Cobb. Wagner's sensational fielding has brought fans into frenzies. The Dutchman covers ground wonderfully.

Business Manager Shetline of the Phillies, told of a play by Wagner on the Phillies' grounds and calls it the greatest he ever saw. The writer recalls the play. One man was out and the Philis a run behind. With Masego on, Honus played for the plate. Lobert hit to fly 20 feet behind second. Wagner scooted back; he couldn't turn, and the ball arched itself in front of him. But he ran with the ball that he could not see. The great baseball instinct that directs his every move took him to the spot and he stretched out his hand. Magee was 20 feet down the line, but seeing Wagner's arm poised for a throw he retreated and scampered back to third, for the Dutchman's throw was as true as a die. The ball travelled on a line and went straight to the plate in Gibby's mitt. He threw from a sitting posture and the catch was made blind.

Chief Meyers relates a thrilling play in New York in 1911. Devils was on second. Meyers up and a new white ball in play. Meyers streaked one like lightning past third. Scooting in long strides, Honus dived, smothered the ball in his glove and threw the ball back-handed and blindly square in Byrne's glove. Devil slid into the ball.

"Most dazzling fielding stunt in the game's history, and there'll never be another Wagner," said Meyers.

A lot of amusement grew out of the story that Matty watches the feet of Honus when he pitches. Honus was cartooned in many amusing batting postures. They had his big brogans concealed in wash boilers, buckets, paper bags, burlap bags and every known creation. As Honus went to bat the crowd yelled:

"Matty, watch his feet!"
Honus wigged his left heel amusingly at the crowd and 15,000 Gotham game lovers roared with laughter. Matty got Honus in a hole. The ball shot like a cannon ball and banged a sign in deep left, three feet from the fence. The ball came near going into Eighth avenue, and this would have made a world's record, as it never had been done.

TORONTO STILL A FACTOR.

IN the International Baseball League Race This Year.

Despite their double defeat on the "Glorious Fourth" and the fact that they have lost four of the last five games played, the Leafs can still be considered as factors in the International League race, says the Toronto News. There has been an all-round improvement in the pitching. Herbert has delivered himself of two good games the past week and McGinnity, though he had some bad luck, has shown fine form. It was not to be expected that Shocker could go on for ever at top speed. He was due to stumble at some stage or other and signs have not been lacking of late that were calculated to lead to the belief that he was beginning to feel the strain of carrying the entire team on his shoulders. He was beaten yesterday, but his downfall in a great measure was brought about by bad fielding. The youngster is entitled to a rest. He is too good a player to be spoiled by over-work, no matter how willing his spirit. Manager Birmingham has Russell and Manning in reserve and all-things considered his twirling staff is as good as any in the league. Providence is coming back to the field since they left home, and if the Leafs get going successfully on their coming home stand they will speedily make up lost ground.

STADIUM AT CAMP BORDEN.

Seats to be Provided for From 15,000 to 20,000 Men.

At Camp Borden preliminary work in preparation for the construction of a monster stadium and athletic field for the troops here was begun yesterday when fatigue parties, totaling nearly a thousand men, started in tearing up stumps and dead wood from an open space at the eastern end of the main street of the camp. Capt. Tom Flanagan, director of military sports, with Lieut.-Col. Dick Greer, of the Sportsmen's Battalion, were both on hand superintending the work, and by the beginning of the next week a start will be made on the stadium and racetrack, the former, which is to be a simple arrangement of seats on the level with a raised stage or ring, being designed to seat from 15,000 to 20,000 men, while the racetrack will have a circumference of a third of a mile. The entire field is to be enclosed by a nine-foot wall.

Decorated Ball Player's Grave. Bloomington, Ill., July 6.—Members of the National League decorated the grave of Charley Redbourne, the old National League star, here to-day. F. C. Bancroft, who managed the Providence Club in 1884 when Redbourne pitched 72 games in one season, conducted the ceremony. The Cincinnati club played an exhibition game here to-day.

BASEBALL BRIEFS.

Catcher Doolin, of the Giants, is coaching "Pie" Way, the former Yale pitcher, and George Smith, the Columbian boxman.

The Giants may land Slim Sallee. McGraw needs pitchers and has offered $15,000 for the Cardinal twirler.

When they came back from the west the Giants were fighting for the lead. They are in the land of the golden sun to-day fighting to keep out of the cellar.

The Jersey City Independents have on their team several well-known players, including Catcher Jacklitch, Tom Downey and Eddie Grant, the former Giant.

"Heinie" Wagner has been signed as a scout and coach of the Boston Red Sox. Wagner, a one-time Red Sox player, has been managing the Hartford club of the Eastern League, but was recently released.

Joe Mathes, who was with the St. Louis Feds in 1914, has been released by Syracuse and is with Terre Haute. Mathes is a St. Louis boy.

Cozy Dolan was hit on the head by a pitched ball first time up at Indianapolis recently. The ball was hurt so that the pitcher gave "good old Cozy" five successive bases on balls.

Detroit asked waivers on George Burns last spring. Burns is now second to Speaker among American League batters. He was benched for weak hitting in April.

Cobb and Mathewson have given up golf as bad for baseball. Cobb says it spoils the batting swing and Matty says it cramps his pitching arm.

Red Roche tried at second base for Richmond and fell down, owing to lack of condition. Joe O'Rourke, a shortstop of McCloskey's Cardinals, is playing second for Richmond now. O'Rourke was a wonderful wild thrower and made a first baseman out of Ed. Konetchy.

Carroll Brown, who was wont to sing the Browns to sleep in years gone by, has been sent from Memphis to a team in the South Atlantic League. Some slump.

Lee Tannehill, who played third base with Jones' world's champions in 1906, is playing third for South Bend in the Central League.

Jack Chapman, who discovered Hugh Jennings and gave him his first engagement at Louisville in 1890, died at Brooklyn recently. Chapman was a famous manager and played with the Atlantics of Brooklyn in the 70's.

Joe McGinnity, aged 48, is up to his old tricks of pitching double headers. McGinnity won one of two games he pitched in one day for his Butte, Mont., team recently. Butte is a big money maker this season and McGinnity is getting back a good deal of the $27,000 he says he lost at Tacoma.

President August Herrmann of the Cincinnati Nationals has announced that he has indefinitely suspended Pitcher Jean Dale, formerly of the Montreal team, who, he said, had disobeyed orders to remain in Cincinnati and had gone to his home in St. Louis. Herrmann said Dale had been reprimanded Sunday by Herzog after losing a game to St. Louis Sunday night, but left for his home after declaring he was through with baseball.

Danny Hoffman, who threatened to be a Ty Cobb in 1905 and who was with the Browns in 1908, has been released by Bridgeport, Conn., his home city, and has quit the game. Hoffman is a favorite with Bridgeport people. They gave him a watch and ring recently. Connie Mack thought Hoffman was bound to be a great star, but Jesse Tannehill hit and almost killed him with a pitched ball in 1905. Hoffman never was the same player again.

A Coming Event. The spring meeting of the Windsor Jockey Club, generally regarded as the premier race meeting of the Canadian circuit, starts next Thursday. While this meeting is being held on the Canadian side of the river, it draws almost entirely from Detroit for its clientele. Conditions are so prosperous in Detroit just now the mutual play this meeting will probably bust all records.

SPORTING NOTES.

Miss Anna Kean of Philadelphia, who last summer swam from Atlantic City to Ocean City in eight hours thirty-eight minutes, is preparing to attempt the twenty-mile test between Ashbury Park and Lavaletto, never accomplished previously.

The last seasons' association football matches conducted by the English Football Association showed the revenue from all sources amounted to only $1,500. In 1913-14, immediately preceding the war, the amount footed up $25,000.

Ernest Barry, the world's professional single sculler, who is a member of the English army, is at Winchester, training Sergeant Pat O'Keefe, the middle weight boxer, for his coming contest for the title. O'Keefe has won the honors twice and expects to score a final win, which will give him the cup.

Harvard University has won the intercollegiate lawn tennis championship by defeating Yale University, seven games to two. Harvard loses by graduation Captain R. N. Williams, 2d, A. F. Doty and A. S. Peabody.

Lafayette College is trying to organize a middle states intercollegiate tennis association. A single and doubles elimination series will be contested.

Ted Meredith, holder of the Eastern intercollegiate quarter and half mile records, has ambitions to lower Norman Taylor's mile mark of 4:12-3-5. Meredith not only may break this record, but also the middle distances this summer and fall. Lawson Robertson is coaching Meredith.

J. S. Edstrom, president of the International Amateur Athletic Federation, the world-wide governing body of sports, recently arrived in this country from Sweden. He will study the American system of athletic instruction during his tour of this country.

Inter-city association football is planned in the United States for next fall. It is likely the championship of California will be determined as a result of matches between teams of Los Angeles, Fresno, Sacramento, San Francisco and other cities.

Marshall, Victorias; and J. Price, Chesterville.

Promoters Lost $2,000.

The Moran-Dillon ten-round fight didn't stagger the box office. It worked havoc with the promoters. The total receipts of one of the best heavyweight scraps seen since the inception of the Frawley law amounted to $28,521.
Moran received $20,000 for his share, and Dillon $10,000 instead of $25,000 and $15,000 respectively.
The weather man was good to the show. There must be something wrong with the fight game.
The promoters will suffer to the extent of a couple of thousand dollars after paying out expenses and incidentals.
