YOUNG TORONTO BOYS ARRESTED AT PORT HOPE.
Both Wanted in City On Several Charges of Theft.

Port Hope, July 12.—Lionel Craig, fifteen years of age, 331 Wallace avenue, and Frank Sheehan, aged fourteen years, 22 Wallace avenue, Toronto, were arrested here on Saturday evening.

The boys left their homes about ten days ago and have been wandering about the country ever since. When arrested they had in their possession two bicycles, two watches, a quantity of jewellery, a box of cartridges and a Toronto police, and it has since been learned that both boys have very bad records.

Sheehan recently escaped from the shelter, and both are wanted in Toronto on several charges of theft. Their parents were communicated with but refused to furnish the necessary money for their railway transportation to Toronto. In the meantime they are being held in custody.

"If He Got Half a Chance."
Annprior, July 11.—None will criticise the grant of $100 by the Renfrew county council to Rev. Mr. Quartermaine, the Lloyd George of the Children's Aid movement in this county. We'd like to see some one give Mr. Quartermaine a few acres of wooded land, a fine old home, and some money just to see to what lengths he really could go if he got half a chance.

The Late James A. Grant.
Brockville, July 11.—The death took place in Chicago on Tuesday last of James Allen Grant. He was a son of the late Walker Grant of this town. His father was a member of the well-known Grant family of Elizabethtown, and was the owner of the fine property for a number of years known as St. Lawrence Park, now Glenora Park, owned by the Ogilvie family.

In Marine Circles

The schooner Julia B. Merrill, from Oswego, is unloading coal at the Waterworks wharf.

The steamer Belleville passed down to Montreal on Wednesday morning. The sloop Ariadne is in port, loading a general cargo for Rideau canal ports.

The steamer Jex cleared for Oswego. M. T. Co.'s Bulletin: Tug Emerston arrived light from Morrisburg, and cleared for Sodus Point to bring the barges Hiawatha and Kingston to Kingston; steamer India arrived light from Montreal, and went on the Kingston Shipbuilding Company's dry dock.

A despatch from Halifax says: Contrary to expectations there are now good prospects that the Montreal Transportation Company's steamer Stormont, which went on the Gull Line, Guysboro coast line, June 20th, will be re-floated. A few hours after the steamer ran ashore the captain and crew were forced to abandon her, as she was lying in a dangerous position, and it was feared she would go to pieces, as she was pounding quite heavily. She was hard and fast on the rocks four miles off shore, but now there is reason to believe the steamer will be re-floated and patched up to be brought to Halifax for repairs.

Wrecking boats have been working since the mishap occurred, and reports that the steamer can be saved. At the time of the wreck the Stormont was on her way from Philadelphia to Sydney to load coal for the St. Lawrence. She is of 1,955 tons gross.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Daniel Strachan.
On Tuesday the death occurred of Neoma Strachan, wife of Daniel Strachan, 3 Toronto street. Deceased was born in Kingston forty-four years ago, the daughter of John Heeley, and has always been a resident of the city. In religion she was an Anglican, a faithful member of St. Luke's Church.

Former Kingstonian Dead.
The death occurred very suddenly, at Cobden, on Tuesday morning, of a former resident of Kingston, in the person of Nathaniel S. Garfield, who had for the past eighteen years, resided in Gilmour & Company, wholesale grocers, Brockville, on the road. He formerly travelled for the W. J. Crothers & Company, Kingston. He was born in Castleton, Ont., and was sixty-four years old. His wife died ten years ago.

The Late Pte. R. J. Maloney.
On Tuesday another of the King's soldiers passed away in the person of Pte. R. J. Maloney, 130th Battalion. The deceased was twenty-five years old, and born in Ashdod, the son of J. B. Maloney.

Several months ago the call of duty was heard, and the young man enlisted in the 130th Battalion under Lieut.-Col. de Hertel. He was only in the army a short time when he contracted a cold, which later developed into a more serious ailment, and he has been ill for the last three months.

The deceased was a Roman Catholic in religion and a Liberal in politics. The remains were sent on the 10.40 C. P. R. train on Wednesday morning as shod by S. S. Corbett, where interment will take place.

The Late James Doyle.
Citizens will generally regret to hear of the death of James Doyle, Victoria street, when Mr. Doyle was a well-known draper and wholesale butcher in the city, and for the seventy-seven years of his life had been a resident of the city, except for a few years, while he resided in Montreal.

Last March the deceased was taken ill. He improved, as time went on, but had a relapse on Thursday, and passed away on Tuesday morning.

The late Mr. Doyle was a staunch Liberal and a Roman Catholic. Besides his wife, he is survived by five children: Mrs. P. Danford, Westmount, Mrs. P. Tierney and Miss Kie, of this city; Martin W., at home, and Charles S., who is a soldier overseas.

Mrs. Elizabeth E. Smith.
Another death occurred at Westbrooke a few minutes after midnight on Thursday morning, when Mrs. Elizabeth Eleanor Smith, widow of the late James Smith, passed peacefully away, after a painful illness of several years' duration, having been helpless for years. She was predeceased by her husband five months ago.

The late Mrs. Smith was the daughter of the late John Gates, Westbrooke, and was a life-long resident of that place, and was in her seventy-fourth year, being born Oct. 3rd, 1842. She was well known and highly respected. Seven sons and four daughters are left to mourn. George A. Parham Walter and Frank, Odessa; Albert, Overton and A. Victor, North Dakota; Eliza and William, at Westbrooke; Alonzo L. Birch, Columbia; Mrs. James Doyle, Bath; Mrs. Levi Stora, Verona, and Mrs. George Shepherd, Elginburg; also two brothers, James Gates, Boone, Iowa; George Gates, Westbrooke, and one sister, Mrs. Annie Bass, Dayton, Iowa.

Theasket was covered with beautiful floral offerings. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. L. M. England from her late residence on Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, and was very largely attended. The remains were interred at Cataract cemetery.
