MANUFACTURING OF RENNET

JOSEPH CRAMER HAS BEEN TURNING OUT FINE EXTRACT.

"Cheese King" of Frontenac County Prevents Factories From Having Serious Setback—Suggests Meetings for Study of Question.

Following the great scarcity of rennet, which threatened to give the cheese factories of Frontenac County a serious setback, Joseph Cramer, the "Cheese King" of the county, stepped into the breach and has been supplying a number of the factories with a fine extract of rennet. Mr. Cramer knows cheese making from A to Z, and his product cannot be surpassed. Three of the leading cheese factories, Glenburnie, Verona and the new factory at Sydenham, would have had to close their doors but for Mr. Cramer. A sample of his product was sent to Mr. Ruddick, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, and he has pronounced it O.K. in every respect. Mr. Cramer has also sent rennet to Napanee, and his output has been the means of helping out the factories in their time of trouble. Mr. Cramer says that he will put his rennet up against any in Canada. His idea to keep the dairymen busy in their trying times is that of holding a series of meetings throughout the county for the purpose of appealing to the dairymen to save their rennet, and to have them trained in the dressing of their veal. The use of too much acid and not enough rennet is the reason given by Mr. Cramer for such a poor output of the extract.

Saturday's Illustrated Whig.

Four more pictures of classes in Victoria School will adorn the illustrated section of the British Whig to-morrow. These classes are as follows:

J. I. Class, Miss Connor, teacher.
Jr. I. Class, Miss Laturney, teacher.
Sr. I. Class, Miss Abrams, teacher.
II. Class, Miss Greer, teacher.

Among the other local pictures are the following:

Sergt.-Major J. S. Edwards, 146th Battalion.
Melville Cooke, C.A.S.C., son of J. B. Cooke, Kingston.
Signaller Frank Funnell, 33rd Battery.
Q. M. S. W. J. Dickson, 146th Battalion.
Signaller Jack McDonald, R.C.H.A., now in France.
Photo of six Kingstonians of the 21st Battalion, now in France: These include Sergt.-Major William Murray, Corpl. Thomas King, Q. M. S. Frank Ludlow, Capt. Andrew McCully, Pte. Shangrow, and Pte. Edward Hipson.

The general war pictures in to-morrow's issue are extremely interesting. There are many pictures of the National Guard of the various States in training for the Mexican frontier.

New type of American gun is shown.

French fighting at the Verdun front.

French at Fort Vaux, charging through wire entanglements.

Destroyed German Zeppelin being reconstructed.

Gen. O'Ryan, commanding New York National Guard.
Judge C. E. Hughes.
Ex-President William Taft.
Etc.

HARD TO GET HELP, LITTLE BOY ON JOB.

Employed As Helper On Work At the City Buildings on Thursday.

Just how hard it is to get help was shown in case at the City Buildings on Thursday.

Tinsmiths have been at work making some repairs to the market house and on Thursday afternoon it was noticed that a boy in short trousers was employed as a helper for one of the men engaged on the job. The youngster climbed the ladder and made himself useful just like a man, and proved to the spectators that he could do his "bit" with the best of the workmen.

In every line of trade in the city comes the report that it is hard to get help. So many men have responded to the call from King and country that it has been found absolutely necessary to push the boys to the front, and make them fill the men's places.

VETERANS AS BEARERS.

Selected by Cape Vincent Man Two Years Ago.

The funeral of Major James Hervey, Durham, who died at his home in Cape Vincent, N.Y., on Tuesday morning, was held from his late home in that village on Thursday at 9.30 a.m. Rev. Charles Raynor, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, officiated.

The body was taken on the 10.50 train to Brownville, where interment was made in the family plot beside his first wife.

The following veterans of the civil war, residing at Cape Vincent, acted as bearers: Alfred Bush, Edward Moore, C. R. Gardner and Gilbert Chapman. Major Durham selected these men to be bearers at his funeral on July 30, 1914. The major was seriously ill at that time, and it was feared that he would not recover. He made arrangements for his funeral, but he rallied, and was soon able to be about and visited Watertown several times since then.

Had a Good Trip.

A large number took advantage of the moonlight excursion last night which was put on by Brock Street Methodist Church. The evening was delightful and several hundred made the trip. The boat left the wharf at eight o'clock and arrived home at a quarter past ten. There were a large number of soldiers and many civilians on the boat.

Portsmouth School Board.

There was a meeting of the Portsmouth School Board on Thursday night, when the estimates for the year were under consideration and a number of accounts passed. The question of the appointment of a new teacher was also under consideration. Three applicants were received, and will be acted upon before the opening of the school.

Has Returned Home.

WILL TRY AND GET MEDAL.

For Corpl. Tallion, Who Showed Marked Bravery.

The attention of the local branch of the Humane Society was drawn to the daring act of Corpl. Tallion, C.A.S.C., in rescuing Pte. George Hall, 130th Battalion, and Pte. W. J. Miller, 109th Battalion, from drowning through the article in the Whig on Wednesday night, which gave an account of the affair. J. R. C. Dobbs announced on Thursday that efforts are being made by the local branch to obtain a medal for Corpl. Tallion in recognition of his services.
