In Marine Circles

The steamer Keyport passed up for upper lake ports on Sunday. The steamer City of Ottawa passed down to Montreal on Sunday. The schooner Julia B. Merrill arrived from Sodus Point on Sunday with a cargo of coal, and is discharging at the waterworks wharf. The schooner J. B. Kitchen arrived from Oswego with a cargo of coal for James Swift & Company on Sunday.

The marine representative of the Whig was shown through the auxiliary schooner Starlite, which arrived at the Kingston Shipbuilding Company's wharf on Sunday night. This boat is somewhat of a novelty on the great lakes, and is an object of admiration of the men in marine circles. It is one of a series of six built in Toledo, Ohio, for the Standard Oil Company, and will be used for trade between New York and Buenos Ayres, carrying coffee and manufactured products. It is driven by Stielol oil engines, and they are a marvel of compactness, and the facility with which they are started, merely by touching the oil with a lighted torch, amazes one. The boat is constructed entirely of steel, and is equipped with wireless. The boat will likely clear on Tuesday, if the canal is repaired, and will proceed to New York to start on the ocean trade. In about a month's time it is expected that another of these boats will be passing this way. The others are named Moonlite, Twilight, Daylite, Sunlite and Brightlite.

The schooner Katie Eccles arrived from Sodus with coal for Robert Crawford.

The schooner Metzner, a former well-known coal carrier, at this port, which has been engaged in trade out of Deseronto, is now being sailed by Capt. C. Daryean, formerly of the schooner Ford River, and has arrived in port with a cargo of coal from Oswego for Anglins.

The schooner Abbie L. Andrews will clear to-night for Oswego.

M.T. Co's. bulletin—The steamer Windsor arrived light from Montreal, and her next trip will be to load coal for Montreal; the tug Emerson arrived with the barge Melrose from Port Colborne; the latter transhipped 48,000 bushels of wheat to the barge Davie; the steamer India arrived with the barge Ungava from Port Colborne; the Ungava discharged 70,000 bushels of wheat into the elevator; the tug Bartlett will clear with the barges Ungava and Melrose for Port Colborne.

It was reported on Monday morning that a serious break had occurred in the Lachine Canal, and that it would likely require ten days to repair the damage.

Pastor on Holidays.

Rev. E. R. McLean, pastor of Cooke's Church, is enjoying his vacation. With Mrs. McLean, he left on a trip west. He will attend the Summer School at Grimsby, and will also visit in Palmerston. Rev. K. W. Barton, Prescott, a graduate of Queen's University, occupied the pulpit at both services at Cooke's Church on Sunday, and delivered two thoughtful discourses. At the open session of the Sunday school in the morning the special study lesson was on "Moses." The slides shown on the canvas made the study most interesting.

THE SINGER OF METHODISM

REV. LEROY RICE EULOGIZED CHARLES WESLEY.

Said His Singing Had Much To Do With Spread of Methodism—Superior Song Service in First Congregational Church.

A special musical service was rendered Sunday night in the First Congregational Church by the excellent choir, which was ably assisted by the Military Y. M. C. A. The music was of a high order, and was very much enjoyed by the congregation.

The pastor, Rev. E. LeRoy Rice, gave an interesting address on "Charles Wesley, the Poet and Singer of Methodism." He began his discourse by telling of a conversation he had had with a prominent Presbyterian. This follower of Calvinism explained that back of the disfavour with which many Presbyterians view the church union was snobbishness. The Presbyterian Church had its origin among the well-to-do and educated classes, and, to a certain extent, was aided by the state. On the other hand, the Methodist Church had its rise among the common people of England, and, unaided by the state, swept like a conflagration over the country, touching and transforming the hearts of the masses. The speaker ventured the opinion that if more Presbyterians knew the history of Methodism and of the wonderful things it had accomplished there would be less opposition to church union.

Methodism owed its success as much to consecrated singing as it did to consecrated preaching. John Wesley was a great preacher, but his brother, Charles Wesley, was as great a singer. The singing of Charles prepared the hearts to receive the word as preached by John. Every great revival was accompanied by a revival of song. Moody and Torrey preached and Sankey and Alexander sang. Billy Sunday has great choirs to help him. The speaker said he didn't wish to criticize, but he believed that if a large choir had supplied music for the Crusaders' Camp meetings, which had just been brought to a close in the city, a larger number of people would have been influenced for good.

Charles Wesley was said to have written over 6,000 hymns. Many of these had perished with the passing of the years but many others had come to be recognized as precious heirlooms of the Christian Church, and were to be found in the hymnbook of nearly every denomination.

Referring to some of Charles Wesley's hymns, the preacher said that "Love Divine, All Loves Excelling" typified Methodism. Calvinism emphasized the justice of God and His hatred of sin, while Methodism presented the infinite love of God and His infinite compassion. Was it any wonder that Methodism, which told, in song and sermon, of God's love had reached the hearts of the masses?

The preacher announced that in subsequent addresses he would deal with other hymn-writers, and hoped to take one from each denomination.

The Woman Who Sat by the Well.

Rev. A. S. Doggett, of the Montreal district, preached an address in Queen street church Sunday night. He took for his subject the woman who sat by the well of Samaria, and old of the interest Christ took in a distorted life. In the concluding part of his sermon the preacher emphasized the noble effects of a correct life.

NO REPLY AS YET.

From the Canadian National Features Limited.

No reply has as yet been received from the Canadian National Features Company, Ltd., regarding the agreement which was submitted to the company some time ago. Ald. W. J. Fair, chairman of the Civic Industries Committee, received word that Mr. Reagan, the legal advisor of the company, who was in the city at the time the matter was before the City Council, had been out of Toronto on business for a few days, and that he would be home on Tuesday.

Nothing further is known concerning the attitude of the company towards the proposed agreement. It was hoped that the Council at its meeting to-night, would have something to work upon.

CITY COUNCIL TO-NIGHT.

But a Small Grist of Business Is On For the Meeting.

There will be a meeting of the City Council to-night—that is if there is a quorum. Two weeks ago the Council was called but as there were not a sufficient number of members present, the meeting had to be called off. The warm weather is evidently having an effect on the "City Fathers."

However, there is very little business on the slate, and if there is a quorum, the business can be disposed of in quick order, and if the members see fit they can take holidays for the rest of the summer.

Mary Pettitt Doing Well.

Mary Pettitt, 276 Ontario street, is doing as well as can be expected after being knocked down by an automobile on Friday night. She is suffering from a painful bruise on the right knee and thigh, and the X-ray was put on her leg at the Hotel Dieu on Saturday. Her mother, Mrs. George Pettitt, states that so far no apology for the accident has come from the driver of the automobile which knocked down the child. The father, Driver George W. Pettitt, of "C" Battery, R. C. H. A., is expected from Petawawa and will take up the matter at Headquarters. The number of the car is known. Driver Pettitt is determined that some restitution shall be made.

Harvest Help Excursions.

Harvest help excursions will again be run this year via Grand Trunk Railway to points in Western Canada, and usual fare of $12.00 to Winnipeg will be in effect. Dates will be announced later.

OBITUARY

The Late Mrs. Thomas Milton.

The death occurred on Sunday morning of Mrs. Milton, Brock street, widow of the late Thomas Milton, Barriefield. She was a daughter of the late William Allen, County Tyrone, Ireland, latterly of Kingston. Mrs. Milton leaves two sons and three daughters to mourn a devoted and loving mother. They are John, Kamloops, B.C.; William, Barriefield; Mrs. George Graves, Nancy and Caroline at home.

The Late Mrs. Sarah Dixon.

On Sunday the death occurred of Mrs. Sarah Dixon at Millburn at the age of sixty-nine years. The deceased was a Methodist in religion. The funeral took place on Monday to Sand Hill cemetery.

The Late J. C. Meagher.

The removal by death, at his residence, Marysville, on July 7th, after two weeks' illness, of the late John C. Meagher, is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Deceased was born in Massena Springs, N. Y., in 1836, but had lived the greater part of his life in Tyndinaga, where he successfully followed the occupation of farming. Upright and honest in business transactions, a perfect gentleman, and much given to hospitality, visitors were always made to feel welcome while under his roof. He was a great entertainer and always had a story to relate to suit the occasion.

The funeral, on July 10th to St. Mary's Church, was very largely attended. Solemn requiem mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Meagher, after which the remains were laid to rest in the family plot in St. Mary's Cemetery. The spiritual offerings were numerous. Surviving are his widow, formerly Miss Nellie Sheehan, daughter of the late Michael Sheehan, of Westbrook; one daughter and two sons, namely, Mrs. Byron Scanlon, Grafton, John, on the homestead, and Frank, conductor on the G.T.R. at Topfield, Alta., also one brother, William H. Meagher, of Nanaimo. The bearers were Archibald Campbell, Patrick McAlpin, Patrick McGummers, John Falvey, William Carrigan and Thomas Hayce.

Letters To The Editor

Are Not Satisfied.

Valcartier, July 17.—(To the Editor); Referring to a letter in your paper of Saturday in which it is said that the 146th Battalion had not to go on drill until 8 a.m., I wish to say that the man was badly misinformed, as we go out every morning before breakfast and drill for as much as half an hour. Then we are on the field again at 7.45 a.m. In the matter of being satisfied, the men are far from that. They took us away from our home town and gave the other battalions at Barriefield furloughs and keep us down here when the most of the farmers' sons of Frontenac are serving in the 146th Battalion.—A VOLUNTEER.

His Farewell Address.

The Irish evangelist, C. J. Stephens, gave the last of his series of talks at the Crusaders' Camp on Sunday night to the largest audience that has yet gathered on the grounds. He delivered a soul-stirring address. There will be a lantern talk to-night.

THREATENED TO THROW CONSTABLE IN WATER.

Two Noisy Drunks Were Taken To the Police Station and Afterwards Released.

Two Italians who had been loading up on beer during Saturday afternoon, were at the Wolfe Island ferry wharf about eight o'clock on Saturday night, and were very noisy. Constable Earl Jenkins ordered them to keep the peace, but the men from sunny Italy did not take very kindly to the remarks of the officer, and in reply to his request to be good, threatened to throw him into the harbor. Constable Jenkins then took them in charge and landed them in the police station. The men did not attempt to carry out their threat and were placed in a cell with very much trouble. The men were allowed out on Sunday.

Another drunk was also given his liberty, and as a result there was no session of the Police Court on Monday morning.

S.A. Service in Park.

The Salvation Army conducted services in the City Park Sunday afternoon, a large crowd being in attendance, including many soldiers. The ladies' band was present and rendered a number of excellent selections. Vocal solos were well rendered by Mrs. E. Baker, Miss May Newman and Bandsman A. Baker. Ensign Smith gave an inspiring address, in which he likened the Christian to a soldier.
