LITTLE HOPE OF MODIFYING BLOCKADE.

Attention To Business—If You Don't Like Smell, Keep Out of Kitchen.

Washington, July 20.—Although it is declared Wilson will continue vigorous efforts to modify the British blockade, government officials have lost hope of accomplishing their purpose soon.
 With adverse action by the British government on the president's representations for Red Cross shipments into Germany and food into Poland, and with England's announcement of a black list on certain American firms, it was stated authoritatively to-day that little hope is held for a satisfactory termination of the present diplomatic intercourse.
 Another protest was sent yesterday on the Red Cross situation. Further appeals are pending for Polish relief, and strong representations will be made against the black list.
 "But a high official of the government, and a man close to the president, said: "These people (the Allies) are indeed earnest. They have their teeth set and their eyes fixed on a given goal. They are paying little attention to anything else. They will accede to no demand they believe might delay now reaching the end they desire."
 "And they have told us—in almost so many words—that if we don't like the smell of the frying over there we'd better keep out of the kitchen."

WORKERS' GREAT PROMISE

Will Provide All Guns, Shells and Ships Needed
 London, July 20.—"You shall have all the guns, and all the shells and all the ships you need," is in effect the unanimous message of the workers of the United Kingdom to the navy and army.
 "To keep the big offensive going, and the Grand Fleet as efficient as ever, there shall be no stinting of supply and no break in the continuity of the output."
 Between 400 and 500 delegates of the organized trades voted this decision after conferring in Caston Hall, Westminster, with representatives of the Government, who asked the munition, transport and other workers to put off for the present all idea of summer holidays.
 The decision was heartily and enthusiastically and the conference ended with the singing of the National Anthem. "An incident," says the Chronicle, "probably unknown at a labor conference any time within the last thirty or forty years."

PLEA OF HUGHES.

Nonius Expects All Factious to Bury Their Differences.
 New York, July 20.—Charles E. Hughes told callers that dissensions among his supporters must cease; that he expected all factious to get together in their various localities, subordinate what he termed their petty differences and work for the election of the national ticket and a majority of Republicans in both branches of Congress.
