

Conservative Clothes

Many men, possibly including yourself, prefer the more conservative and kind-you-are-used-to models in suits. Such suits are the backbone of our business. They practically sell themselves! And because they are "willing horses" so to speak, we don't often take a whack at them in the newspapers. However, the point is, that should this be the sort of suit you want, we're sure that we can satisfy you because we have a fine showing of these modest garments, at

"Laddie" as Lieut.-Col. Bedell calls his Boston Bull, was on the sick parade on Wednesday suffering from severe wounds on the face and body. The cause of the trouble has not yet been secured but an exhibition after "Laddie" gets into training will likely be arranged. Col. Bedell is anxious to know how the other dog is faring.

Mrs. W. H. Magwood and family, Cornwall, and Mrs. Frederick G. Robinson, Grenville, have arrived to take over camps on the water front and be near their husbands in the 154th battalion.

Arrangements are being made to run an excursion for the presentation of colors to the 155th Battalion on July 29th. The Argyll Chapter of the Daughters of the Empire have been getting the colors and making the arrangements. The reason given for having the presentation at Belleville rather than at Kingston are the assistance such a gathering would be to recruiting, the holiday for the boys of the battalion and the opportunity it would give the residents of that district to see their battalion as a unit. The expenses of the trip to Belleville would be borne by the soldiers themselves.

Lieut. Paul B. Whitney, late of Brockville, is promoted to the rank of captain in the 164th Overseas Battalion.

It is understood Capt. G. I. Campbell, chaplain of the 146th Battalion, will be retained for some time as recruiting officer of the 3rd Military District. Capt. Campbell will be given the rank of major.

Huycke, Peterboro; Smith, Madoc, and Dennis, Cobourg, are enroute home to convalescence.

Fairly good progress has been made in recruiting in Montreal for the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, Kingston. Out of sixty volunteers already thirty-eight men have been sworn in and sent on to Kingston, which is an unusually large percentage.

Three officers of the 207th left today for Kingston to take further training. Lieut. Veits of No. 2 company (Civil Service), and Lieut. McCuaig, commanding the machine gun section, will qualify as captains. Capt. McInnis, the new chaplain, will take the regular course for infantry officers, so that he can enter more intimately into the life of the battalion.

Major Pinard of the 230th Battalion and Lieut. Garland of the headquarters signallers, visited Barriefield Camp on Friday.

The 109th top-of-war team won from the 155th on Wednesday night. It was a hot go.

There will be no route march manoeuvres on Saturday as originally planned. Regular work will proceed as the soldiers had their holiday on Tuesday.

The ladies' band of the Salvation Army gave a fine concert in the tent of the 155th Battalion on Wednesday night. Capt. Dodds made a happy address.

Major King, of the quartermaster-general's staff, Ottawa, was at the camp on Thursday visiting his father-in-law, Sergt. John Hughes, 109th Battalion.

Early in the month a private in officer's carb led twenty-six men past the guard at the gate, giving the salute. The men disappeared and have not been heard of since. The officer's uniform was expressed by C.O.D. The deserters were Western Ontario men.

Capt. C. J. Kane, adjutant of the 146th Battalion, who underwent an operation, is progressing satisfactorily at his home on Gore street.

Had Delightful Time. The students of the Summer School had a delightful afternoon on Wednesday, taking a trip on the steamer Missisquoi to Alexandria Bay and return. It was an occasion of marked sociability, and the students became very much better acquainted by this outing than they would otherwise have been.

CORNER STONE WELL LAID

R. C. CHURCH BEING ERECTED ON WOLFE ISLAND.

Ceremony Was Conducted by Archbishop Spratt, Assisted by Several Clergy—$1,000 Subscribed at Ceremony—Confirmation Preceded Laying of Stone—Immodest Dress Scored.

In the presence of a large concourse of parishioners the cornerstone of the new Church of the Sacred Heart, Wolfe Island, was laid Thursday morning by His Grace Archbishop Spratt, assisted by several clergymen.

The laying of the corner-stone was preceded by confirmation which the Archbishop conducted in the present church. His Grace, in this service, was assisted by Father Fleming, parish priest of Wolfe Island; Father Halligan, secretary to the Archbishop, and Father Keeley, of South Mountain, Ont. There were twenty-six boys and nineteen girls confirmed. The impressive ceremony was witnessed by a crowded church.

The Archbishop admonished the candidates for confirmation in a kindly manner, pointing out some of the guide posts of life. He went particularly upon the need of modesty in dress. In this connection he roundly scored the low-necked dresses and the short skirts of today. These, he said, were the cause of much of the immorality of the present day. He advised the members of the congregation against wearing such apparel, and said that nobody thus attired was permitted to approach the communion rail in St. Mary's Cathedral.

His Grace also referred to the evils of the liquor traffic and emphasized the virtues of temperance. He spoke approvingly of the Temperance Act, which would come into effect next September. He gave point to his remarks regarding temperance by asking all the candidates to sign a pledge, promising to abstain from the use of liquors until they were twenty-one years of age. All signed the pledge as a result of the Archbishop's appeal.

Laying of Corner-Stone.

The Archbishop, priests and parishioners then repaired to the scene of the new church, when the ceremony of laying the corner-stone was then gone on with. In addition to the clergy, many of the parishioners were on the platform which had been placed over the foundation of the church. Previous to laying the corner-stone His Grace blessed the interior and after he said the stone he blessed the exterior.

The Archbishop referred to the building of the new church which, he said, would be a handsome edifice and a credit to the parish. He called upon the people of the parish to support financially the undertaking, and expressed the hope that the debt on the new church would be wiped out as soon as possible. He then invited contributions toward the building fund, and many responded to the invitation, about $1,000 being realized.

The priests present, and who all assisted in the laying of the corner-stone were: Fathers Hanley, rector of St. Mary's; Halligan, secretary to the Archbishop; McDonald, Portsmouth; O'Connor, Napanee; Keshoe, Gananoque; Kinsey, Cushingall; Staley, Railton; Keeley, South Mountain, and Fleming, parish priest of Wolfe Island.

What Are in Corner Stone In the corner stone were placed the names of Archbishop Spratt and Father Fleming, and date of the ceremony, samples of the various coins of the realm, and copies of the Daily British Whig, the Toronto Globe and the Catholic Record and the Canadian Freeman.

The church, which is situated immediately behind the present structure, which will be done when the new one is completed, will be a handsome Gothic structure of stone, and will seat a thousand people. It is to be completed a year from next June. The architects are J. Power & Son and the contractor is R. Sheehy of Peterboro.

The contract price was $56,600 and about two thirds of that amount is already in sight. There is $20,000 in cash, the rest being made up of subscriptions.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the Archbishop and priests were entertained at luncheon by Father Fleming.

DOPE WAS EXAMINED.

B. Blackall Made a Report For the Provincial Detectives. B. Blackall, chemist with the N. C. Polson Company, made an examination of the samples of dope taken from Guard John Brown. He found the one marked "M" contained 62 grams of morphine sulphate.

The other packet marked "H" contains 42 grains of di-acetyl morphine hydrochloride, introduced into medicine under the registered name of heroin hydrochloride.

The values of the same would be about 65 cents and $1 respectively.

Prisoner's Mother Fainted. A number of the relatives and friends of Guard John Brown were in Court and heard the evidence. After sentence had been passed and the prisoner's mother, she fainted in the police station corridor, and had to be assisted to a couch in one of the police rooms.

THEATRICAL NEWS

To-night At the Grand.

The Grand is about the coolest theatre in town. This is shown by the excellent patronage given it during the summer months. Its reputation for high-class photoplay productions and vaudeville also lives, despite the heat. For to-night, Friday, and Saturday, with daily matinees, that favorite screen ingenue, Marie Doro, will appear in the headline photoplay which will be a picturization of the famous novel, "The Heart of Nora Flynn." It is a quaint story, and bubbles with amusing situations and trying climaxes. There will also be a two-reel Universal film, a one-reel comedy of the forget-the-weather variety, and the always interesting Paramount Travel Series. On the vaudeville section James Blount, a happy singing comedian, makes his Kingston debut, while the Misses Harris and Nagel, said to have one of the best sister acts in vaudeville, come highly recommended.

That old-time favorite, "Foxy Sterling," will also be shown in the latest Keystone comedy in three parts entitled, "The Snow Cure." Other good reels will also be shown.

At Griffin's.

The management of Griffin's Theatre announce for Friday and Saturday the greatest newspaper play ever written, "The Fourth Estate," by Joseph Midill Patterson, featuring the popular screen stars, Samuel Ryan, Ruth Blair and Clifford Bruce. The story is very appealing and true to life, and should be enjoyed by everyone who witnesses it. Included in our programme will be the twelfth episode of the popular and mystifying serial, "The Iron Claw." Have you found the laughing Haster?

Lake Ontario Park.

The extreme heat in the city yesterday again brought out an immense crowd to Ontario Park last evening to enjoy the cool breeze and get a breathing space. At the two vaudeville entertainments, in which Messrs. Perry and Livingston, artists of merit in their several lines, they were recipients of commendation for their efforts. This evening an entire change of programme will be presented. In the vaudeville new songs will be given and several other features. The new pictures are well recommended, being a three-reel feature photo-play, "The Unknown," a one-reel comedy, "Bursting Hearts," and Pathe News, picturing scenes in Europe and the United States.
