SUBMARINE OFFICER KILLED ON SERVICE.

Sergt. Amos Pugh, Nephew of Mrs. J. H. Walker, Princess Street.

Mrs. J. H. Walker, 39 Princess street, received word Monday morning that her nephew, Sergt. Amos Pugh, had been killed on June 30th while on active service. The word reached his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Pugh, on July 11th at their home at Fenton, Stoke-on-Trent.

The deceased was a petty officer on a British submarine and had many exciting experiences. He came out from England to Canada about ten years ago and for seven or eight years lived in Toronto. A year before the commencement of the war he returned to the Old Country with his father, who had come out to visit him, and later enlisted for service.

The Walker family has made a noble contribution to the cause of the Empire. There are now about thirty members of the family with the colors. Several of these have been killed and a number wounded. Mrs. Walker's son was killed recently while engaged with the enemy in France. A brother of the deceased has been in France since the beginning of the war and was through all the big battles including the retreat from Mons. No word has been received from this lad for five months, and although his name has not appeared on the casualty lists, his parents think he is dead.

ASKED TO APPLY

For License to Run Hotel From the License Board.

Kingston hotel keepers are being asked to apply to the Board of License Commissioners for Ontario for a standard hotel license, but it is not likely that they will do so as they cannot see what benefit there is in paying to be under the jurisdiction of the Board. The application for license states that the hotel or house possesses all accommodations required for the travelling public.

THE KNIGHTS OF THE GRIP

ENJOYED A PICNIC ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

At the Summer Home of A. W. McMahon—Twelve Automobiles Carried the Picknickers to and From the City.

On Saturday afternoon one of the most enjoyable of the picnics which have been held this season was that held by the Knights of the Grip at "Cedar View" at the summer home of A. W. McMahon. The knights and their families to the number of sixty left early on Saturday afternoon for the scene of the festivities in twelve automobiles which had been kindly loaned for the occasion.

Everyone who attended the picnic voted it a great success and as it is the first which has been held, the organizers feel well satisfied with their efforts.

In the afternoon a baseball match was played between the trunk men, captained by George Smith, and the grip men, captained by Thomas Stewart. The captain of the former team twirled and the balls he shot over the plate were so mystifying that his team won out by 7 to 6. J. Crawford played the part of Dr. Umps and gave out his decisions so well that after the game he was presented with half a pound of tea. Special mention must also be made of the pitching of Morris Woodcock whose sizzling balls forced the opposing batters.

On the completion of the game, which was so close that it lasted eleven innings, Alfred Abernethy presented the winning team with a cup which he has donated for annual contest while the picnics are held.

There were also a number of foot races which were greatly enjoyed. In the fat man's race A. W. McMahon came in first and was followed by Edward Greenwood. In the light-weight race, Chris. Baiden won, with W. H. Dalby second. Chris. Baiden and Alfred Abernethy won out in the three-legged race, and A. W. McMahon and W. H. Dalby followed in very close. In the old travellers' race, T. H. Stewart beat them all out, with John Wright in second place.

There were also races for the medium-sized men and races for women. The boys could not let the afternoon pass without a swim and many took advantage of the cool waters of the bay to disport themselves all day.

After a sumptuous supper, which was served daintily by the ladies present, the programme for the evening was started. Salisbury's orchestra furnished music and young and old joined in the merry dance. Interspersed were delightful choruses, songs and recitations. Sir Knight George Smith and Sir Knight J. E. Singleton recited most acceptably. At 11:30 p. m. the jolly party returned to city.

Hugh, son of C. N. Meserve, Peterboro, formerly of Kingston, narrowly escaped drowning. He fell into the river and was found by his father, at the bottom. He was soon revived.

The remains of the late Samuel A. Spangenberg, who died in Toronto last week, arrived in the city at noon on Monday and were taken to Cataraqui cemetery, where interment took place.

W. L. McFarland, Toronto, injured in an auto collision with a train at Berkley, Ont., was a son-in-law of Mrs. R. J. Monroal, Gore street. His daughter had her leg broken and his father was killed.

Y. W. C. A. Lantern Service.

The largest crowd that ever attended on the lawn of the Y. W. C. A. was delighted with the lantern song service on Sunday evening. Addresses were delivered by Capt. Dodds, Rev. Dr. Torrance and Archdeacon Dobbs. Solos were rendered by Mr. Archer, Mrs. Dodds, Mrs. J. Evans and Miss Parrott. Mrs. R. J. McLelland, Mrs. A. W. Richardson and Miss Wilder acted as accompanists. H. Breck threw upon the screen pictures of naval disasters. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. J. Lyall.

Lantern war talks are to be given at Lake Ontario Park on Monday and Friday evenings, and a children's meeting is to be held at the park pavilion Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Stewart is to address the Thursday evening meeting on the Y. W. C. A. lawn.

Must Behave At Park.

A woman and a man were charged before Lieut.-Col. Hunter Monday morning with disorderly conduct in Lake Ontario Park Saturday night. The woman pleaded guilty, and was fined $5 and costs and ordered to keep away from the Park. The man, who was defended by T. J. Rigney, was acquitted. The Park management is determined to keep this popular resort free from disorderly conduct in the future.

After Effects of the War. Rev. Mr. Duckworth, a professor in Trinity College, Toronto, preached an able sermon in St. George's cathedral Sunday morning, dealing with the after-effects of the war, and pointing out the need of the church preparing to meet the conditions that will arise then.

Overcome by the Heat.

While coping with the services at the Catholic Apostolic Church on Sunday morning, J. W. Dunlop was overcome by the heat. He was attended by Dr. E. C. D. MacCallum. His condition is very much improved.

THE MAKING OF CITIZENS

ILLUSTRATED ADDRESS BY REV. G. S. CLENDINNEN.

In Brock Street Methodist Church Sunday Evening—The Service Was a Very Popular One.

A new departure was made in Brock Street Methodist church on Sunday evening, when the sermon was replaced by a series of lantern pictures on a large screen, by means of which Rev. George S. Clendinnen explained and emphasized the great work of religious education which is being done by the Sunday schools and young people's societies of Canada. John R. Mott recently consulted representative public men of many lands upon the needs of the nations and the duty of the church after the war, and he reports the unanimous conviction that the greatest need is for religious education and training of the youth for leadership and service. There is no more important element in the making of good citizens than the work of the Sunday school.

Many interesting pictures of children, both native and immigrant, were shown, and also many groups, such as classes, clubs, reading circles and summer schools, showing many new lines of church activity among the young. The Methodist church has about 4,000 Sunday scholars in Canada, with a total membership of 462,000, and employs five specially trained men whose sole time is given to leadership in this work. Graded lessons have been introduced recently, courses of study for educational methods are being employed by Sunday school leaders. Mr. Clendinnen is a member of the central board which manages this work, and referred to the meeting held in Toronto last week.

The lantern was operated by George F. Pound and Miss Eva Jamieson, Ottawa, contributed a very pleasing solo entitled, "Promises of Light." The service was a most popular one.

On Visit to Quebec.

Lieut.-Col. L. W. Mulloy, who has been continuously engaged in recruiting throughout Ontario for the past year, is taking ten days' holidays, and with Mrs. Mulloy has gone to Quebec City, where he will be able to feel the pulse of French Canada with regard to national registration. Col. Mulloy is of the opinion that Quebec province is in favor of registration.

Are Back From England.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Calvin and Miss Hilda Calvin, who spent several weeks in England, have returned to Canada, and are now in Toronto. Mr. Calvin came down from Toronto Sunday to see his son, Collamer Calvin, who is with Queen's Battery at camp. He went back to Toronto, but will return some time this week with his family.

Body Was Recovered.

The body of James Stinson, who, with his younger brother Melnar, was drowned a few days ago in Crow Lake, was recovered by grapplers Sunday evening in about twenty-six feet of water. The grapplers expected to recover the other body on Monday.

Correct Devotion.

Brockville Recorder. The Kingston old boys resident in Ottawa are running an excursion from that city to their native place in the near future. It is a splendid feature and one showing the correct devotion of these away from the place of their nativity.

225 On Old Boys' Excursion.

The Kingston Old Boys' excursion from Ottawa to Kingston Saturday afternoon brought 225 people to the city. Most of them returned on the special, which left the city Sunday night at eight o'clock. The rest went back on the regular trains on Monday.

ROSS RIFLE NO GOOD FOR ACTIVE SERVICE

Is the Report of Private Edward McDermott, in a Letter.

James McDermott, 24 Division street, has received a letter from his son, Edward, written on July 11th, in which the says in part: "The news these days will cheer you up a bit, but wait, the best is yet to come. We have not attempted our real offensive yet. We are having lovely weather, and have had all summer. We get up at 4.00 a.m., and it is daylight until 10.00 p.m., so you see we have a pretty long day of it."

"It is a great joke among the boys here when they read the praises of the Ross rifle. I have made enquiries of nearly every battalion in France and they all say the same thing. 'It is N.G. for active service.'"

"I hope to have the pleasure of seeing W. F. Nickle when he comes to France. Col. Ross' ambulance No. 1 is alongside of us now, having a bit of rest."

Photographs of Kingston. Representatives of Notman & Co., Montreal, photographers, are expected to take a number of pictures of public buildings in the city.
