PREFERS BRITISH LIBERTY

DECLARES IT IS SUPERIOR TO GERMAN IDEA.

Rev. Prof. Jordan Finds That British System of Freedom Is Freer, More Flexible, More Spiritual, and Less Mechanical—Able Sermon in Chalmers.

In the course of a virile and up-lifting sermon preached in Chalmers Church Sunday evening, Rev. Prof.
Jordan declared that he preferred the British system of liberty to the German system, because it was more elastic, more flexible, more spiritual and less mechanical. The sermon was on liberty, the preacher taking for his text, "Now there are many diversities of opinions, but one spirit." There was one spirit which united all men and all nations, the spirit of God. With this spirit came life and true liberty. There were many manifestations of the spirit, and the spirit was known by the diversities of opinions which it permitted.

It was this kind of liberty for which the Allies and the sons of Canada were fighting. They had heard much of the German menace, and the reality had proven to be much more terrible than their fears. Scholars of Germany held that the Germans were the freest of men because they had learned to obey. Obedience was essential to freedom, but men must obey only those laws that pursue, enoble and uplift. It was obedience to the commands of militarism which led the Germans to invade Belgium and commit nameless atrocities. Such obedience, however, did not produce liberty, but license.
It was to be regretted that German scholars had placed the seal of their approval on the invasion of Belgium, with its attending horrors.

A German professor had once said that the Germans were not much at politics, but they were good fighters if well led. And so men who do not know how to govern themselves seek to govern the world. If such a thing came to pass, the result would be most disastrous. But the German menace must be forever removed, and German arrogance, which had increased continuously since the Franco-Prussian war, must be everlastingly humbled.

Canada had done splendidly in the great fight for liberty, pouring out men and money with marvellous liberality. But something more was needed if liberty was to be successfully defended and perpetuated—a constitution of strong, pure characters.

DUTY WE OWE TO GOD

DEALT WITH BY REV. C. L.
BILKEY IN SUNDAY SERMON.

Do You Value Obedience to His Will More Than Serving Your Own Selfish Desires? — God as Supreme Standard.

"Is God your supreme standard," asked Rev. C. L. Bilkey, M.A., formerly of Ottawa, preaching at St.
James' church on Sunday morning.
Is He in the beginning with you when you start the day with all its trials and temptations? Is He in your business and home life, and in your recreation? Pray that you might understand and realize the comfort and strength we can feel from Him.

Mr. Bilkey preached a strong sermon from the words found in Genesis 1, "In the beginning was God."

It was most fitting that the first name in the Bible should be that of God. God has revealed Himself to man in two ways. He has given the first revelation of Himself in the work of His hands, in the sun, moon, earth, and the stars. These things reveal His nature. He is the one supreme object of all. He was always a God of love. But how long it had taken humanity to learn that. It was in the Fatherhood of God that our souls found rest. Communion and fellowship with God must be a mighty character-forming power. In all our suffering and sorrow it was strength and comfort to know that the world is governed by a living God.

"And you have certain responsibilities to God. You owe Him love, worship and obedience. Is He in your life and character? Do you value obedience to His will more than serving your own selfish desire? Is He the paramount influence in your life?"

Murphy's Reason For It

Murphy, and old service man with a weather-beaten face, rejoined one of Kitchener's regiments and went through recruits' drill and training with a smile on his Irish face. On the occasion of a night march with full kit Murphy slogged along eight miles of muddy roads in a style that put many of the younger men to shame, and spoke of his 60-lb. kit as a mere flea's burden. Alas! A zealous officer thought fit at the conclusion of the tramp to inspect a pack or two, and Murphy's chance to be one of the number. Inside was a bag of feathers borrowed from the poulticer where Murphy was billeted.
"What is the meaning of this, sir?" sternly demanded the officer. Murphy hesitated for a moment, then, grave as an owl, he answered, "Sure sir, I thought they'd be useful in case I was transferred to the flying corps."

RECRUITS FOR ARTILLERY

First Draft of Fifty for R. C. H. A.
Sent to Petawawa

The Montreal recruiting office for "C" Battery, R.C.H.A., has been open ten days and so far about fifty recruits have come to Kingston.

The type of men offering is of the highest. Among the recruits sent were two or three time-expired men from the artillery and cavalry service of the United States army, a member of the Montreal Mounted Police Force, a member of the advertising staff of a Montreal financial newspaper, and a large number of employees of local banks and business concerns.

The men who have recently gone forward have been made up into a draft at Tete du Pont Barracks, Kingston, and have already gone to join "C" Battery Overseas Draft at Petawawa Camp. Instructions have been received at Kingston to send another draft to Petawawa as soon as it can be made up, and applicants who enlist during the next few days will have the opportunity of joining this draft.

Grape-Nuts

(Made in Canada)

embodies the full, rich nutriment of whole wheat combined with malted barley. This combination gives it a distinctive, delicious flavour unknown to foods made from wheat alone.

Only selected grain is used in making Grape-Nuts and through skillful processing it comes from the package fresh, crisp, untouched by hand, and ready to eat.

Through long baking, the energy producing starches of the grain are made wonderfully easy of digestion.

A daily ration of this splendid food yields a marvelous return of health and comfort.
