

NORMAN SELBY (KID McCOY) FORMER PUGILIST.
Doing sentry duty with the 71st Regiment at the border.

TO PREVENT SUFFERING AMONG THE HORSES.
Canvas shelters to protect the cavalry and artillery mounts on the border are being constructed by the men of the various regiments stationed there. Our photo shows Col. Fiske of the 7th showing his men how to sew the canvas for the shelters.

LATEST SCENES ON THE MEXICAN BORDER.
C. H. Brown, of the 7th Regiment, N.Y., in one of the new sentry boxes to keep out of the sun.

Photo shows narrow Matawan Creek in Raritan, N.J., where shark killed twelve year old Lester Stillwell and his rescuer, W. Stanley Fisher.

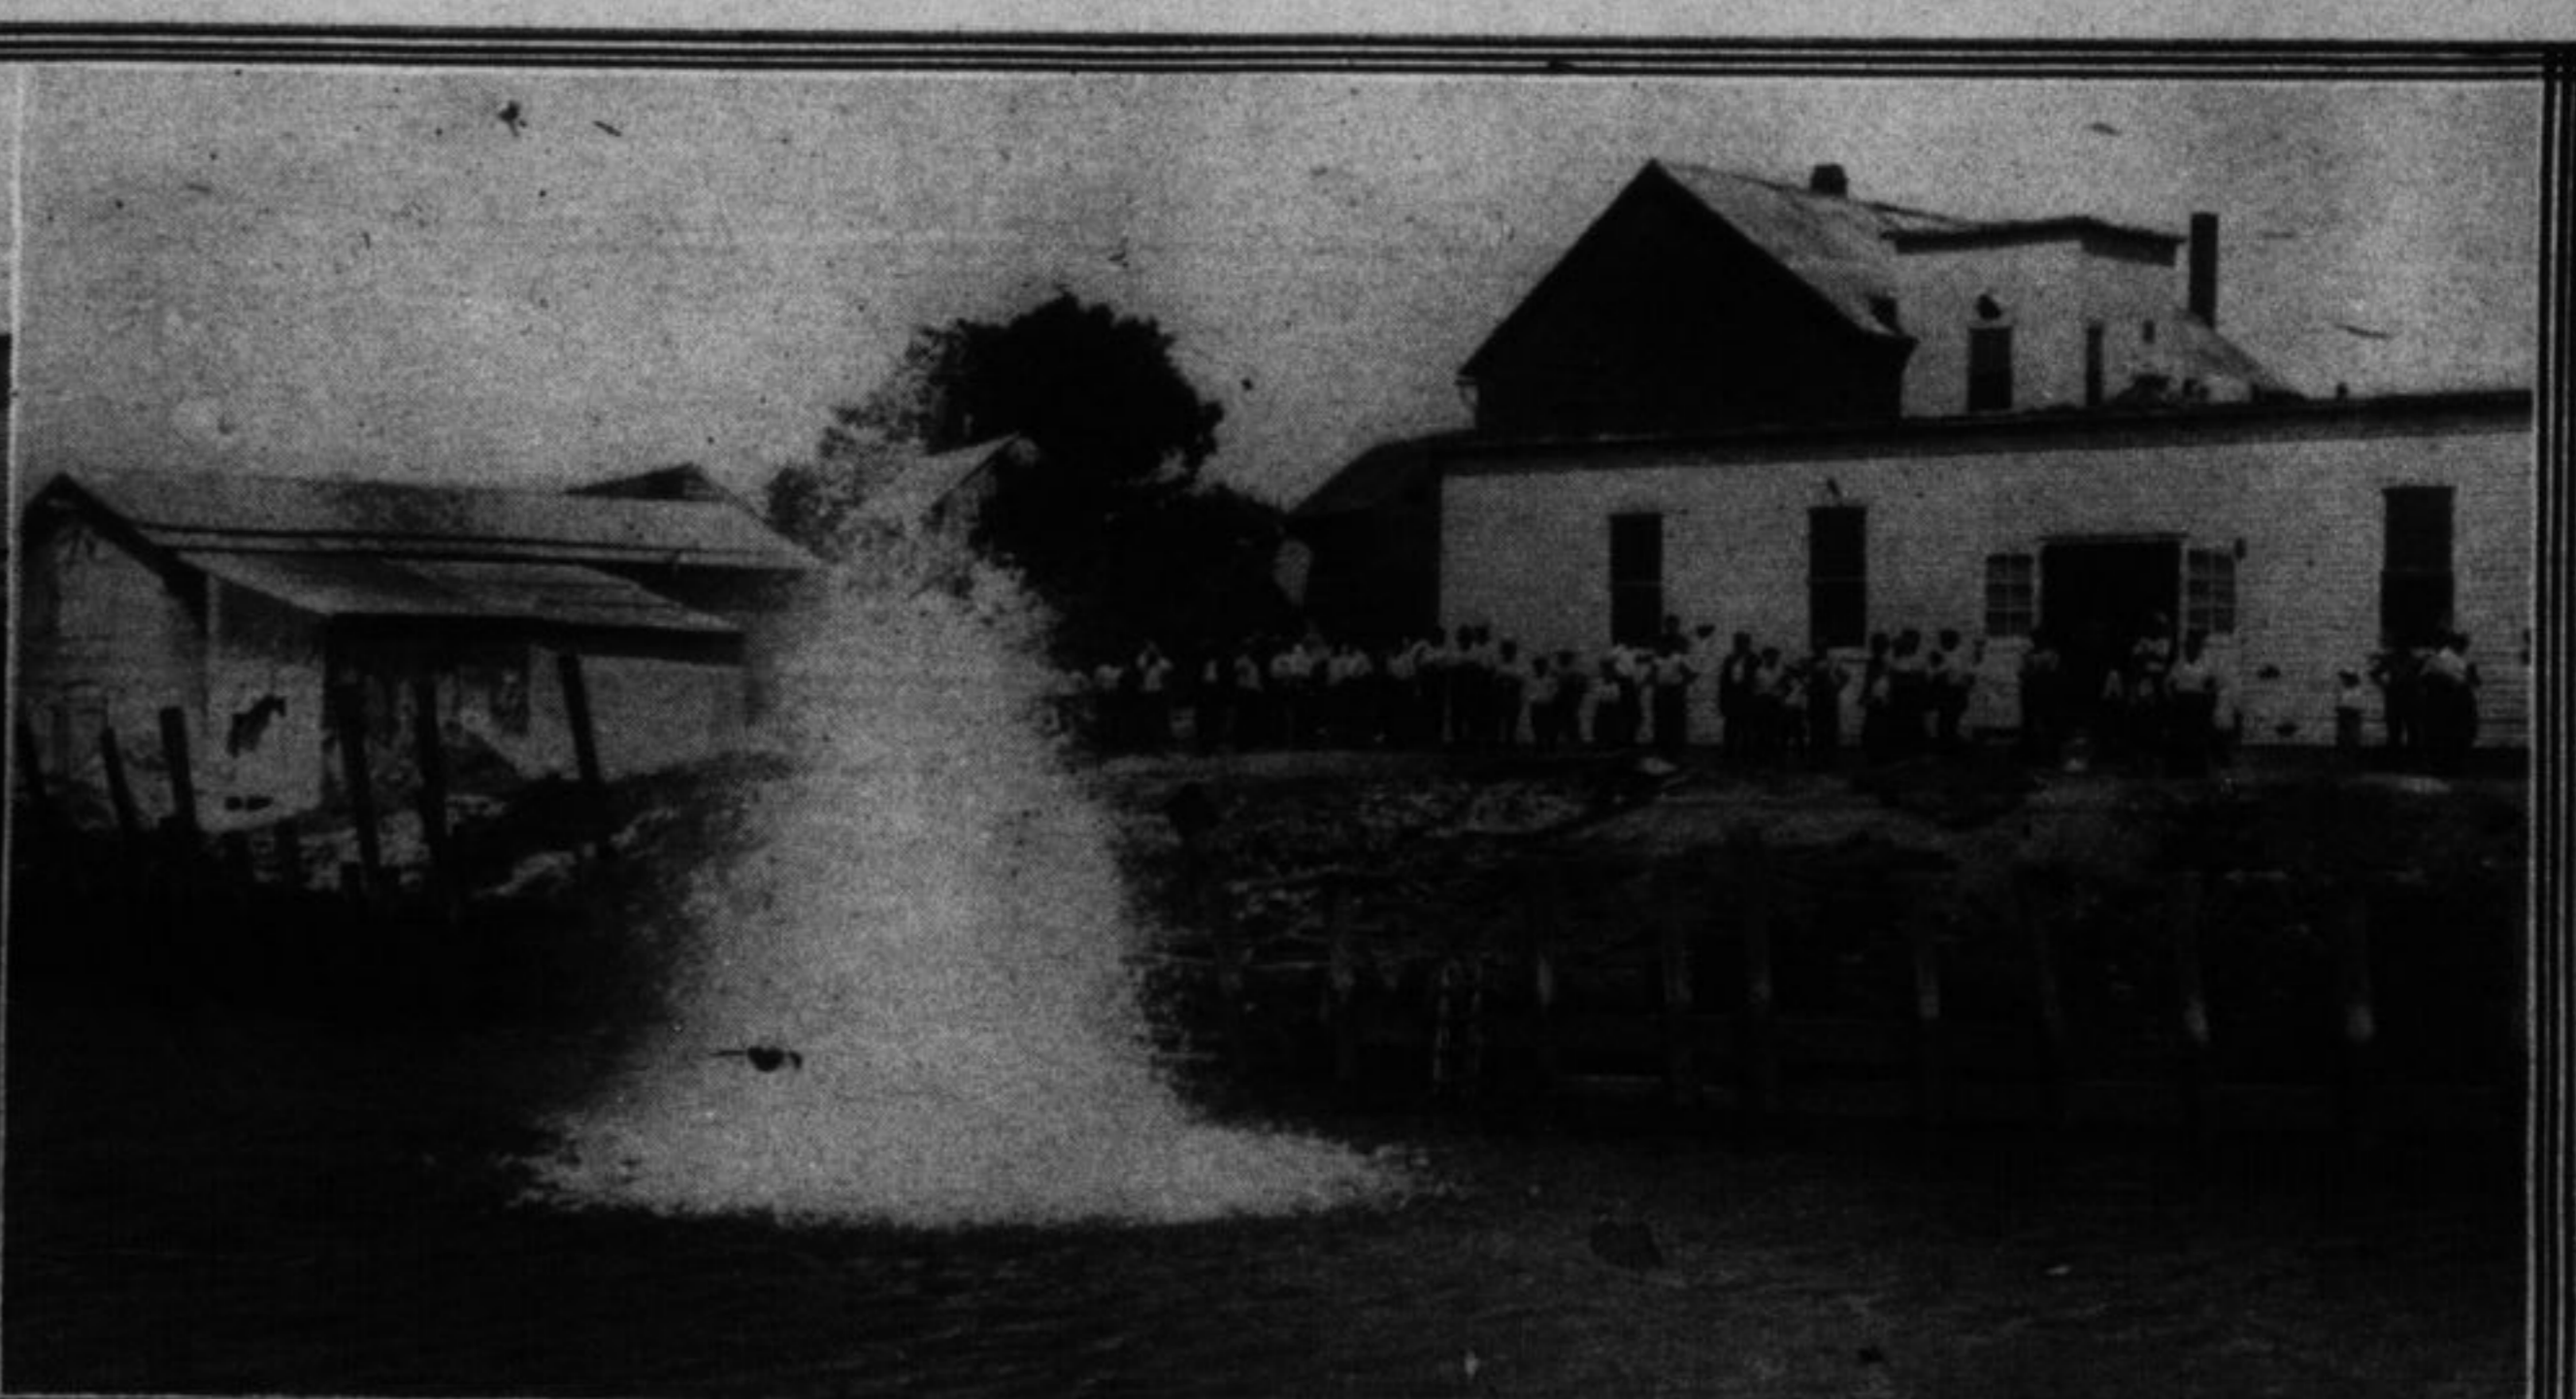

Photo shows dynamite blast set off in Matawan Creek in an effort to kill shark which cost the lives of two bathers and maimed a third.

ALEXANDRA DAY was recently observed in England in honor of the Queen Mother Alexandra. Our photo is one that was specially posed in front of the Marlborough House in London.

EX-KING MANUEL OF PORTUGAL AND HIS WIFE. Ever since the marriage of ex-King Manuel and Princess Augusta several years ago rumors have been rife that the couple had parted or were soon to part. This picture, taken but a few weeks ago, shows the two attending the Chelsea Flower Show in London.

THE CZAR OF RUSSIA pays a visit to his successful commander in the south, General Broussiloff, who is conducting the campaign in Bukowina and the Carpathians.

PRINCE ALEXANDER OF TECK, on right, conversing with the French General Hely D'Oisel at a steeplechase race held behind the lines by the English, French and Belgian horsemen who are at the front.