LIEUT. J. S. MACDONELL, B.A.

QUEEN'S GRADUATE RETURNED FROM FRONT TO 154TH

Glengarry Resident is Now an Officer at the Camp — Saw Several Queen's Men in England — Went Overseas under Major Malcolm in No. 6, F.C.C.E.
Lieut. J. S. MacDonell, who was overseas with Major Lindsay Malcolm, is now an officer in the 154th Battalion. Lieut. MacDonell is a graduate in Arts of Queen's University and went overseas shortly after the war broke out and has since been either at the front with No. 6 Field Company, Canadian Engineers, or in hospital in England, recovering from a wound in the right knee.

Lieut. MacDonell enlisted originally in No. 5, F.C.C.E., and went to Quebec with that unit. Later a call was made for men and he enlisted for overseas, going with a contingent to Ottawa where, after training No. 6 Company was formed. No. 5 Company of the C.E.F. was turned into a French company, though later it reverted into being an English company.

At the Messines Ridge, a sniper one day caught Lieut. MacDonell with a bullet in the knee, and he had to go to an English hospital for six weeks, returning after that time to the firing line.
He was recalled to Canada and granted a commission in the 154th Battalion. While in England he met several Queen's boys and reports that all are doing splendidly.
Army and Navy.
Tommy Atkins, meeting a full-bearded Irish tar in the street, said: "Pat, when are you going to place your whiskers on the reserve list?" "When you place your tongue on the civil list," was the Irish sailor's reply.

NOT MAKING PILE OF MONEY

TAXI DRIVERS SAY THAT BUSINESS HAS DECLINED

Owing To the Reduction of the War Camp, the Bad Roads, and the Cost of Gasoline.

Some of the local taxi drivers are discouraged. They say that many people in the city have a mistaken notion concerning their work, which is popularly supposed to bring a regular gold mine to the owners of cars. In conversation with the Whig one of the men who had bought a car at the opening of the military camp at Barriefield in the hope that he could pay for it out of the profits of the jitney business, stated that there was absolutely no money in the business for him.

Last year the business was very good, but this year very few of the men have made more than ten or fifteen dollars a week. Gasoline last year was about twenty cents a gallon, while this year it is over thirty. On some cars it takes nearly a gallon of "gas" to go to the camp when there is such a big hill to climb, and then the large number of autos on the bridge, which force the cars to stop sometimes, causes the expending of large quantities of gasoline.
Then there is the wear and tear on the car going up and down the hill. The repair bills amount to a great deal on some cars, and by the time the men have paid for everything they have very little money left for themselves.

The past week has been very hard on some of the drivers, as large numbers of the soldiers were kept in camp and were not allowed to come to the city owing to misdemeanors they committed. Then only a partial number of those eligible to come to the city are given passes, and many of them did not take advantage of these, as it has been too warm to come over.

The familiar cry, which is becoming a byword on Princess street, "Going over!" has been missed for the last few evenings, and people were beginning to wonder where the soldiers were. At the beginning of the season there were nearly two hundred jitneys in the city which ran to Barriefield camp, for the ten thousand soldiers who were encamped, but a number of these have left the city now that there is less than four thousand in the camp.

The roads to Barriefield camp are in a very poor condition, and this is one of the real reasons why the cost of running a jitney auto is so expensive.
Seven officers of Petawawa Camp are coming to Barriefield and take a course at the School of Cookery.

GREEN SOLDIERS.

Does every one understand about green soldiers? Most persons do. But some don't, and should be told that a soldier to be fit to use should be an athlete in the top of training. He should not only have learned drill, the use of weapons, the care of himself in camp and all that, but should have so hardened and developed his body by exercise that it can stand long and severe exertion without injury. In training a hunter they begin by giving him long walks. It takes several weeks to get even an experienced horse so he can go fast and far across country.
So are military exertions dangerous to untrained soldiers. Their bodies must get used to the new diet; their muscles to new exercises. Even their minds have to be adjusted. A soft, new soldier is a military baby. He needs a nurse.—New York Life.

Appointments.

Lieut. Robert Botsford Viets, 43rd Regiment, is appointed to the 207th Battalion.
Lieut. Rufles B. Pritchard, 43rd Regiment, is appointed to the 207th Battalion.
Lieut. Gordon Harold Burland, 43rd Regiment, is appointed to the 207th Battalion.
Lieut. John Adrian Fletcher, 29th Battalion, C.E.F., is appointed to the 207th Battalion.
Capt. John James Danby, 43rd Regiment, is appointed military officer to the 207th Battalion.

Now in England.

Further word has been received in the city to the effect that Farrell Dyde, who was recently reported wounded at the front, and who is a son of Principal Dyde, of the Presbyterian College at Edmonton, was suffering from gunshot wounds, and that he was now in an hospital in England. He was a Rhodes scholar, and was at Oxford when war broke out, and went to the front with an English battery.
A new detention hospital is being built in the field hospital compound.

NORTH COUNTRY IS LIBERAL

LIEUT. LANG, M.P., COCHRANE, AT COOKERY SCHOOL

Represents Largest Territory in Ontario and it is All Liberal — Capt. Wright, Newspaper Man of Toronto, Learning Food Values at Barriefield.

"Speaking as a citizen of the North Country and not as an officer, I would say that indications are for a solid Liberal feeling through northern Ontario," said Lieut. M. Lang, 154th Battalion, who is M.P. for Cochrane. He is in Barriefield camp in attendance at the School of Cookery, with Capt. E. B. Wright, Toronto, of the 169th Battalion, also training at Camp Borden. Capt. Wright is a brother of Lieut. Col. J. G. Wright, commanding the 159th.

The Whig's representative found both of these officers taking a keen interest in the culinary art and highly enthusiastic of the work that the school is doing. Capt. Wright is a former newspaper man, having been on the Toronto Mail and Empire for some time before enlisting, but is now much more interested in things regimental.

Lieut. Lang is a typical citizen of the north country. He is a man who has unbounded faith in Canada and in New Ontario and predicts great things for both the silver and gold camps. The constituency which he represents, though called after the Hon. Frank, is a strong supporter of Liberalism. It is over 600 miles long and is considered one of the greatest areas represented by one man in the Provincial house. It is in the clay belt and on the border of the mining country, and it is no wonder to one who has been over the country that its representative Lieut. Lang is so very optimistic over its wonderful promises.

The Ambulance Corps seems to be blessed with automobiles and there are prospects for more machines. There is the passenger car donated to the unit by the faculty of medicine of Queen's University, the new motor ambulance which came from the school inspectorate of Lanark and privately owned cars.

Lieut. Potts, S.S. Battalion, took a number of men to the city on Friday for uniform. As soon as these and other men are completely equipped they will be used as guards, etc., at the camp, thus relieving overseas volunteers for training.
William Matheson, superintendent of the City Mission, London, who gave a thrilling address in the "Y" tent on Thursday evening, will be again at the camp on Sunday.

BAYONET FIGHTING COURSE

TRENCHES AT EACH BATTALION FOR INSTRUCTION OF SOLDIERS

Lieut. James Bews in Charge of Valuable and Interesting Instructional Work at the Camp — Courses of Battalions Finish on Monday.

Lieut. James Bews, formerly physical director of Queen's University, who is at present looking after the Physical Training and Bayonet Fighting at Barriefield Camp, has a busy time. He is busy with every unit and watching their progress and work in this beneficial drill hour.
One particularly noticeable feature of the work is the interest that the men show in it, and even though the training has been going on now since the camp opened, it is as popular as ever. The men look forward to this part of syllabus and thoroughly enjoy playing what amounts almost to a game.

Each battalion has had trenches constructed which will be used for bayonet fighting. Old discarded uniforms are stuffed with straw and resembling the figure of a man in a small degree they furnish a means of training the soldiers in the use of the bayonet. They are taught to leap out of the trenches and lunge at these objects, in this way giving the men instruction which will be valuable after they reach the firing line.

On Monday the various courses which have been conducted in each battalion will be brought to completion.
Dr. Brown, Toronto, was a visitor officially at the Y.M.C.A. tent, Barriefield, on Friday.

THE SCHOOL OF COOKERY

OTHER CAMPS TO FOLLOW THE EXAMPLE OF BARRIEFIELD

This Valuable Branch of Service is Proving its Practical Value and Officers from Camp Borden and Other Camps in Attendance to Learn System.

The school of cookery is carrying on a splendid work at the camp in teaching not only N.C.O.'s to cook the army rations to the best advantage, but of giving this valuable instruction to officers.
At almost regular intervals there comes up in almost every battalion some trouble over the cooking. As a home, when the housewife is out visiting and returns late, the husband gets a meal that often starts a family row. In a battalion, when through a little inattention on the part of those in charge the regular routine works out in such a way that the soldier coming off the hot dry parade grounds does not receive all that the government intends him to receive and the result is a "howl." In many cases it is the smallest thing that starts the greatest trouble, and with hundreds of men gathered together it certainly results in a noise.

In some of these cases if the work of the School of Cookery was more widely known there would be no trouble. The school aims to have every soldier taught to cook his meals or have his meals cooked in a way that the Government rations will be used to the greatest advantage, not only from an economical consideration but by a study of their nutritive value.
The proof that it is growing more popular on its actual merits is the sending of officers and N.C.O.'s from Camp Borden and other camps to Barriefield to learn the system. Barriefield Camp has the only School of Cookery in Canada, but that honor will not be for long as eventually every camp will take up the idea.

Furloughs Order.
"Furloughs for harvesting are not to be granted to members of units which have been warned for overseas. The 154th and 155th Battalions will grant furloughs which are not to exceed twenty-five per cent. of their total strength. All other battalions will have no restrictions for bona fide applications."
On Thursday the Whig appealed for magazines and books for the soldiers at the camp and is pleased to announce that already a large number of people have signified their willingness to make these donations.
